The Editor's Column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

How about a self-examination of our community?

Do you like the picture that comes before your eye?

How will our present residential and business district stand up under the scrutiny of the next generation?

How much of our community do you want to see unchanged 15 years from now? Is your attitude, "What was good enough for Dad is good enough for us and will be good enough for my grandchildren?"

How about adoption of realistic village planning? Is the rank and file of our town ready for it?

Palatine has such a plan, but it has met opposition.

Mt. Prospect is paying $13,000 for its master plan, which officially came before the village board Tuesday evening. The plan had the endorsement of the Plan Commission, but the board withheld final action.

Arlington Heights is waitin for the presentation of its pla by engineers, but are its cit zens ready to accept the plan ners' suggestions?

Wider streets and downtown street lights have run into some hard sledding in Arlington, although both have been included in the campaign platforms of the past 2 village administrations.

To be commended is the set ting of goals on the part of ou village boards. But it is being repeatedly demonstrated that a sound public relations "selling" job needs to be done on the community level.

It's natural for John Doe to sign petitions and oppose civic change. This permits him to blow off steam and lower his blood pressure, and it is a privilege of our democratic system.

Nevertheless, we sometimes wonder at the patience of elected officials who try to feed us meat when all we want are sweets.

The general public must be educated to its responsibilities in meeting future needs.

In promoting decent schools, better communities, hospitals, adequate highways, and support for civic movements, the newspaper is merely performing its routine task.

That's why this editor doesn't feel badly when he receives the kind of strong criticism which recently has been coming his way.

Perhaps this is a case where he hasn't done a good enough selling job.

We have in mind at this time the opposition in Palatine and Rolling Meadows to building a limited access highway north from DuPage county, connecting with the Northern Illinois toll road, and extending northeast to connect with the present route 83 at Long Grove.

Both Palatine and Mt. Prospect have long sought traffic relief. It was for this reason that the state was urged to include in its plans a change in routes 83 and 53 to make possible a new limited access highway for 83 traffic as well as the greater part of anticipated route 53 traffic from the toll road. It should also enable Palatine motorists to use a fast highway to Chicago without driving the toll road and paying a fee.

It seemed good talking sense, and this newspaper gave the plan its support. The proposed underpass at the North Western railway and route 53 was the final clinching point.

We doubt if any of the objectors have taken time to study the revised plan.

If there is no change in the present Route 53, it will become a bumper-to-bumper headache every morning and evening as thousands of autoists north and northwest attempt to use it to reach the toll road for speedy transportation to Chicago.

It stands to reason that the state will look with disfavor upon the improvement of Route 53 to 4-lane if the hump at the railroad grade crossing remains.

There must be an underpass as a safety measure as well as a time saver.

We hope Palatine and Rolling Meadows will at least become informed before the Illinois highway department throws the 83-53 bypass out of the window.

'Miracle' Vibrator Spurs U. S. Action

THE STAGE IS SET for "Desk Set," and tonight at 8:15 Ruth Raasch, second from left, will star as the effervescent and efficient "Bunny" when the curtain opens on the first Village Theatre, Inc. play of the season in South Junior high school. She is shown here explaining the fine points of research to her department workers. They are, left to right: Kay Hawley, Barbara Houskeeper and Judy Jo Cox. The production, which is a fund raising project of the Arlington Heights PTA, is being directed by Marian Malcolmson, who is well remembered for her work in the same capacity for last year's "Tender Trap."

Area Residents Officers of Firm

Four area residents who tried to introduce to mankind a German device "... for the relief of pain ..." by sound waves have gotten only pains out of their project.

The reason is that their little vibrator, known as the "Theraphone," does not do what its backers claim, says the United States government.

Uncle Sam's Food and Drug administration last week began court proceedings designed to halt alleged shipment of the Theraphone in interstate commerce.

THE FIRM is the Neo-Sound corp. of America, and the men who are its officers (or were in 1955 anyway, according to the government) are well-known in the northwest suburbs.

They include:

George F. Schuetz, of Horatio Gardens, a subdivision outside Wheeling, a salesman who is president of the firm and original promoter of the project;

Darwin B. Blix of Arlington Heights, a stone mason listed as a vice president;

James E. Millay of Arlington Heights, member of the village board of his hometown and retired merchant, who was said to be secretary-treasurer of the firm early in 1955.

John F. Sicks of Wheeling, an advertising account executive and member of the Wheeling plan commission, carried as a vice president of Neo-Sound later in 1955.

Leonard A. Scharringhausen of Elk Grove village, operator of a gravel firm, and a village trustee listed as secretary in October, 1955.

DEFENDANT IN THE court suit in addition to the firm is William Dunkler, the salesman doing business as William Dunkler Laboratories, 5713 W. Giddings st., Chicago.

The government motion for a preliminary injunction to halt interstate shipment was continued indefinitely Friday by Federal Judge Joseph Sam Perry. Assistant U.S. Attorney Richard Bleloch requested the postponement because the defense attorney had offered to enter into a consent decree to be worked out.

The controversy centers about the firm's claims in its advertising.

HERE ARE some of the statements the backers make about the professional model (price $55):

"Twenty years of intensive research have brought this harmless combination of sound waves into the realm of healing and the relief of pain.

"Capable of penetration from one to 3 inches, the Theraphone generates sound waves of multiple frequencies, which tend to set up responsive frequencies in human organisms. Such sympathetic vibrations create a soothing, pain relieving effect . . .

"Cures can only be brought about by the removal of the underlying causes of the disturbances, but certain medicines and therapeutic treatments will, in many cases, give relief from distress, aches and pain. This is where, according to the profession, the Theraphone has proven itself valuable. . .

"Our Professional Theraphone's action does not resemble that of an ordinary massage vibrator."

AMONG THE ailments mentioned in an instructional leaflet are these: sinusitis, head cold, sore throat, bursitis, sciatica, facial alpsy, neuralgia, head ache, muscular rheumatism, stiff joints, gastritis, sprains, aching feet and pains in calves.

Actually, charges the government, the silver-colored machine is only a massage vibrator suitable "for minor muscular aches due to fatigue and over-exertion."

James I. Herring, a Chicago Food and Drug administration official, says the firm began importing in 1953, with a shipment of 350. Of these, 300 were last seen in a shed at Schuetz' home. It seems their electrical motors weren't fitted for American electrical currents.

Manufacture of the instruments was then carried on at a Cicero plant, Herring said.

GOVERNMENT investigators looked into the firm's activities twice in 1955 and also in 1956 and hauled it into court in January, 1956, also for a hearing on the matter of interstate shipment. The government didn't prosecute then but recommended revising of literature.

The professional model is 7.5 inches long, has a diameter of one and three-quarters and comes with "3 sound head for varying degrees of penetration."

Schuetz earnestly believes in the healing qualities of the Theraphone and proudly demonstrated it to a reporter. Schuetz says he was aided by it while on a postwar trip to visit relatives and claims the government charges "are 90 per cent wrong."

THE LOCAL citizens who invested in his firm also believe in its merits, as do customers who have written him unsolicited letters of praise, including, he says, some medical men.

But good or bad, the Theraphone hasn't caught on with the afflicted millions.

Schuetz sadly estimates the firm's losses at around $33,000 in 4 years.

Suburban Schools Grapple With Flash Flu Epidemic

Thousands of northwest suburban school children stayed home this week to nurse a highly contagious and unpleasant variety of flu.

There were no confirmed cases of Asian flu as have been reported elsewhere but the local species was bad enough.

Most pupils stayed out of school 2 or 3 days last week and this week and some had to return home after heading back to classes.

GENERALLY, the epidemic started with older students and spread downward to lower grade children. Sixth, seventh and eighth graders apparently were most susceptible.

So numerous were the absences that Palatine and Rolling Meadows public and parochial grade schools were ordered shut down today and tomorrow by school officials.

But the school that was hardest hit — Wilson school at the north edge of Arlington Heights — kept its doors open last week despite an absence rate of 53 per cent for students and 40 per cent for teachers at the peak of the siege. Nearly all youngsters were back yesterday, however.

THE FLASH attack first struck at the high school level over 2 weeks ago, with 577 pupils, about one-quarter of the student body at Arlington high, away from school October 10. Absences continued in the 400's last week and things began to get back to normal this week.

Mount Prospect authorities reported more than 500 children absent from public elementary schools last week. plus as many as 13 teachers out one day. The illness is tapering off this week.

The area-wide average of perhaps 20 per cent absences was topped in Wheeling, where principal Marion O'Miatek counted absences of 200, a third of the number enrolled, most of last week.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS figures showed an average absence rate of 13 per cent — about 5 per cent higher than normal — during the first 3 days of this week in kindergarten through fifth grade. But the percentage was greater at the 2 district 25 junior high schools.

Miner junior high school had 17 per cent out and South junior high, had a high mark of 25 per cent out Monday.

Hint City May Oppose Rezoning

An attorney for the owner of property on the Arlington Heights side of Wilke rd. said the city of Rolling Meadows may oppose business development which is proposed for the tract.

KENNETH G. MEYER, attorney for Laura J. Meyer, 104 S. Wilke rd., said the city may oppose the project in view of its original objection to construction of Westgate shopping center at Campbell st. and Wilke rd.

The Arlington Heights zoning board of appeals will hear a request for rezoning of the 4-acre parcel from residential to commercial use on November 4.

The Meyer property, the only piece remaining of the former Meyer farm, is separated from the Westgate shopping center by a 160-foot-wide strip owned by builder Leo Reuter.

MEYER SAID the proposed 3 stores would have no connection with the existing shopping center. The tract has 322 feet of frontage on Wilke rd. and extends 659 ft. to the rear. The Des Plaines attorney added that the type of stores proposed would be disclosed at the 8 p.m. hearing.

A zoning hearing on a parcel farther south along Wilke rd. was scheduled for Monday night before the village zoning board. However, the attorney for the owner asked and was granted a postponement of the hearing until November 18.

The owner is the Oak Park Trust and Savings bank, as trustee. The bank was to seek rezoning from residential to commercial for 28 lots, with a total acreage of roughly 4 acres. The curving strip extends from Grove st. and Wilke rd. to a point on Kirchhoff rd. 175 feet east of Yale ave.

Building plans for the piece are unknown to the zoning board.

New Rookie, 29, Joins Police Force

Newest rookie on the Arlington Heights police force is 29-year-old Daryl C. Stille, who hails from Humboldt, Ia. by way of suburban Lombard.

He joined the force last Wednesday and is now undergoing police training after having acquired a new uniform last week. A veteran of the army signal corps and overseas duty, Stille and his wife and one child recently moved to 625 N. Kaspar ave.

He was one of 17 applicants who took recent fire and police commission examinations.

Turn Back Your Clocks Saturday

Suburbanites can take an extra yawn Sunday morning, turn over in bed, and catch another hour of sleep.

Chicago reverts to Central Standard Time Sunday — which means all clocks must be moved back an hour before you retire Saturday night.

Sunday's sun will rise at 6:16 a.m. and set at 4:54 p.m.

Witches Ride Across Local Store Fronts

Witches, hobgoblins and other products of young imaginations will make their appearance in Arlington Heights Saturday.

Seventh and eighth graders in village public and parochial schools will decorate 177 store windows in the annual Halloween contest sponsored by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

YOUNGSTERS will paint in teams of two, with four $5 prizes awaiting first place winners. Members of the village Woman's club will judge the windows Saturday afternoon. There will also be second and third prizes and 10 teams in each grade will be awarded honorable mentions.

Todd Fouty, principal of South junior high school, heads the chamber committee conducting the contest. A total of 87 merchants will participate.

Costume Parade Is Planned Saturday

Arington Heights' Westgate Park and Shop will have its first Halloween costume parade at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Children from 3 to 12 years old are eligible to win merchandise certificates for the prettiest, funniest, most original and the "Scariest" costumes.

No advance registration is necessary but entrant must be acompanied by an adult. In case of rain, the parade will be held under a protective canopy.

$331,000 Is Canvass Goal

Community chairmen in the $331,000 Northwest Community Hospital center extension canvass, which starts October 28, have been named by Harold W. Dotts, chairman of the area-wide residential solicitation.

Community leaders are now lining up area captains and scheduling indoctrination meetings at which workers will be given information and materials for the funds solicitation.

Chief objective is to meet the total hospital goal of $2,250,000 which will be sufficient to assure this suburban area of a debt-free hospital. Pledges and government funds awarded the project now total $1,919,000.

IN CANVASSING, drive workers will call upon the hundreds of new families who have moved into the northwest area since the original hospital drive last fall, to give them an opportunity to participate in the hospital project.

It was announced at the same time by N. M. Lattof, president of the hospital board of trustees, that plans are progressing for the big rally at the hospital site Sunday, October 27, at which ground-breaking ceremonies will be observed and workers given an official send-off.

Marguerite Stitt Church, Congresswoman from the 13th Congressional district, will be principal speaker, and Lattof will turn over the first shovel of dirt.

THE DEDICATORY benediction will be given by the Rev. H. J. Rasmussen, pastor of St. Mark Lutheran church of Mt. Prospect. He is presently a member of the hospital board.

A military color guard with drum and bugle corps will lend an official air to the ceremonies, and among the groups participating will be Arlington high school a capella choir. State legislators and officials of the communities sharing in the Northwest hospital project will be honored guests.

Ceremonies will start promptly at 3 p.m. at the hospital site located on Central rd., south of Arlington Heights, one-half mile west of State rd.

THE MEN WHO have accepted key positions as community chairmen in the forthcoming drive include the following: Mt. Prospect, Louis Langpop and Joseph Vavra; Rolling Meadows, Richard Windsor and Joseph W. Stecker; Palatine, Walter Sundling and Gray M. Sanborn; Roselie (Hoffman Estates), Fred Hill and Matthew Miller Jr; Arlington Heights, Earl K. Riley and Clifford Warffuel; Wheeling, L. B. Anderson and John Sicks; and for Inverness Leonard H Ziehm.

MARGUERITE Stitt Church, Congresswoman from the 13th district of Illinois, will be main speaker Sunday at ceremonies dedicating the site of the Northwest Community Hospital center. The dedication will begin at 3 p. m. at the site on Central rd. a half mile west of State rd., Arlington Heights.

Many new industries and businesses—as well as many new residents—have come into northwest suburbs in the past year, and solicitation of these firms will be a part of the new hospital drive. Heading the industry section is Jack D. Hughes, vice-president and general manager of Littelfuse company, also a member of the hospital board of trustees.

The business-section solicitation work will be directed by George A. Glow, an officer of the Harris Bank and Trust company.

Teacher-Parent Meetings Tonight

When the Teacher Parent Council meetings take place tonight at Arlington and Prospect high schools, 7 parent couples will greet more than 1000 mothers and fathers.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. John Zannier, the W. C. Swansons and Mr. and Mrs. James Buck will welcome parents who attend the meeting at Prospect high, and at Arlington the C. Clifford Marks, the John Mc Combs and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hughes will be in the foyer of the boys' gym to greet and introduce parents to each other.

THOSE GOING to Prospect high school will go directly to the cafeteria. Both meetings begin at 8:15 p.m. Both east and west lots will be available for parking at Arlington high school.

At Prospect school, the parking lot may be entered from Foundry road by using the entrance to the west side of the building.

"T.P.C. - Where Home and School Meet" is the council's theme for the entire year with tonight's programs including a panel discussion by 5 members of the schools' faculty and administration for freshmen parents, a 3 man faculty panel on "Education - The Key to the Future" for parents of sophomores, and an open house for parents of juniors and seniors.

Each school will include a general meeting before the program begins and a period for refreshments afterward.

BOTH Arlington and Prospect high schools are under the administration of one board of education with Harold Slichenmyer superintendent, and each school has its own principal; Alvin Kulieke at Prospect and Eugene Oliver at Arlington.

It Was Busy Week For Local Police

Vandals heaved empty quart beer bottles through 2 windows at Arlington high school Thursday night.

Janitors working downstairs about 10 p.m. heard the crashes and rushed upstairs to find 2 plate glass windows near the gymnasium entrance shattered. They measured 15 by 18 inches and 4½ by 7 feet.

Also reported to Arlington Heights police was the theft of a wrist watch valued at $40 and $1.41 in currency from a school locker. The watch and money belonged to Bill Spomer, 222 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights.

SUNDAY NIGHT a would-be safecracker tried and failed to open a wall safe at the Arlington theatre, 115 N. Evergreen.

Officer Joe Osterman said the unopened safe showed marks probably made by a crowbar. About $20 in currency was stolen from a cash drawer, the only money the burglar was able to obtain.

Police could find no signs of a forceable entry and surmised that the burglar hid in the building after the Sunday night show.

Fingerprints were taken from a desk but police said there were no real clues to work with.

THREE GRAVEL truck drivers, arrested several weeks ago, paid fines totaling $409 in police court Wednesday.

Lt. Elmer Karstens and Officer Hildebrandt who made the arrests reported the trucks, hauling gravel to the site of the new Arlington Heights post office, were 12,000 to 18,000 pounds overweight. Celli Trucking co. of Chicago owned the trucks.

New Air Mail Schedule Told

Arlington Heights post office has announced a change in the air mail service. Effective Monday, Oct. 28 the closing times will be 7:15 a.m., 11 a.m., and 12:15 p.m.

Savings and Loan Sets Open House

Cider and doughnuts will be served to all persons dropping into the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association office between 2:30 and 4 p.m. today, Friday and Saturday.

The local association will join 200 other insured savings and loan institutions of Chicago and Cook county in holding "open house" as a climax to "Start to Save Week." (AF

Tug-of-War Between Old and New

Skoog Incident Dramatizes Contest

Close to a month ago Carl H. (Herb) Skoog, chief of police in Arlington Heights for longer than most of us care to remember, told his bosses, the village trustees, that he will retire at the end of the year.

Chief Skoog's many friends will have much to say about his years of service as the day of retirement nears. So we won't go into that here.

But the manner in which the board members learned of the resignation — and their reactions to the news — are worth retelling and commenting upon. For while the news caused only a brief commotion at a village board meeting, the incident points up one of the stresses which exist in changing suburbia.

AS ANYONE who lives in one of the older, established northwest communities realizes, there is a continual pulling and hauling between the old and the new elements in our villages. This contest forms the stuff of much of our political life.

And as long as feelings don't get completely out of hand, the tug-of-war is a healthy influence.

The parties involved in our incident are the trustees, Publisher Stuart R. Paddock, Sr. representing a group of Arlington businessmen and, of course, Chief Skoog.

THE FUSS BEGAN when a letter was read from Publisher Paddock to the board. The letter said that a group of local merchants was passing the hat on behalf of Chief Skoog's pending trip to Honolulu on a combined business and pleasure junket. The letter wondered if the village would care to make a contribution and mentioned that the merchants were considering their trip fund as a gift to the "retiring chief."

The trustees hadn't heard that the chief was even considering stepping down soon. Several members of the board bristled at the resignation report, which apparently was authentic in view of the donation request.

There was plainly much resentment at the fact that the businessmen knew something the village officials didn't. One trustee after another complained that the chief "should have gone through proper channels."

AS THINGS turned out, the chief had verbally informed the village manager of his decision a week before. The trustees hadn't been told of this, however. And a few days after the meeting the chief by letter confirmed the report of his retirement after more than 33 years on the police force.

So no real damage was done to anyone.

This episode is a good example of what happens in many suburban towns. In Arlington's case, 5 of the 6 trustees are commuters; the sixth is a retired local merchant. Four of the commuting members have moved here in the last decade and can fairly be said to represent the vigorous young element which has largely taken over the reins of government in the established communities.

On the other hand, the businessmen are mostly oldtimers in the town. If they heard of the retirement first, it was only natural when you remember that many of them have been friends of the chief for 10, 20 or 30 years.

THE SAYING that "old friends are the best friends" has a good deal of truth to it.

The hasty words at the meeting could have been avoided if there was a little more communication between the board and the merchants.

As a starter we might suggest more informal contacts over coffee.

Most of us moved to the suburbs because we like the friendlier atmosphere of small town life. Let's not lose this wonderful feature by squabbling over trifles.

A final word can be said about the "proper channels" business.

The number of such "channels" and the amount of paperwork and formality needed to run our communities is growing fast enough as populations soar.

Bureaucratic confusion tends to spread under its own steam—without any encouragement from any board of trustees. (AF

New Sunoco Gas Station Slated Here

A new major oil company will invade the mushrooming northwest suburbs soon. A permit to erect a gas station has been issued to the Sun Oil co., marketers of Sunoco gasoline.

The station will be on the northwest corner of Dryden pl. and Foundry rd. in Arlington Heights. The station will be part of the Arlington Market shopping center.

ANOTHER first for the village will be the construction of a McDonald's drive-in hamburger stand adjoining the Chickadee restaurant at Wilke rd. and Northwest hwy. The corner was recently annexed to the village by owner Marjorie E. Meyer, 1000 N. Wilke rd., who will own the stand. (AF

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Local Social Life Keeps Pace With Fall's Brilliant Beauty

October's brilliant beauty, gently nipping frosts and scent of winter round the bend, has not found Arlington Heighters at a loss for social life. Many local persons are still traveling, attending football games and entertaining with varied types of parties. Taking advantage of the October weather have been Mrs. John O. Miller and son, Harold, 1221 Clarendon, who returned here Friday from 2 weeks in Ohio. There they were guests of Mrs. Miller's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harold E. Horsley of Bay Village. With her sisters, Mrs. Raymond Gilmore, Mrs. Dan Be-Vier and Mrs. Charles Gillingham, all of Bay Village, Mrs. Miller helped plan an "open house" given at the Gillingham residence in celebration of her parents 40th wedding anniversary.

Colorful October

Mrs. Kenneth Hood, 604 W. Campbell, returned here Monday from a week in Hibbing, Minn. where she visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Frank.

Donald Havranek, who received his discharge from the air force early this month, has been spending the past 2 weeks here at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Havranek, 409 N. Dwyer. He has just left for Phoenix, where he will visit with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Koelsch.

Falling Leaves

Ray Miller, formerly of Arlington Heights, who is now a sophomore at Drake university, Des Moines, was the weekend guest at the W. C. Christophersen residence, 1010 W. Euclid. Ray is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Edward Miller of Fountain City, Tenn., formerly of 1115 W. Euclid.

Miss Arlene Dresmal, a sophomore at Monmouth college, Monmouth, spent the weekend visiting here with her mother, Mrs. Eugene Dresmal, 1106 W. Wing.

Song-Loving Men Invited To Join Barber Shoppers

Arlington Heights Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, SPEBSQSA for short, extends an invitation to all men who can sing and those who can't but want to learn to sing barber shop ballads, to attend its next meeting.

The Arlington Heights SPEBSQSA chapter is made up of men from all walks of life who live and work in this area and who like to sing and listen to songs sung in the barber shop harmony style. This style of singing, which is as truly American as the once popular minstral show, reached its peak of development during the "Gay 90's." After the turn of the century, however, its popularity decreased and was saved from extinction only by the vaude villians and a few private citizens who loved the harmonious manner in which tales of sweethearts, home and love were told.

Almost 40 years went by before a new trend in American singing taste was heard. By this time there were so many privately organized barber shop quartets making such a clamor that they had to be recognized. As a hobby, a small group of men organized the SPEBSQSA, whose primary purpose was to preserve and encourage this harmony singing style. This was in 1938. Since then SPEBSQSA has grown into an international organization of more than 600 chapters in United States, Hawaii, Alaska, Canada and Canal Zone with a membership of almost 30,000. The society has performed thousands of times before patriotic and community welfare groups since its beginning and has put on thousands of public performances.

November 23 the Arlington Heights chapter will do it's part to preserve and encourage Barber Shop Quartet singing by presenting their seventh annual "Night of Harmony" at Arlington high school. Four famous quartets, whose singing preferences range from the sweet blending song to the slapstick song, will highlight this show. The program will be rounded out by the Arlington Heights chorus singing a group of grand old songs. In addition to this, the men of the chorus, under the able directorship of Chuck Lukes, has prepared a production number that will permit them full freedom of the "ham" instincts that are in all of us.

The chorus meets every Monday evening at 8:15 for practice. Anyone interested in this type of pastime and relief from the normal day's tensions is welcome to attend the meetings at the Arlington Heights Park district field house. No auditions or voice tests are ever given. For further information, contact Bob MacAskill CL 5-1797. (A

I see where an eastern psychologist has found out that TV commercials spoken slowly, about 145 words per minute are better than the faster 185 word commercial. "Relaxed attention makes remembering easier," he reports.

At our house we would prefer the slower one, too. It gives you more chance to make that sandwich, pour another cup of coffee or start putting pajamas on the kids who are up too late anyway.

Actually, what they ought to do is work the commercials into the entertainment script. Like we do with these weekly articles from LANDWEHR'S TV. Phone CL 5-0700 the next time for television service. We'd like to show you some of the latest electronic instruments for fast efficient servicing.

High Court Raps Fisher's Ethics

(CNS)—Maine township residents emerged victorious as the Illinois Appellate court reprimanded and reversed Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher for not disqualifying himself as judge in a zoning case in which his son and son-in-law were the winning lawyers.

Overruled Tuesday was Judge Fisher's ruling in 1956 which approved construction of a $500,000 drive-in theater in Maine township on a 50-acre tract that had been zoned for farming.

"THIS IS FINE," beamed Attorney Bernard Kaplan, waving a copy of the reversal. It represented victory after a long, uphill court battle for his clients, the East Maine Township Community Association.

The property has a frontage of 1,000 feet on the east side of Milwaukee ave., 653 feet on Washington and 666 feet on Church st. This site is between Dempster and Golf rd. and almost equidistant from Park Ridge, Niles, and Morton Grove.

Morton Fink, 7234 N. Bell, Chicago, the owner, ignored the county zoning board by going directly into court for a declaratory judgment, signed March 2, 1956, by Judge Fisher for the drive-in theater.

THE APPELLATE court ruling said an application for rezoning should have been presented first to the county zoning board.

But the opinion, written by Judge Michael Feinberg, with Judges Roger J. Kiley and John C. Lewe concurring, added:

"The question presented as to whether the trial judge should have disqualified himself, in importance, transcends all other considerations in the case."

THE ORDER CITED the American Bar association's canons of judicial ethics which state "a judge should not act in a controversy where a near relative is a party."

"It is imperative," the opinion continued, "that we maintain the confidence of the public in our system of justice. In this jurisdiction, where many other judges were available and could have heard the instant application for leave to intervene, the trial judge, under the circumstances, should have disqualified himself and transferred the case for reassignment to another judge."

Judge Fisher's son, David Fisher, had filed the original case and his son-in-law, Gerald White, pleaded it.

THOSE OPPOSED to a drive-in theater weren't in court at the time because, they said, they didn't know of the case then.

Kaplan said construction didn't start until after expiration of the 60-day period in which an appeal could have been filed. But when work started, the association through Kaplan petitioned Judge Fisher to disqualify himself.

However, since the appeal period had expired, Kaplan had to present his petition for permission to intervene with the Appellate court.

THE ORIGINAL case had been filed by the Pioneer Trust & Savings Bank, 4000 W. North ave., Chicago, as trustee of a trust with Fink as main beneficiary.

In reversing Judge Fisher, the higher court ordered the bank to pay all costs of the case.

The bank had not exhausted all administrative remedies by going to court without seeking as its first step rezoning from the county, the Appellate court ruled.

SUPPORT IN the fight against the drive-in move also came from St. Matthews Evangelical Lutheran church, across the street from the controversial site.

Another church and 3 schools are in the immediate area, Kaplan said. (ACM

Magic Carpet to Mexico

Manners and Morals Told For U.S. Girl Tourists

by KAREN LACINA

"When in Rome . . ." is a good slogan to follow in Mexico as far as language, meals, and such are concerned, but you must draw the line when it comes to morals.

In Mexico, it is perfectly alright for a man, married or single, to do exactly as he pleases; the only catch being that if he is married, his wife is to be kept in the dark as to what he does when he goes on his "business trips."

Women are expected to run the home and remain faithful to the end; single girls only go out with 1 fellow, who was met under the best of circumstances (which means pickups are frowned upon in Mexico as they are in the United States) and always with a chaperone.

A girl never goes out alone, day or night. She never smokes or drinks in front of her parents, but it is perfectly respectable to smoke when she goes out and even sip a cocktail.

FOR NORTH American girls in Mexico, the story is slightly different. The Mexican people realize that we have different social customs, and they have seen enough of them to tolerate most of them.

It is correct for a North American girl to go out on a date, be her escort Mexican or not, without a chaperone. She can smoke or drink among her Mexican friends at home as well as when she goes out as much as she has been accustomed to; of course she will be frowned upon if she goes overboard. But the families do prefer that we, gals, don't go out by ourselves, even to go shopping in the afternoon.

AS FAR AS morals go, I can only say each person must have a set of morals to guilde his life no matter what his homeland is or what other countries he may visit.

In the past few years several girls who attended the Summer School for Foreigners at University City had forgotten their moral standards and have earned a rather bad reputation for all the gals from the North.

This is unfortunate because now many of the Mexican fellows tend to generalize and look for more than pleasant personalities in their Northern girl friends. But, if a girl keeps her senses about her and uses a little clear thinking in choosing her new friends, she will have nothing to worry about with her Mexican friends.

THERE IS AN abundance of courtesy and chivalry to which we are not accustomed and it has a tendency to throw a North American girl at first, but even the Mexican fellows will tell you "Men are men in any country."

Yes, the approach is different but the aims are the same. I don't mean to imply that a girl should not date a Mexican fellow in Mexico, for I think if she didn't she would miss a lot. You can learn a lot from Mexican friends; you can have a key to the city with your Mexican friends and find much more enjoyment and understanding out of the things you do and see, but keep it at that —just friends.

ONE THING WHICH will endear you to the hearts of all your southern friends, whether they are adults, fellows, or other girls, is try to return a little of their genuine courtesy and consideration.

If you make a date, have the courtesy to keep it. Take time to thank people, and above all do not refuse an offered courtesy.

One day I was in the garden at the house wheer I lived conversing with 3 other North American girls who were considering taking a room there when Ignacio, a son of the family, came out carrying 4 chairs. The girls, without murmuring so much as a 'thank you,' insisted they would rather sit on the stone steps leading to the house. It is only common manners in any land, whether you follow Emily Post or not, to accept a proffered courtesy.

So remember, do not lose your head, return a little courtesy and above all "to thine own self be true" and you will earn the respect and true friendship of many of our southern neighbors. (B12

State School Food Service Association to Meet Here

Illinois School Food Service association members in the Cook county region will assemble at Arlington high school Saturday November 1 to discuss the improvement of meal planning in secondary and elementary schools.

Dr. Marjorie McKinley, professor of institutional management at Iowa State college, will address the group and show slides concerning "Improving Work Methods in Food Service."

ASSOCIATION members will be admitted with 1957-58 dues cards; others may attend for a small registration fee.

An active member of the American Dietetic association, Dr. McKinley writes for the Dietetic Journal and has done important research on work methods in the school lunch program.

HER SLIDES, made in connection with a national survey, have been shown only on the Iowa State campus and to the American Dietetic association.

Further information may be secured from Miss Mary S. Handlin at Arlington high school.

New Home For Morton Pontiac, Inc.

After 2 years, Morton Pontiac, Inc., is finally realizing its aim of having adequate display space and service facilities together in one location.

This week Morton Pontiac moved into new quarters at 710 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, the building formerly occupied by Park Lane Launderers. The Pontiac agency formerly displayed its new cars at 506 E. Northwest hwy. and serviced cars at 212 S. Evergreen.

The new headquarters are staffed by Sid Oehring, general manager, and Elliott Hersh, sales manager. They hope that the grand opening will coincide with the introduction of the 1958 Pontiacs. (B8

A UNIQUE CHINESE COMEDY, "Yellow Jacket," will be presented November 1 and 2 by Arlington high school dramatists. The play concerns a young hero's efforts to gain his rightful place in life, a position which has been usurped by a stepbrother. Pictured in Chinese character are Tom Behm, Frank Embrey, and Dennis Gaul, members of the cast.

Toastmasters Clubs Plan No-Charge Speakers' Bureau

A no-charge speakers' bureau will soon be made available to local organizations. Organized by the Toastmasters clubs in the greater Chicago area, a wide variety of speakers and subjects are to be offered.

According to Alfred Wolter, president of the Arlington Heights Toastmasters club, a brochure containing the speech subject and the speakers' backgrounds and qualifications will be distributed to the program chairmen of interested local organizations. Wolter emphasized that in every case, the speaker will be an authority if not an expert in his field, drawn from the 1500 members of Toastmasters clubs in this area. Because of their inferest in gaining added public speaking experience, they do not charge for their appearances.

WOLTER SAID he had attended a meeting in Chicago about the speakers bureau last week. Men who had lived and travelled in more than a dozen foreign countries, mental hygienises, tax-experts and a number of technical and general business advisers will be among those included.

The local Toastmasters club will assist interested clubs and organizations in completing arrangements to secure speakers, and will make the initial distribution of speakers bureau brochures. Wolter can be contacted at CL 3-9403. (A-11

Girl Scout Staff Leader to Speak At Meeting Here

MISS OLEDA SCHROTTKY

Miss Oleda Schrottky, a member of the national field staff of the Girl Scouts of the USA, will be in Park Ridge November 1 to speak at the annual council meeting of Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook County.

In the opinion of Miss Schrottky, the building of a better world is made not be statesmen alone, but "by means of a way of life based on ideals developed in young people through guidance by parents and community-minded leaders."

A native of Appleton, Wis. Miss Schrottky attended Lawrence college, the Univerity of Minnesota, and New York university. She also studied with Yvette Guilbert, monologist and raconteur. Prior to joining the National Girl Scout organiation she taught speech and dramatics at Mt. Holyoke college and had a stage career.

A pioneer in the field of creative dramatics for children, Miss Schrottky has trained thousands of Girl Scout leaders in creative dramatic programs for children. She also has directed many community-wide pageants and festivals in which parents and other adults participated. (B7

Round 'n About Westgate

Association News

The October meeting was poorly attended and absentees missed a highly pertinent film and discussion by personnel from Arlington's Nike base. Guests from Westgate 2 were presented copies of the by-laws for their assistance in forming an association in their area. Another topic under discussion was the proposed re-zoning of an area adjacent to Westgate Shopping center. It is hoped that members will turn out in good number for the November meeting, which will be the last for this year.

In addition to association members, residents of Westgate 2 and Arlingdale are invited to attend the Fall dance Saturday, Nov. 23, at Fred's Place on Rand rd. Festivities begin at 8:30 p.m.

Baby Shower

A miscellaneous shower for Joyce Akerlund was held at the home of Carolyn Herigodt, 1513 Fremont. Many nervous moments notwithstanding, Carolyn managed to maintain the element of "surprise." A dessert and "stork" cake was enjoyed by the guests: Mrs. Norman Akerlund, Mrs. O. Akerlund, Mrs. A. Towley, Mrs. A. J. Neumann, Mrs. Ken Hoffie, Mrs. Bruce Merry, Mrs. J. Merry, Miss V. Swanson, Mrs. Elinor Wishart, Mrs. J. Block, Mrs. A. Wagner, Mrs. J. Krueger, Mrs. P. Fisher, Mrs. M. Selhorst and neighbors, Helen Aagaard, Joyce Czerney and Carolyn Burkett.

A "long" weekend in Cincinnati, Ohio, was enjoyed by Dottie and Herb Stokes, 316 Reuter. On their way home they stopped for a visit in Elkhart, Ind. with Vera and Bob Dover, former residents of Westgate.

Welcome guests this week in the home of Jane and Don Rice, 403 Reuter, are Jane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Brannen, Maysville, Ky. Grandparents are becoming acquainted with their new grandson, John Brannen Rice, just a bit over 2 weeks old.

Birthdays

Helen and Wally Aagaard, 1508 St. James, entertained a group with a bridge party to help celebrate Gloria Lazor's birthday. Guests included Gloria and John Lazor, Dr. and Mrs. Michael Lazor, Mary and Al Di Giulio, Jean and Bob Mongrain and Ruth and Stefan Stein.

A luncheon of "dogs and chips" topped with cake and ice cream preceded a trip to the local movies when friends of Kenny Van Bladel, son of Esther and Anton Van Bladel, 108 Reuter, gathered to help celebrate his seventh birthday. Guests included Johnny Lister, Don Fiduccia, Spencer Gerke, Kathyann Schilen, Jerry Smith, Laurie Johnson, Linda Nendel and the honor guest's brothers, Jerry Alan and Robert Van Bladel.

The flu bug kept several guests from attending Richard Herigodt's ninth birthday party, but luncheon and show were enjoyed by Richard, his brothers, Robert and Raymond, Eddie Johnson and Jimmy Welton. At a family dinner Saturday night, Richard showed off his new prized possession, a gear shift bike, to numerous relatives.

Roller Rink Sale Dispute Settled

(CNS) — After 5 months, the law suit over a real estate sale between the M and A Building Corp. and Arlington Roller Rink, Inc., ended before Superior Judge Donad S. McKinlay last week when the roller rink agreed to follow through with the sale.

Attorneys for both sides had filed briefs and were prepared for oral argument when the rink agreed to turn over the property before the judge could hear oral arguments.

The court battle began last May when the building corporation filed suit against the roller rink asking Superior court order the rink follow through with the sale of property next to the building corporation.

ACCORDING to the suit, drafted by Attorney Harry H. Zalosh, the building coporation agreed to buy the property from G. P. Phillippe, president of the rink. Phillippe agreed to sell the land, the suit said, but did not have the necessary papers, at the May 20 meeting.

Zalosh said "when they walked away after the meeting, there was every indication the deal would fall through."

The suit aleged that on May 10 the plaintiffs agreed to buy the land for $30,000 because they needed it "desperately" for expansion. When they met again on May 2, the corporation paid $2,000 as previously agreed upon, the suit said.

ZALOSH filed suit when Phillippe indicated the rink wanted to retain occupany of the lot, and would not vacate it by June 1.

After many legal maneuvers, the rink agreed to follow through with the deal. (A

Big Turnout

More than 1500 parents visited their children's classrooms at Dryden, North, Park and Ridge schools last week.

The occasion was Parents' night. Textbooks were examined, current assignments were compared and other items of mutual interest were discussed.

Lending to the friendly character of the evening, a social hour followed during which time parents and teachers joined to become better acquainted.

Curtain Going Up

Tonight, tomorrow and Saturday, at 8:15 p.m. in the South Junior High auditorium, the lights will dim, the curtain will go up and "Desk Set" will be under way.

Farewell to A Friend

October 13 it was 4 years that Mrs. Louise Miller first became associated with Reuter's Westgate and it was on the anniversary of this day that she terminated her employment. In this time she had become well known to all and Westgate shall not seem the same without her.

Louise asked this reporter to convey her profound apreciation for the warmth, friendship and kind gestures accorded her. Without being unduly sentimental, she is, nevertheless, sincere in claiming her time spent among us a "labor of love." She promises to keep in touch and wishes happiness and prosperity for her many friends in Westgate. Warm regards and best wishes go with Louise in her new venture.

The PTA is proud to sponsor this Village Theatre production as one of its major ways and means projects.

Clothing for Charity

Approximately 2360 pounds of clothing was collected, assembled and packed for shipment to the Save the Children Federation agency.

Success of this effort was due to the full cooperation of parents, teachers and the hard-working committee. Mrs. R. L. McFadin, welfare chairman wishes' especially to thank Joseph Pitzen of the local cartage company who again furnished a truck for transporting the heavy bags. The committee consisted of 7 representatives, one from each school: Mrs. Jack Cushing, Dryden; Mrs. Wayne Dunnom, Miner; Mrs. Rubin Conrad, North; Mrs. Richard Rosholt, Park; Mrs. George Predick, Ridge; Mrs. Oliver Grey, South Junior High and Mrs. William Nendel, Westgate.

Annual Conference

Delegates from 95 local PTA units will attend the 36th annual conference of district 21 Tuesday, Oct. 29, in Northbrook. The program of the conference is based on the theme "Parents, Teachers, Administrators: - A Three Dimensional Relationship."

Mrs. Robert Loudon, director of district 21, will call the meeting to order. A morning buzz session has been planned on the subject "Yours Is An Active PTA." During the afternoon session, a panel will discuss "How Do Parents, Teachers and Administrators Work Together?". (A

Former Residents Visit

Mr. and Mrs. John Huskey and family were here visiting over the weekend. They moved to Grand Rapids, Mich. several months ago, after having lived on Kaspar ave. for many years.

The Richard Platts and friends from Park Ridge spent Saturday afternoon at the Merchandise Mart, where they took a tour of the furniture showrooms which are not usually open to the public. The Decorative Showroom guild, made up of firms dealing in the finest of furniture, sponsored the tours. Afterward, the 2 couples went to the Red Star inn for dinner.

Friday night Mrs. Joe Intravartolo had a plastic and toy party at her home. Fourteen friends and neighbors came for the demonstration and many did their Christmas shopping. Coffee and cake were served later.

Marie and Al Kluesing and Lee and Herman Koeneman went to the Union hotel in Wheeling Saturday evening for "Las Vegas night," sponsored by a Democratic organization.

Parents Visit

Casey and Florence Gordon have been entertaining his parents, the senior Casey Gordons of Grand View, Ohio, for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ladenthin and family are moving to a new bi-level home in Skokie, only 2 blocks from his mother, which the children are looking forward to as much as their parents. The Ladenthins have lived in Arlington Heights for 3 years and will be greatly missed by their friends and neighbors.

The Newman Cryers have been entertaining her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Allen of St. Clair Schores, Mich., for 2 weeks. Much of Mr. Allen's entertaining was taken over by some of the Sinclair Refining company's men who live in this vicinity. He was with that company 23 years before he retired 2 years ago.

Rita and Norman Wall children attended the reunion of the 108th Quartermaster Corps October 12 at the Logan Square VFW hall. Norman was a member of that unit in New Caledonia during World War II. Besides dancing, there was a buffet supper, corsages for the ladies and gifts for the children.

The W. W. Holloways have returned from Monroeville, Ohio, where they attended the 50th wedding anniversary party of Mr. Holloway's parents .The elder Holloways 2 sons arranged the party for them at an inn in Bellview, Ohio. Seventeen members of the immediate family were there to celebrate the anniversary.

The Clyde Hardens have had as their house guests for a week, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Boysen and daughter, Kathy, of Des Moines, Iowa. This was a business trip for Mr. Boysen, who attended meetings at the Drake hotel during the week. However, Mrs. Boysen and Mrs. Harden enjoyed a day at Old Orchard, another at the Milk Pail for lunch and a bridge party last Wednesday, which Mrs. Harden gave for Mrs. Boysen. Another friend from Des Moines stopped to see the Hardens Sunday on her way home from the world series in New York: Miss Irene Anderson, who is also a friend of the Boysens. (A

Arlington Terrace News

Officers for the new year were elected at the Arlington Terrace Home Owners association meetin gheld last Wednesday. They are as follows: John Connolly, president; John Coffey, first vice president; Don Evensen, second vice president; Karen Frischmann, secretary; and Don Ludwig, treasurer. It was reported to this reporter that quite a few of the 'old faces' usually present at meetings weren't there, and of course, were missed. A meeting of the new oficers will be held in the coming week to determine schedules and plans for the association in the coming year.

The Harold Henrys, Albert Gamenthalers and the Marvin Emmericks were among guests attending the new Miner Junior High school open house Sunday. Guests enjoyed the conducted tour and refreshment afterwards.

Ed and Lois Leisten, 1003 N. Haddow, attended the wedding of Harold Corrigan to Joan Meyer Saturday at 10 a.m. in Queen Of Angels church, Chicago. The reception was at the Colonial House in Morton Grove, where guests enjoyed a buffet supper.

The weekend of October 12 the Carl Scheske family, 833 N. Hickory took a trip to Dubuque, Iowa, to visit the Dutelmeier family, former Terrace neighbors. From there they went to St. Paul, Minn. for the baptism of their baby girl, Rosemary. Rosemary was christened by their friend, the Rev. Leroy Stanford, in the Hazel Park Congregational church. Later they had dinner with the Stanford family. Sunday Rosemary celebrated her first birthday at a family party. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Tideman, and the Raymond Wilmarth family were present.

Don and Dorothy Evensen, 838 N. Hickory, attended the homecoming celebration of Luther college in Decorah, Iowa, last weekend. Luther beat Beloit by a score of 26-14, which made homecoming all the more exciting.

Mrs. Lydia Hart from Springbrook, Wis., is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Florence Marinello and family 825 N. Hickory. Mrs. Hart was able to see her granddaughter, Elizabeth Ann, baptized October 13 in St. John church. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Traversack of Chicago.

Bob and Marie Richter, 943 N. Haddow, returned Sunday evening from San Antonio, Texas, where they visited their daughter, Marlea and husband, Airman 1/c Duane Huff and baby, Clay. On their return trip they took in the Ozark mountains and the Lake of the Ozarks and reported a very enjoyable trip. (A

'Old Hand' in Government Combines Home and Office

She could probably run a fair-sized city herself without stirring too many citizens to wrath — but she's never tried it.

She numbers several hundreds of America's city managers among her long-time personal friends — but she's so modest she'll scarcely mention their names.

She "grew up" with the city manager movement — and is proud as punch of it.

She's Mrs. Grace G. Brown, who began work as the secretary to Arlington Heights village manager F. R. Buechner earlier this month.

A SLENDER, gray-haired lady who combines a career with homemaking, Mrs. Brown rates as an "old hand" in the comparatively young city manager movement. She started with the head office of the International City Manager association in 1930, only a short time after a permanent headquarters had been set up and moved to Chicago.

She was a jack-of-all-work about the office in those days and, as she says, learned the complex techniques of municipal administration "by osmosis."

ONE DAY, in 1932, a student on a traveling fellowship came into the office to see about having a scholarly work published. Since that day she has known the man who is now Arlington's village manager.

During her 20 years with the ICMA and 6 years (1951-57) in Washington, D. C. with the Public Administration Clearing House, Mrs. Brown got to know literally hundreds of aspiring and working managers and has kept up her contacts with them. At one time her work consisted of managing a series of correspondence courses in governmental matters and she had to make sure the experts had correctly advised the fledglings.

With a smile, Mrs. Brown said she's never seriously considered running a city herself because "I'm long on theory but it requires more than that."

THE AMAZING growth of the manager form of government across the nation, and in Illinois since a law was passed 4 years ago, has pleased her no end for she feels there is no more efficient form.

At her fingertips are facts about the spread of the manager plan into larger metropolitan areas and she hinted that even the vast Chicago metropolitan area might some day adopt it.

MRS. BROWN'S husband, Harold, senior auditor for Jewel food stores, recently transferred from Washington to Chicago and the couple lives in Palatine.

There is only one hitch to the transfer. If she were still in Washington, she'd be able to attend the ICMA convention there this week. She's been to 17 of the annual gatherings over the years and hates to miss them.

But at least her boss is there this week, and she'll be expecting a personal report when he returns to village hall Monday.

OBITUARIES

Christina Peasley

Mrs. Christina E. Peasley, who resided with her granddaughter, Mrs. Laurence K. Smith, 611 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, died Tuesday at Magnus farm following a month's illness.

She was born in 1863 at Navarre, Ohio. She had been a resident of Arlington Heights for 6 years and leaves 2 granddaughters: Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Joseph Reifsnider of Des Moines; and 6 great grandchildren. She had previously made her home in Des Moines and was a member of Cottage Grove Ave. Presbyterian church of Des Moines.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the chapel of First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights.

Hazel Ibbotson

Services will be held Friday at 3 p.m. in the Oehler chapel in Des Plaines for Hazel R. Ibbotson of Mt. Prospect, who died October 22 in her home at 22 N. Maple. Rev. H. J. Rasmussen officiated at the service.

She was born October 25, 1901, in Chicago and leaves her sisters and brothers, Myrtle Ibbotson of Mt. Prospect, Harry of Michigan, Ethyl of Michigan, Ida Dessecker of Chicago, Ralph of Prospect Heights and Arthur of Mt. Prospect.

Interment will be in Acacia Park.

Mrs. Louise Quentin

Services for Mrs. Louise Quentin who died October 16 at Plum Grove Nursing home, Palatine, were held Saturday, 1:30 p.m. at Tharp funeral home in Palatine. She had been a resident of the nursing home since last January and before that had made her home for many years with her only surviving sister, Mrs. Mary Bicknase, and brother-in-law, Frank Bicknase, at 5853 N. Artesian, Chicago.

Services were conducted by Rev. Glenn G. Gumm, pastor of St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed church and burial was in Hillside cemetery.

Mrs. Quentin was born in Ela township, March 21, 1867, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Baker, who later made their home in Palatine and with whom she also lived for a number of years after the death of her husband, George Quentin, in 1915. The latter was of the family of Quentins who operated a cheese factory on Quentin's Corner and who gave their name to the road on which it was located.

Mrs. Grace Lazecke

Mrs. Grace Lezecke, Rand rd., Wheeling township, died in Chicago, October 16 and services were held October 19 in the Oehler chapel in Des Plaines. Mrs. Lezecke was born February 2, 1888 and leaves her husband, Charles; her children; Ada Jacobi of Chicago and Charles E. of Park Ridge; 3 grandchildren; and a sister, Jessie Backen.

Dr. Hughe B. Morris officiated at the sevice and burial was in Elmwood Park cemetery.

Frank R. Hartman

Services for Frank R. Hartman, 61, former Palatine civic leader who died Wednesday, Oct. 16, in Fayetteville, Ark., were held there last Friday.

Mr. Hartman had served as police magistrate, justice of the peace and park board president while a resident of Palatine. He had practiced law for 25 years in Chicago before retiring in 1953 and moving to Fayetteville.

He was born in Park Ridge, May 17, 1896, and attended Lake high school (now Tilden) in Chicago and was graduated from Kent college of Law. Mr. Hartman was a member of Masonic Lodge A.F. and A.M. 815 and Knights Templar, and was active in the Christian Science church, acting as reader in the Christian Science church in Barrington.

Mr. Hartman served in the 12th U.S. Cavalry from May 1917 to November 1918 during World War I. During World War II, he organized the Boys club of Palatine.

He is survived by his wife, Martha, Fayetteville; his father, C. Raymond Hartman, Evanston; and a brother, George H. Hartman, Highland Park.

Paul A. Kleeman

Funeral services for Paul A. Kleeman, 1711 Foundry rd., Mt. Prospect, were held October 21 in the Oehler chapel in Des Plaines with Rev. Clara Pierson officiating.

Mr. Kleeman was born April 17, 1878 and died in his home October 18. He leaves his wife, Lillian; his children: Edna Hagg of Chicago, Roy of Colorado Springs, Raymond and Earl of Crystal Lake; 3 grandchildren; a brother, Edward; and a sister, Helen Dahms.

Burial was in Ridgewood cemetery.

Zone Case Deadline Set

(CNS)--Frank A. Sroka, of Wheeling township, has been given until October 31 to show County court he has taken steps to move his machine shop on the north side of Meadow Lane west of Wolf Road, to a lot he allegedly owns in Wheeling.

Carroll County Judge Charles F. Kinney, sitting in County court said Sroka must show he will have moved the shop within 30 to 45 days.

SROKA, allegedly operating the machine shop in a farm zone, told the judge he owns a lot in Wheeling and will move the shop there if Wheeling will give him a building permit.

The County court suit, filed by State's Attorney Benjamin Adamowski charged Sroka with building an addition to his garage without having obtained a building permit, and with violation of the zoning ordinance. (ACM

LITTLE BILL says:

6¢ a load is all you pay— to dry the clean electric way

An electric dryer will dry this normal 8-lb. load for only 6¢—2 sheets, 3 bath towels, 4 hand towels, 2 men's T-shirts, 3 pillowcases, 3 children's dresses, 2 luncheon cloths. Drying time only 25 to 30 minutes.

Nothing's faster, nothing's cleaner— and electric dryers are completely automatic

COST?

ELECTRIC DRYERS

$30 to $60 less

to buy

than any other kind

A new electric dryer will wipe out your wife's weather worries on washday (and costs less to buy than any other kind).

And for just 6¢ a load, electric dryers give you the cleanest way to dry clothes. Clean, dry, radiant electric heat—like the sun—turns out clothes that are soft, sweet-smelling every time.

Fast, too. Today's electric dryers will dry a full load in 25 to 30 minutes. All electrics are fully automatic, nothing to light, no igniting devices to require service.

We think you'll be surprised when your appliance dealer tells you how little it costs to own a modern electric dryer.

Cite 5 Reasons For Public Aid

(CNS) Five reasons for the "paradoxical" lack of shrinkage in public assistance "during a time of unparalleled prosperity and economic well-being" were given by this month's bulletin of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Last year the 2.7 billion dollar cost was .68 per cent of 415 billion national product, compared to 1.5 billion in 1947, which was only .64 per cent of a 232 billion gross national product.

THE REASONS cited by the bank's analysts were:

(1) Population growth has been most among the young and aged, which are the main beneficiaries.

(2) Inflation has hit relief budgets, like all others.

(3) The "depth and coverage" of assistance has grown, and the "gap between standards and performance narrowed."

(4) The numbers receiving aid to the disabled, begun in 1950, have grown from "reclassification of cases from state-locally financed to the new federally-assisted category."

(5) Aid to dependent children, greater now than ever, is "symptomatic of the social dislocation that is another of the costs of over-all economic advance." Jobs lure farm workers to the city and "congested housing aggravates the problem."

SUMMING IT up, the bulletin hopes that liberalized survivor benefits under old age insurance, and increase in state unemployment benefits, may help, if no depression comes, but that " . . . the aid programs can scarcely be expected to wither away completely; their shrinkage will be more apparent in case-load than in cost, at least in the near-term future." Edward Elfeld Dies in Denver

Edward Elfeld, son of the late Dr. Elfeld of Arlington Heights, died Monday morning in Denver, Colo., where he had lived for several years.

Cause of death was pneumonia, which followed an attack of the flu. Funeral is Thursday at Denver Presbyterian church and interment is also in Denver.

THE DECEASED leaves his wife, the former Fern Lorenzen, and 3 adopted children.

For many years, Mr. Elfeld was organist at Arlington Heights Presbyterian church.

Mrs. John Allen and Miss Aurelia Rau of Arlington Heights are attending the funeral.

Alumni Squares Elect Officers

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cattani of Palatine were elected presidents of the Alumni Squares dance group at the organization's meeting October 1. Other new officers are Mr. and Mrs. Pat Falkenberg, vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Lindholm, secretaries; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stude, treasurers; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gross, publicity.

The group meets the first and third Tuesdays of each month in Recreation field house in Arlington Heights with Walter Meier as caller. Anyone from the area interested is urged to call Mrs. Cattani at FLanders 8-1181.

Junior Assemblies Plan Halloween Hop for Saturday

Junior Assemblies, composed of 4 Arlington Heights freshman girls, will stage its first dance, a Halloween Hop, Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the Recreation room of Pioneer Park. Dale Waitley combo will play for dancing and C. F. Raasch, of the Miner Junior high school staff, will act as master-of-ceremonies.

The Junior Assemblies group was formed in the spring and this party is the first in a series of 3 to be staged during the school year. The dance, a sweater and skirt affair, will feature various mixer and variety-type dances and written invitations to attend have been issued by the Junior Assemblies club.

Various committee chairmen in charge of the party are: general chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Kemp Blackwell and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tremberth; decorations, Miss Linda Black; programs, Miss Burma Suhr and chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Macdonald and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Suhr.

Punch and light refreshments will be served during the evening. (AM won't join TV's strip tease at your Expense

Anything over $100 is a lot of money. If you're spending it for TV, you can buy a brand "stripped" to meet a price.

It may perform...for a while.

But you and your family watch TV 4 hours a day or more! Your set must be built to take the wear, stand the shock — it can't afford to be stripped of the parts that protect the tubes, protect the chassis, protect your budget from service costs later on.

That's why we recommend a Du Mont.

Du Mont popular-priced Collector Series contain all the parts a set must have for the greatest value, the most enjoyment, the clearest picture, the longest service-free performance.

At popular prices, Du Mont genuine hard wood cabinets remain the pride of the furniture industry — no printed synthetics made to resemble wood. They're all wood . . . and all wonderful!

Anti-Septic Tank Law Is Challenged by Developer

A year - old Arlington Heights ordinance banning septic tank installations on lots of less than 20,000 square feet will be tested in court by a local builder.

BUILDER AND realtor Herbert R. Jacobsen, with an office at 1714 E. Northwest hwy., last filed a mandamus action last week against the village. He asked the court to order the village to issue him a permit to build a home on a lot containing 15,000 square feet.

At a village board meeting September 17 trustees refused to give Jacobsen a building permit for a home with septic tank. The 100x150 foot lot he wants to build on is in Sherwood subdivision, on Salem ave., about 100 feet north of Watling st.

THE BUILDER has control of 22 Sherwood lots and would build homes on all of them if he wins the court case.

The suit filed by attorneys William M. Doty and Edwin L. Johnson contends the refusal is unreasonable as Jacobsen had complied with all requirements of the municipal code. The village's refusal deprives Jacobsen of use of the lot, continued the suit.

The builder claims that the village, in forcing him to extend sewer lines to his property, is violating his constitutional rights because other owners, whose homes are adjacent to existing sewers, did not have to pay this cost.

EXTENSION of the sewer one-quarter mile to the property would cost $65,000, according to the suit. The village expects the developer to get this sum back by collection of a connection fee from persons who later hook up to the sewer, adds the suit.

Jacobsen alleged that architect James W. Viger of Mt. Prospect inspected the lot and told him it would be adequately served with a septic tank and complied with the county requirements.

Referring to the board's rejection of the permit application partially on grounds the area has "a problem of natural drainage," the suit states that the section of the code pertaining to septic systems does not contain standards regulating natural drainage.

Doty maintains, finally, that the board never even passed an ordinance upping the square footage requirement from 10,000 square feet to 20,000 square feet. The minutes of the board meeting of August 21, 1956, note final passage of such an amendment, however. (AF

Public Notice

Notice of Proposed Change in Gas Schedule

NORTHERN ILLINOIS GAS COMPANY hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on October 1, 1957, a change in its rate schedule, as follows:

1. Rider 2, Gas Main Extension, is revised to liberalize the advance deposit provisions for main extensions.
2. Rate 7, an off-peak rate under which gas is supplied to large industrial customers, is modified slightly in order that customers, whose off-peak load includes space heating may use gas thereunder on an annual basis for processing purposes.

Further information with respect thereto may be obtained either directly from this Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois.

A copy of the proposed change in the schedule may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company.

Bohemian Bistro To Star Localite

(CNS)—An Arlington Heights magician is going to furnish the "tricks" at a "tricks or treats" party Wednesday, at a well-known bohemian bistro on Chicago's near north side.

Al Leech, of 621 S. Vail, will unfurl some new effects to get the customers in the mood for apple bobbing and pumpkin carving at the College of Complexes.

LEECH has performed for many groups, both in Chicago and throughout northwest Cook county. When he is not conjuring or at home with his family, he is writing features in the Chicago bureau of United Press.

The College of Complexes is the successor to Chicago's old Dill Pickle club, the haunting place of writers and artists during the Twenties. (A

Eastwood Events

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luker 1019 E. St. James, was christened Donald Paul Sunday in the First St. Paul Lutheran church, Chicago. His godparents were James Dehn and Mrs. Owen Cofoed. Guests were served immediately after at home. The baby's sisters are Sharon, 3, and Carol, 2. His grandfathers are the Rev. Henry Luker of Missouri and the Rev. John Elser of Texas.

A surprise baby shower was given at the home of Dolores Conn, 420 N. Lincoln lane, Thursday for Bea Dombrow, the guest of honor. A dinner was served to 10 women guests who helped with the surprise.

Victims of Looting

The looting of homes during the day time hasn't stopped. As of last week victims were Mr. and Mrs. John Haslams, 406 N. Beverley lane, where within 15 minutes the thief entered through the garage and removed personal possessions.

Ebba Lindahl was surprised last Thursday on her birthday with dessert and coffee served at the home of Loraine Larson, 306 N. Beverley lane. Guests were Lorraine Gustafson, Florence Lindahl, Mary Nelson and Nora Lee Loewenstein.

William Kasper and daughter, Karen Ann, spent the last weekend visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kasper, in their new home in Wisconsin.

Attend Style Show

Mrs. William Heitz, Mrs. I. J. Pakyz, Mrs . W. Malaznik and Irene Beauchamp attended the style show at Notre Dame high school for boys, Niles, Monday. It was presented by the Mothers club.

Although he missed traveling to Washington, D. C. with his school class, Tony Sadler is now on the road to recovery after a long siege of the flu.

Over the weekend fair weather was enjoyed by Homer Nielsen, president of Eastwood, on the opening day of the duck season hunt. Mrs. Doris Nielsen reports the weather was beautiful and the family spent the time since Thursday at Fox Lake in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen Jr., while Homer bagged his limit of ducks.

Woodstock Elks Lodge entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Brinke and daughter, Joann, and son, Georgie, with the J. R. Muttis and son, Jack, at a dinner Sunday.

Tour Washington D. C.

The St. James school conducted tour to Washington, D. C. included students Mary Cockrell, Cathy Johnson, Karen Heisig, Joe Heitz, Billy Kasper, Jimmy Heisig, Ray Orgler and Gerry Orgler. Mrs. Helen Kasper, the nuns, several mothers and Mr. Born, the schools crossing policeman, accompanied the group. They report that because of the visiting British Royalty, they weren't able to enter the White House but were given a special spot to view the Queen and her Prince as they were enroute to the football game Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tennyson returned from visiting friends over the weekend in Sturgis, Mich.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindahl Sr. was the scene of a barbecue for several weekend guests from Chicago's South Shore. They were Mr. and Mrs. ters, Dariel and Karen, Mrs. Elvera Bendt and son, John. The junior Arthur Lindahls and 8-month-old son, Christopher, were guests Sunday.

The past week Rae Inman's parents were visiting at her home with their son-in-law, Bill, and grandsons, Bob and Greg. (A

Tea Welcomes New Members of Junior Womans Club

At a tea Tuesday evening, Oct. 22, in the North room of Pioneer Park field house, 38 new members were welcomed into Arlington Heights Junior Womans club and introduced to their board. A program was presented by the membership committee.

The meeting provided an opportunity for the new young women to learn about the active work of the club in community projects, including fund raising for Northwest Community hospital, Boy and Girl Scouts and others.

New members were also acquainted with the club's association with the Illinois Federation of Womens clubs and learned of some of the active work contributed by their club to institutions such as Park Ridge School for Girls and Lawrence hall. (A

Group to See Play From Ground Floor

The literature and drama study group of Arlington Heights Womans club will meet Tuesday, Oct. 29, at 1:30 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Clarence Henrickson, 743 N. Belmont ave., Arlington Heights.

This group will have an opportunity to get a glimpse of what goes on before a play is ready for curtain call. A group from Village Theatre will plan a future play and the play, characters, props and settings will be discussed. Members will be entertained, as well as intrigued by the methods and techniques.

Producers, Harriet Smith and Lou Staahl will present the play at the January meeting. Co-hostesses Mrs. John Heintz, CL 3-0413, and Mrs. M. L. Kurtz, CL 3-2851, will accept reservations for this meeting. (A GAS "Burner-with-a-Brain"

BIG PRIZE Contest
1ST PRIZE $1000.00
2nd PRIZE $500.00; 3rd PRIZE $250.00
plus BONUS AWARDS!*

© 1957 N.I. Gas Co.

Here's all you have to do!

(1) See the Wonderful GAS "Burner-with-a-Brain"

Just go to your nearest Northern Illinois Gas Company store or any gas range dealer located in the area we serve. There, you'll learn about the marvelous new gas "Burner-with-a-Brain"! You'll discover for yourself how automatic modern GAS cooking can be. You just dial the temperature you want and heat is perfectly maintained by a dependable thermostatically controlled device, called the "Burner-with-a-Brain". It makes your pots and pans automatic! Food can't scorch or burn . . . you can relax instead of being chained to the kitchen "watching the pot".

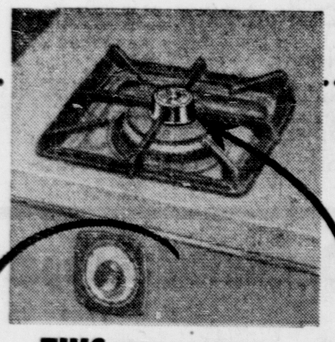
(2) Obtain an Official Entry Blank!

Ask for an official entry blank at the store where you see the GAS "Burner-with-a-Brain". Complete the statement in 25 words, or less, on why you like the GAS "Burner-with-a-Brain". That's all you have to do. Another nice thing about this contest is that it's limited to you and your neighbors served by Northern Illinois Gas Company . . . so you have a better chance to win! Don't delay . . . contest closes midnight, Saturday, November 30, 1957.

*Special Bonus Awards, too!

Prize winners will be given a special bonus award if they have purchased a gas range during the contest from Northern Illinois Gas Company, or a gas appliance dealer located in the area we serve. This award will be in an amount equal to the purchase price of the range bought by the prize-winner.

Get official entry blanks at your Gas Range Dealer or our nearest store.



THIS IS THE FAMOUS "BURNER-WITH-A-BRAIN"

. . . It's the really automatic burner that adds exciting new delight to all top of the range cooking—to more than 80% of your cooking duties. All you do is set the dial to the cooking temperature you wish, just as you do with your gas oven. Then the "Burner-with-a-Brain" takes over, raises and lowers the flame to maintain that temperature precisely, for as long as you like.

. . . And this self regulating top burner is just one of the many convenience features of the wonderful AUTOMATIC-ALL-THE-WAY 1957 GAS RANGES!

Back Stage

. . . with the cast and crew of "Destk Set," a modern 3-act comedy presented by Village Theatre at the Junior high school, South st. and Highland ave., Arlington Heights, October 24, 25 and 26. Directed by Marian Malcolmson, "Desk Set" will be sponsored by PTA. Curtain at 8:30 p.m.

Production Manager Helen Bakas is that rare jewel of all Little Theatre groups—an efficient person behind the scenes who has no desire to act. Helen has been in charge of hand props for "Sabrina Fair" and "Gaslight" and painted scenery for "Harvey," and was assistant production manager for "Tender Trap." Her husband, Peter Bakas, is business manager for School District No. 25. The Bakases have 3 sons.

Helen Bakas

As the name implies "Desk Set" takes place in a modern office. Lynn Lobenhofer, head of furniture, has garnered the stage setting from many local businesses. Rhodes Appliances, Arlington Seating, Arlington Office Supplies, Gift Box, Mount Prospect Bank and Paddock Publications have all supplied equipment for a realistic office setting. A resident of Rolling Meadows, Lynn is very active in the Community church there. She produced last Decembers' play; the Book Fair; the style show, and is also on the play reading committee for the church. Before her marriage and 3 children ago, Lynn performed in camp shows in Maryland. Her only other Village Theatre stint was on the furniture crew for "Mr. Popper's Penguins."

Lynn Lobenhofer

Originally from Massachusetts Alice Linde lived in Finland for several years and throughout the East before coming to Rolling Meadows. Cooperating with Alta Hutchinson, Alice is working the sound and music for "Desk Set." A member of Village Theatre for only about a year Alice has been very active, helping with costumes for "Mr. Popper's Penquins" and props for "Tender Trap." Mrs. Linde attended Village Theatre workshop which was held this summer.

Alice Linde

Bob Randolph plays Abe Cutler in "Desk Set." His only other Village Theatre appearance was as Sol in "Tender Trap" in a brief but very effective 3rd-act scene. Bob who lives in Mount Prospect is a salesman. He has played leads in H.M.S. Pinafore and Mikado for Prospect Heights "Music-on-Stage." His hobbies include photography, bowling and boy scout work.

Bob Randolph

Pushed onto the stage for a Christmas Pageant at the age of 5 in Allentown, Pa., Carol Fredricks became so stagestruck, she admits, she'll never get over it. Carol is heading the crew for set decoration of "Desk Set." She has been associated with Little Theatre groups all over the country and has appeared in summer stock in Pennsylvania. Her experience includes such roles at Laura in "Glass Menagerie," Stella in "Street Car Named Desire," Regina in "Little Foxes," Billie Dawn in "Born Yesterday" and Ellen in "Male Animal." Village Theatre members have seen Carol do a cutting from "Born Yesterday." A resident of Arlington Heights for 2 years, Carol has been married 8 years, has 1 child and runs the office end of her husband's civil engineering business.

Carol Fredricks

A newcomer to Village Theatre, Judy Jo Cox, plays Ruthie, one of the office girls in "Desk Set." She is a graduate of Purdue where she majored in Speech and Theatre. She was a member of Purdue Players and had roles in "Moon is Blue" and "Mrs. McThing." She is a Speech Correctionist in the Arlington Heights Public schools.

Judy Jo Cox

Jane Miller is Miss Warriner in "Desk Set." Village Theatre audiences will remember her for her outstanding portrayal of Sabrina in "Sabrina Fair." A theatre major Jane graduated from Rosary college. She taught English and Speech and has worked with Loyola Community Theatre. She directed last winter's PTA Review. Jane, the mother of 4 daughters, also finds time for another hobby—art, especially, water colors.

Jane Miller

Another newcomer to Village Theatre audiences is John Lobenhofer who takes the part of Kenny in "Desk Set." He was a member of this summer's workshop. John, a business administration major at Southern Illinois is an accountant for Illinois Bell Telephone co. Along with his wife, Lynn, John is also active in the drama group at Community church, Rolling Meadows.

RECENT FICTION

"By Love Possessed" by James Cozzens. A provocative novel covering 49 hours in the life of Arthur Winner, present-day New England lawyer. "Amanda" by Paul Hyde Bonner. A man's search for the woman he loved during World War II and what he really found. "The Red and the White" by Henri Troyat. A novel about the death of an empire and the birth of Red Russia. "Give Me Possession" by Paul Horgan. A brilliant comedy of manners — expressing the temperaments of the young, handsome and heedless couple who are its chief characters. "The Mask" by Stuart Cloete. A story of love against the background of war. The South African war. "The Sound of Thunder" by Taylor Caldwell.

"THE POTTED WITCH" by Vivian Scott. Or, a Girl's Best Friend is Her Mother - a humorous cartoon-comedy. "O'Shaughnessy's Day" by Mary Deasy. As O'Shaughnessy, a tough, corrupt politician lay dying, he tried to make up for his sins with a death-bed confession. But how much good can any such lasting spoken words do?

"Rogers' Folly" by Albert Idell. A novel of the French Emigres in this country. "Shield of Honor" by Alice Walworth Graham. A novel of Simon de Montfort's England. "Earth is Room Enough" by Isaac Asimov. Fifteen of Asimov's science-fiction stories.

"The Man Who Shot Quantrill" by George C. Appell. This is a superb combination of a Civil War and a western novel at one and the same time. "The Faster They Go" by John Bentley. A taut, careening novel of motor car racing. "Skye Cameron" by Phyllis A. Whitney. Romantic old New Orleans in the 1880's is the setting for this new novel. "The Gift and the Giver" by Nelia Gardner White. It is a story of a possessive strong-willed woman's unwitting domination of those she loves.

"All the Golden Doors" by Willa Gibbs. This is partly the story of 3 young people who have reached a point of no return in their daily lives; but it is the portrait of a truly great churchman whose battle for human souls led him into unusual predicaments. "Domestic Relations" by Frank O'Connor is a collection of 15 stories — all dealing with small-town Irish people. "Drives My Green Age" by Josephine Carson. An enchanting story of a girl on the brink of womanhood with a quality of perception that is rare and welcome. "Sullivan" by Walter Macken. A novel of the theatre tracing the career of a born actor from his Irish boyhood failure to success.

"Atlas Shrugged" by Ayn Rand. This is the story of a man who said that he would stop the motor of the world — and did. "The Return of Gunner Asch" by Hans Hellmut Kirst. Revealing story of the life and death of the German military machine.

"The Twelfth Step" by Thomas Randall. The major characters suffer from alcoholism and it is the tstory of their attempts o help themselves and others.

"DENNIS the Meance - Household Hurricane" by Hank Ketcham. 'Nuff sed! "The Woman Of My Life" by Ludwig Bemelmans. Tender, touching, and full of a shrewd philosophy. "The Birth of a Grandfather" by May Sarton. A subtle treatment of a very real problem of communication and family relationships.

"The Wise Children" by Christine Westeon. The struggle between a mother and her daughter to understand, love and finally accept each other is the basis of this novel. "The Tall Stranger" by D. E. Stevenson. The author continues the story of Barbie France, with its warm and moving love story.

"Certain Women" by Erskine Caldwell. The story of 7 women and their experiences. "Family Secret" by Janet Agle. The fabulous, far-flung family fas worked out over the centuries a unique philosophy of life practiced by members all over the world. "When the Bough Breaks" by Otis Carney. This is a contemporary American novel which dramatizes the search for security of a whole generation. (A

Gene and Margaret Dougherty, 1417 Wilke, are parents of their fourth child, a daughter, who was born October 13 in St. Francis hospital. Mary Ellen, who weighed 6 pounds 12 ounces, has 2 sisters, Joanne and Kathleen, and a brother, Gene.

Hostess at a Christmas card demonstration Wednesday evening was Bea Harper, 1326 Race. Preparing for the holiday season were the following guests: Gwen Porter, Carol Menick, Pat Stefkovich, Mary Frances, Jo Diedon, Gianna Riefstahl, Mary Massa, Nancy Raymond and Shirlee Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. John Earhart and son, Danny, arrived in their Volksvagen from Minneapolis, Minn., as overnight guests of Rolf and Lorraine Jensen, 1334 Race. The Jensen family enjoyed taking turns riding in the "little car." Both families first became acquainted when they were stationed with the army in Maryland.

Attending the University of Illinois homecoming football game with Minnesota were Shirley and Lee Russell, 1401 Chicago. Lee enjoyed returning to his alma mater in Champaign.

Members of the cooperative baby-sitting club met at the home of Lorraine Jensen, secretary, Wednesday evening to discuss any improvements which could be made. New Terrace residents who are interested in joining may contact Lorraine at CL 3-8902. Hours of baby-sitting service are exchanged by the members and a record is kept by the secretary.

Jeanne Sadowski, 1119 Wilke, and Pat Gorman, 1440 Race, are members of the ticket committee for the St. James Mothers club dance to be held November 8 at Chevy chase.

Eight playmates of Dick Russell, 1401 Chicago, helped him celebrate his fourth birthday October 14. Invited for lunch and games were Skipper Bickley, Steve Von Ebers, John Reinhardt, Steve Balow, Mike Moser, Ed and Tim Dillon and Butch O'Keefe.

Two days of festivities honored the fifth birthday of Nancy Burra, 1223 Wilke. Sunday Nancy's parents entertained 12 relatives for dinner and Monday 6 friends were invited for refreshments and movie cartoons. They were Susan Whittier, Kathy Wolszczaks, Terry Roser, Denny and Debbie Burda and Kathy Talaber. (A

FOOT SAVING EDUCATION

by J. H. Kotz

Are pre-walking shoes important?

The harm done by outgrown pre-walkers is very important. The younger the child, the softer the bones. Many children have the beginnings of bunions before they wear any shoes because their feet were bound in the feet of outgrown pajamas.

Pre-walking children should wear shoes only when the house is cold enough that he needs mittens on his hands. Parents marvel at the way their babies flex their toes when they take their shoes off but they seldom think of the fact that using those muscles is the only way known to strengthen them. Even good fitting shoes discourage exercise.

We have a tradition that feet should be hurt and not seen. It comes to us from our ancestors whose feet were a sickening sight but have you noticed pictures of the royal family of England? The baby's bare feet hanging out? Hail the queen! If it ever becomes stylish to wear shoes only when shoes are needed, we will all have healthier feet and shoemen will not be faced with the impossible task of making abnormal feet comfortable in normal shoes.

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, all are eager to give you free medical advice. Grandma, God bless her, knows plenty of old fashioned remedies that she used to treat any sickness.

Unfortunately, although some are helpful, most home treatments temporarily mask troubles that only the skilled diagnosis of a physician can uncover. Painful symptoms may be relieved, only to re-occur later when a cure is more difficult.

You actually save money and sickness time when you depend on your physician and the specific medicines he prescribes.

How are you fixed for cards? Christmas cards, that is. We all procrastinate — and let it go until the last minute; then we remember we have to get Christmas cards. At Harris Pharmacy, we have the most complete selection of Christmas cards, those that are personalized with your name. Naturally, they are Hallmark (there are none finer) and so reasonable this year.

The prices start at $1.95 for 25 cards and go up from there. We can give you fast delivery if you will place your order NOW and not wait until the very last minute. Honestly, I have never seen such a beautiful selection of cards and again, I repeat, the prices are so reasonable.

Christmas Cards are a MUST in every family, so don't wait, order NOW and have them in plenty of time. I'm certain that everyone wants a personalized card for Christmas; that is the reason we have put in such a large selection. Actually the cost is very little more than the ones which you sign. Come in real soon and make your choice and we'll get them for you poste-haste.

In the Shadow of the Steeple

Is Community Evading Its Responsibility to Youth?

by REV. WILLIAM MCGILL

In the interchange that occurs in the home of an adolescent the accusation is occasionally hurled, "You never let me do anything I want." Some adolescents who run afoul of the law say, "My parents don't care what happens to me." Between the two expressions, there is a great deal of difference.

In the former case, it should be recognized that everyone feels a need to overstate his case in order to win the decision he wants. Young people know there is a difference between a parent's concern and a lack of concern about where the youngster goes and what he does.

MANY POLICE officers feel that part of the contemporary delinquency problem is related to adolescent lack of respect for their parents, particularly in the suburban areas.

For one thing, as the suburban areas expand, the community control groups do not grow and develop in keeping with the need. Thus parents do not get all the help they need in this regard, and may show to poor advantage.

THE REAL RELIGION of many of our families often is only too obvious to people living in the home. The pursuit of success is a self-betraying kind of religion in which home and church and the next generation may serve as sacrificial offerings on the altar.

The extra car, the bar in the recreation room, the tales brought home from the business trip out of town – none of these may appear obviously destructive to the home. Put together, they may add up to a material point of view which seems to young people to indicate that it's not so important what you believe as how much you make, how many things you possess, and how much you can get away with.

FREQUENTLY WE evade our real responsibility by trying to buy what we need. Our young people need recreation and guidance, for example: Let's build a swimming pool and have the park district hire a recreation director and waterfront supervisor. That will not do the job we expect it to do – not nearly so well as a group of fathers and mothers can do it by taking time and exercising patience.

This is strange. One of the reasons why many of us move to the suburbs is to give the children the advantages of suburban living. In many respects we fail to give them all the advantages of family living, we fail to give them the advantages of living in a community where there is interaction between the generations.

WE CANNOT BUY their development of moral values – not with new churches, nor by hiring youth directors for our churches, not with new schools, not even by hiring the finest staff of teachers and counsellors. We cannot buy their development of moral values – not with two television sets in the house, nor with new bicycles or convertibles every spring. We cannot buy their sense of being moral members of a community – not with swimming pools or parks, nor with the most ornate arrangements for recreation under capable leadership.

The only satisfactory price which can be paid for the moral development of the next generation is the same price which has always been paid – the unstinting gift of itself by the elder generation. In the realm of moral growth and spiritual development this is the only coin which is legal tender.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

Records, like components, are getting better than ever, and this week features a batch of listening treats. Maybe it's still a long way till Christmas, but that shouldn't stop you from enjoying "Christmas With Giselle" (Victor Vik LX-1099), featuring the lovely Canadian-born songstress Giselle MacKenzie.

Also, it should remind yo uthat she has her own fine NBC show on TV. Ray Charles directed and arranged the music on this delightful 12-incher, which includes an enchanting rendition of "Silent Night," "White Christmas," "We Three Kings of Orient Are," "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers," "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," and "Jingle Bells." Her sweet, gay voice is a delight, and this disc will make a dandy Yuletide gift for the whole family.

LET'S HAVE SOME Latin-American-jazz contrast: "Duke Ellington and Me, Eddie Cano" (Victor LPM-1471). This gifted young pianist plays and directs a combo in 13 great Ellington standards, to which he adds a dash of South-of-the-Border styling. The result is entrancing listening in Hi-Fi. Numbers include "Caravan," "Sophisticated Lady," "Azure," "Prelude to a Kiss," "Perido," "Take the A Train, "Do Nothing Till You Hear From Me," and "Mood Indigo." We've a hunch the Duke himself would give his platter 4 stars, just as we do!

Frank O'Donnell, promotion director of Victor's budget-priced Camden platters, deserves plaudits for a fine popular music treat on the disc CAL-388, "Shep Fields: 1 Man, 2 Bands." Shep, as you adults may recall, headed the band that played for those wonderful dancers Veloz and Yolanda at the Palmer House years back. One side of the disc features his "Rippling Rhythm Orchestra," and it brings back happy memories as he plays "Caravan," "Nice Work If You Can Get It," "Satan Takes a Holiday" and "12th Street Rag." On the flipover, with an all-reed group, Shep lilts smartly through "Fire Dance," "Jersey Bounce," "I Found a Million Dollar Baby" and "You're Driving Me Crazy." Fine hi-fi sound, and at $1.98, this platter is virtually a steal!

ON VICTOR'S VIK label, again (LX-119), you'll find a wonderful treat in "The Best of Eddie Cantor," with Henri Rene and his orchestra. This incomparable entertainer may be 65, but he can still "wow 'em." The album was recorded last June, and you'll find all your Cantor classics: "If You Knew Susie," "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby," "Makin' Whoopee," "How Ya Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm," "Ma," "Margie," "Ain't She Sweet" and "Ida, Sweet as Apple Cider." And what memories those tunes bring back, done as only Eddie Cantor can do them. Mazeltov, Eddie!

Laurels to Angel Records for a magnificent three-disc complete recording of Debussy's only opera, "Pelleas et Melisande," written to the lyric drama of Maurice Maeterlinck. This poetic masterpiece happens to benefit from recording; it appeals to the ears and the mind, for there is little action per se. The subtle beauty of this music is absolutely bewitching.

The great Spanish soprano Victoria de los Angeles sings the role of Melisande with a flawless lyricism and expressive beauty; it is in our opinion, the finest thing she has ever done on lp. The noted French tenor Jacques Jansen gives us a superb Pelleas, and Gerard Souzay (whose wonderful lieder and chanson discs have long won our admiration) here achieves a Golaud the like of which we have not heard even on the "live" operatic stage.

Pierre Froumenty's portrayal of the blind king Arkel is a tour de force, and praise is due Francoise Ogeas for her portrayal of the child Yniold. The Orchestre National de la RadioDiffusion Francaise is directed by Andre Cluytens, always outstanding in his interpretation of French music. We rate this as the best existent disced version of "Pelleas," and its sound is breath-takingly realistic. It was tested on a home system quite popular at the Chicago hi-fi show: the Miraphon manual player with "Miratwin" pickup, the Bogen 15-watt amplifier, and the excellent "Stentorian" 1214 12-inch coaxial speaker in Karlson enclosure. Clean, realistic reproduction at modest cost.

ANOTHER ANGEL GEM is the 12-inch album containing two horn concerti by Richard Strauss, with the incomparable Dennis Brain as soloist with the Philharmonia under Wolfgang Sawallisch. The first concerto was written in 1883, the second in 1942 when Strauss was 78. The disc is not only a delight, but it serves to show in a single vivid example the remarkable maturity of this great master who gave us "Der Rosenkavalier" (which Angel will soon record with Elizabeth Schwarzkopf). Beautiful sound. Incidentally, get Brain's fabulous playing of the 4 Mozart Horn Concerti on a 12-inch Angel lp. It's a memorable listening experience!

Reading tips of the week: in pocket-size format, Dell Books offer in Laurel edition "Great American Short Stories" edited by Wallace and Mary Stegner, a valuable anthology; "The Modern American Dictionary;" and on Dell label, Brian Moore, gifted Irish novelist, merits high praise for his "The Lonely Passion of Judith Hearne," one of the best novels from Ireland in a decade.

ORIGIN OF A TIRE such as Firestone's Town and Country begins with a hand-carved original in the rubber firm's design laboratory. Technicians transfer the mud and snow design from the drawing board to a blank tire for study and tests. The result is a tire guaranteed to go through ice, mud and snow. It is available at Northwest Tire & Supply Co., 700 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Man's responsibility for spiritual growth and progress will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation after Death" at Christian Science services Sunday, October 27.

Scriptural selections to be read include the following (Philippians 3:13-15): "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (291:12-13): "Universal salvation rests on progression and probation, and is unattainable without them."

The Golden Text is from James (1:12): "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him."

Some Answers For Young People

Two young people tell how spiritual understanding of God gave their lives a sense of direction and purpose on the regular Sunday television series, "How Christian Science Heals," seen on channel 7 at 9:45 a.m. One guest is from Glendale, Calif., and the other is from Vancouver, Wash.

The radio program of the same name can be heard each Sunday over Station WAIT at 8:30 a.m., and over Station WNMP at 9:15 a.m. The title of the program this Sunday is "A Healing Of Grief," in which a former Air Force chaplain now of San Francisco, Calif., tells how understanding God as eternal Life healed him of grief and loss.

Missionary From Thailand To Speak Here

Miss Rena Westra, home on leave from missionary work at Chiengmai, Thailand, will be the guest speaker Wednesday, Oct. 30, at the monthly meeting and luncheon of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights. Miss Westra, a registered nurse as well as director of education at the school of nursing at McCormick hospital in Chiengmai, will be introduced by Mrs. Richard Frasier, foreign missions chairman of the local organization.

A native of Michigan, Miss Westra is a graduate of Butterworth school of nursing, Grand Rapids, and she also studied at Columbia university and Indiana university hospital before her service abroad. In 1936 she was appointed by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions for work in China, and she served there until 1950 when she was expelled on 48 hours notice by the Communists. In 1952 she was reassigned to Thailand where she joined the staff at McCormick hospital.

MISS WESTRA'S talk, which brings to a climax the Women's association study on southeast Asia, will touch on her work with 100 student nurses, faculty recruiting and teaching. She will also show a series of slides to illustrate her work and life in Thailand.

Also appearing on the program will be Mrs. R. Derek Barton who will present the devotional work. Mrs. Jack McComb, president of the association, will preside at the business meeting. Luncheon will be served by members of circle 7 with Mrs. Bert E. Gathercoal and Mrs. C. F. Tully in charge.

Members and friends are invited and newcomers may make reservations by phoning the church office. (A

St. Alphonsus Women's club of Prospect Heights won first prize Saturday for their "Pray for World Peace" float in the second annual Autumn Festival parade.

Second prize in the civic competition was awarded to Our Saviour Lutheran church and third prize to Prospect Heights Improvement association.

First prize in the commercial category went to Borden Milk Co. float.

JUDGING FLOATS were Mrs. Gerald M. Chapman of Arlington Heights, president of the League of Women Voters; Charles Hayes of Palatine, managing editor of Paddock Publications; and Frank Egan, of the Glenview Naval Air Station.

Formal presentation of the awards will be made Saturday at Schneller Furniture Co. in Prospect Heights shopping center.

An estimated 7,500 persons watched the 4-mile parade which marched from Arlington high school to Prospect Heights and included 4 bands, representative groups of military services, more than 3 colorful floats, antique automobiles, and the Black Horse troop. (ACM

A Correction

Hasbrook Construction Co. of Arlington Heights explained this week that William Morrison and William Klowsky are solely responsible for the purchase of their new homes in Hasbrook subdivision.

A photograph and news release from Hasbrook, published in last week's editions of Paddock Publications, incorrectly stated that their prospective father-in-law, Stuart Goodenough, was purchasing the homes. (AMP

School Tax Ruling Set For Nov. 12

(CNS) — Circuit Court Judge Cornelius J. Harrington is expected to rule on the Park Ridge school tax on builders after oral argument November 12.

The illness of Attorney Jack Siegel, for the Park Ridge school board delayed the arguments, set for October 21.

Judge Harrington will be the first judge to hear arguments in the year-old case challenging the Park Ridge ordinance requiring subdividers pay $300 a lot into the school fund when submitting plans for city approval.

MASTER-in-Chancery Albert M. Sheppard suggested the judge rule the ordinance unconstitutional after he heard summer long preliminary arguments. Sheppard contends the power to provide to raise revenue for school purposes rests with the state legislature.

Judge Harrington must also decide who is to receive the $100,000 paid into the fund by 6 builders, who filed the suit. (AMP

The world's most expensive sales talk

Door-to-door peddlers are now selling vitamin preparations and nutritional supplements. Good for what ails you, and all that. Here's the danger. You may buy the peddler's vitamins "for what ails you" and postpone that visit to your physician you were planning. And that can be dangerous. Dangerous to your health—your most precious possession. That's why the door-to-door peddler's sales talk can be expensive. Tragically expensive. For advice on vitamins or nutritional supplements, see someone with professional knowledge of such things—your family physician or pharmacist.

THE HIGH SCHOOL gridiron season has entered its final stage and in most of the suburban conferences champions are about to be crowned. North Chicago still has games with Lake Park and Fenton but, barring a major upset, appears to be the first champs of the new Tri-County conference. The Warhawks, coached by Tom Parker, have a very tough line and all round team speed and reserve depth.

We would not take a thing away from the fine game North Chicago played against Palatine Saturday but we would like to say that the score would have been close under normal health conditions.

Two-thirds of the Palatine squad, including all but 1 starter, had suffered at least 4 days of flu in the 8 days prior to the game. This is not meant as an alibi but a mere statement of fact, which had an important bearing on the Palatine team play.

THERE ARE A LOT OF GAMES where the flu has had an important bearing on the result. In the Suburban league, it is either play or forfeit. We are in receipt of a clipping from the Oak Park weekly paper "Oak Leaves" in which the philosophy of their football coach is expressed on the subject of postponements. This clipping was received from a Mount Prospect fan and reads as follows:

"Speaking for Oak Park high school, we'll play our games as long as we can find eleven men to put on the field!"

This is football talk; no favors asked, no pity expected. Football is a combat game, and any scheduled encounter is not subject to postponement by inclement weather, the length of the injury list, hard luck stories or the question whether somebody feels like playing. You show up and do your best, and if the fates have crippled the team and you have to take it on the chin, you accept your beating like a man the while giving the victor a few licks to remember you by.

IN THE SUBURBAN LEAGUE, Waukegan is still undefeated, but must meet New Trier who last week lost by 1 touchdown to powerful Evanston, though riddled by flu. Evanston, the league favorite, was beaten by Waukegan when they had flu and injuries to key players . . . In the West Suburban conference Maine is still unbeaten in league play though thumped soundly by Evanston 20-0 in a non-league opener. The crucial game coming up is with Hinsdale . . . Bloom tops the South Suburban but is far from in as the champ . . .

Grayslake got the green light in the Northwest after swamping an undefeated Lake Forest team 38-6. Grayslake has Ela-Vernon and Antioch blocking the path to their first grid championship and both have 2-3 records. A tie with Warren, who was beaten by Lake Forest, is the only mar on the Grayslake record.

In the North Suburban the championship will be decided Saturday at Barrington's homecoming when they face unbeaten Crystal Lake. Barrington has a tie with Zion and could cop the title by upsetting the Tigers. However, we would pick Crystal Lake to take this one by 2 touchdowns. The Lakers have fewer weak spots in their lineup and several boys who rate with the best in the suburban area.

MR. LESTER REICHERT who spoke at the Cook county and IEA institute for teachers Friday at Arlington Heights and Palatine made the point that inter-school sports activities for boys under 13 was likely to be harmful. He also stated contact sports such as tackle football, wrestling, and boxing, should be ruled out until boys are at least 13 years of age. He felt boys under 13 are not emotionally ready for the pressure of sports activities operated on a championship basis and not ready, physically, for contact sports.

He stressed the need for a comprehensive intra-mural program for younger boys below the 7th grade level with football left out of the program until high school.

He felt the sports program for young boys was best handled if conducted by the schools rather than community agencies, though he stated he had no quarrel with Little League baseball except the tournament part of the program and the over emphasis some parents and community coaches try to place upon it.

According to Dr. Reichert, too many parents want to satisfy their own desire for success in sports, which they never had through promotion of activities for their children.

We agree with Dr. Reichert's basic philosophy. Actually, he asks for a more complete sports program at all levels to give the values of athletics to more boys, but regulated as to age and maturity of the boys, so that they will be helped but not hurt from the standpoint of health, emotional development, and physical growth.

PALATINE FRESHMEN gained prestige Saturday when, with 5 starters sidelined with flu, they whipped undefeated North Chicago 14-6. It was some consolation for the Pirates as they lost both the varsity and frosh-soph games. North Chicago had previously beaten Crystal Lake 6-2, Glenbrook 7-0, Elmwood Park 34-6, and Notre Dame 33-7. Saturday's winning score came on a punt blocked by Dennis Christensen and carried over by Jeff Bassett.

SIX BASKETBALL RULES interpreters appointed by the Illinois High School Association met in Chicago last week to receive instructions on the 1957-58 cage code which includes 10 important rules changes. In charge of the discussion was H. V. Porter, secretary of the national basketball committee and executive secretary of the national high school federation. Official IHSA interpreters for 1957 who will be chairmen of rules discussion meetings in 18 different centers in the state are M. F. Springer the state association office and assistant to Al Willis; Frank Falzone, Rockford; Joe Frank, Champaign; Otto Kuehn, Chicago; Ernest Lieberson, Chicago; and Ted Search, Chester.

Here are the principal rules changes for the 1957-58 season: (1) The color of the ball shall be natural tan, except that, by mutual agreement, a yellow ball may be used. (2) All playing floors will be marked with the 12-ft. free throw lane. (3) Each team must designate its 5 starting players 5 minutes before game time. (4) Any player number containing a digit larger than 5 is illegal. (Applies only to varsity games in Illinois high schools.) (5) No free throws for a double foul. Fouls are charged and play is resumed by jump ball at center. (6) Right to return the ball to back court after a jump applies only to jump ball at center circle. (7) Throw-in from free throw lane extended is legal. (8) Basket interference and goal tending apply to both offense and defense. (9) Technical foul, after warning, may be called against team responsible for action in case of an "action-less" game. (10) Bonus penalty for common fouls is awarded only after the offending team has committed four personal fouls in a half.

MIKE DUNDY attempts to gain every possible yard of Arlington frosh-sophs against Downers Friday night, but it wasn't enough as the locals lost, 24-12. Mike is stopped by Truman Phillips of Downers, with John Lopata (32) of Heights on the ground. To the left is Machiando of Downers.

Downers Sophs Grab Early Lead to Defeat Arlington

Downers Grove's frosh-soph 11 took advantage of 2 first quarter gifts and handed Arlington's young Cards a 24-12 setback at Arlington Friday night. It was the second loss in a row for the locals, who had won their first 4 games this season.

A BLOCKED kick and a kick-off fumble provided the visitors with their margin of victory in the opening period. The 2 scores were only 38 seconds apart.

Peter Kempfer, DG tackle, blocked an Arlington kick from the 5-yard line and then fell on it in the end zone for the game's first TD. The tally came with only 3:28 left to play in the first quarter.

Downers kicked but an Arlington back fumbled the ball on his own 27 with the Trojan's Truman Phillips recovering. Halfback Dick Perkins scored on the next play, finding a hole for the necessary 27 yards. The PAT attempt was blocked.

THE BIRDIES bounced back with a score in the second quarter. A Downers fumble on the Trojan 29 yard line set up the touchdown. A 22-yard pass play from quarterback George Bork to Carl Massa gave Arlington a first down on the 2. Bob Leekley went over with 4:28 remaining in the half.

The visitors took the second half kickoff and scored 3 times only to have the officials call the play back on each occasion. Arlington finally took over on their own 10.

DOWNERS WAS not to be denied a third touchdown, however. Receiving a punt on the Arlington 41, the Trojans secured a first down on the 31, from where Dick Perkins scampered to the goal. Danny Striegel blocked the conversion attempt.

The Birdies were back in the game 25 seconds later when Mike Dundy rounded right end, cut back, and streaked 85 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed and the score stood 18-12 with 1:30 to play in the third quarter.

THE ISSUE was settled when Ed Janoski and Dick Coffin led a 55 yard Downers march late in the final stanza. Janoski went over from 2 yards out for the score, which came with 2:13 left in the game.

A desperate passing attack, in which the locals completed 3 out of 5 attempts, ended with an interception on the Downers 9-yard line, as the gun sounded.

DOWNERS GROVE outgained the Birdies on the ground 256 yards to 115. Arlington's 98 yards passing compared to the Trojans' zero gave the locals the edge in first downs, 8-7.

Cardinal quarterbacks George Bork and Bob Dahlquist threw 9 times and completed 5. Downers' only pass play was called back for a penalty.

Downers Surprises Complacent Cardinals for 13-13 Gridiron Tie

An underdog Downers Grove 11 won an uphill battle with the clock Friday night when Chuck Goodman's touchdown plunge from the 1-yard line with only 6 seconds remaining earned a 13-13 tie for the visiting Trojans.

Only the desperate kick-blocking lunge of Ralph Wille saved the locals from their second loss in a row. The senior lineman trapped Zalkowski's PAT attempt to gain an even break for the evening.

THE CARDINALS had led most of the game after scoring early in the second quarter. Downers tied it 7-7 before halftime, only to lose the advantage again in the third period.

The winners showed a net ground gain of 190 yards compared to the Cards 151. Downers completed 3 of 7 passed for 37 yards while the Red and White aerial attack was limited to only 1 completion in 8 attempts, an 11-yard scoring pass.

The Trojans registered 14 first downs to Arlington's 8 and were penalized 30 yards while the locals lost 36 yards to the whistle-blowers.

THE CARDS appeared to be on their way to a TD the first time they got the ball, but after traveling 47 yards and registering 3 first downs, they fumbled on the Downers 26.

Arlington's opportunity came at the opening of the second quarter when Howie Berg ran back a DG punt 39 yards to the visitors' 41. Ed Schumacher and Tom Grey led the drive which faced a fourth down, 5 yards to go situation, on the Trojan 11. Grey hit Dick Bader with a jump pass for the TD, and Jack Weber added the extra point with 7:41 remaining in the second period.

CHOPPING OFF repeated gains of 3, 5, 6, and 9 yards, the Trojans came back with a 64-yard march which netted them a TD with only 1:05 to play in the half. Junior halfback Dave Spencer plunged over from 3 yards out. Zalkowski's first conversion attempt failed, but the Cards were issued an offside penalty. The junior guard did not miss this time. The play later assumed greater importance since a missed PAT could have cost the ball game.

Arlington took the opening kick-off of the second half and, led by Dennis Thill's 53 yard scamper, moved to the Downers 6. There the drive fell 1 foot shy of a first down, and Downers took over.

UNABLE TO MOVE the ball the Trojans kicked to their 45. Berg took the punt and traveled the sidelines to the Downers 12 yard line. Grey went to the one on a keeper play, and Bob Mors stayed in the WSC scoring race with his 8th conference 6 pointer. Weber's kick was not good as the clock showed 5 minutes to play in the third quarter.

With time running out on them, the Trojans threatened with a drive from their own 23 to the Cardinal 16, only to have it fall short with 4:15 remaining to play.

WITH THE Redbirds in possession of the ball, Arlington fans breathed a little easier. After a fumble cost them 9 yards, however, the locals were forced to kick.

The ball went to Downers on the Arlington 39 with only 1:52 to play. That was all the visitors needed. (Sp

Frosh Split

Arlington freshman football teams split decisions Tuesday afternoon, the 'A' group winning over Downers Grove, 19-0, but the 'B' team dropping a 20-0 tilt to Hinsdale.

Hermes tossed a pass to Tuttle in the second quarter of the 'A' game, but the ball bounced off Tuttle's hands into the air, only to fall into the hands of Petrosin, who ran 40 yards for the Heights TD.

In the third quarter a 30-yard pass, Voigt to Tuttle, was good for a TD with Voigt running the conversion.

Gerry Halvorson scampered through the line for a 60-yard TD in the final frame. (Sp

Teen Dramatists To Present Play

Only Charlie Chan will be missing when Arlington high school's dramatists present "Yellow Jacket," Friday and Saturday, November 1 and 2, at 8 p. m.

A Chinese "Our Town," director Douglas Murphy promises uniqueness in this 3 act comedy.

AUTHORS GEORGE Hazleton and Harry Benrimo utilized the curiosity of Eastern stage techniques when they developed an old plot into a new, colorful presentation.

The play concerns a young hero's efforts to gain his rightful place in life, a position which has been usurped by a step-brother. Also, according to Chinese tradition, the hero must find out who his ancestors were.

CHINESE STAGING will include the painting of faces to represent character, the use of long beards, and the wearing of elaborate headdresses.

Weird sound effects, the use of a stage manager, and bright sets should please the eyes of the Little Theater audience.

A TRIP to Chinatown was necessary to secure many of the props, such as fans, umbrellas, chop sticks, and a copy of a Chinese newspaper. Authentic costumes will be rented from an agency.

Violet Society To Give Program At Garden Club

African violets will be the topic under discussion at the October meeting of the Arlington Heights Garden club October 28 at 8 p.m. at Pioneer Park field house, Arlington Heights. Arlington Heights African Violet society will present the program with Mrs. Alyce Moss speaking on the history of African Violets and Mrs. Jean Tiedmond discussing propagation of violets, to be followed by a question and answer period.

Refreshments will be served with Mrs. Otto Lisec, Mrs. W. L. Johnson and Mrs. J. W. Sholder as hostesses.

The new board of the Garden club will take office at the close of the meeting. They are Mrs. H. L. Bids Are Sought For Rand Rd. Job (CNS)—Illinois Division of Highways will open bids November 1 for improving Rand rd. for a stretch of 1.55 miles from a point .15 mile southeast of Dundee rd. to about .1 mile northwest of the Lake-Cook county line.

The project includes concrete base course widening and bituminous concrete resurfacing.

Clabaugh To Address State PTA

R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights public schools, has been asked to speak at 3 district meetings of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers being held this fall.

Clabaugh spoke to P.T.A. representatives from district 3 at Mt. Morris, several weeks ago on the subject, "What's Right With Our Schools". Wednesday he discussed the question, "Can Parents and Teachers Agree on Their Goals?" at a district 20 parley at Plymouth.

DISTRICT 21 will hold a meeting at Northbrook on October 29 and the local superintendent will outline the "Powers and Function of School Boards", for 5 different groups in a rotation type meeting.

The P.T.A. has long been a major interest of Clabaugh's. He was appointed School Education chairman on the state board of P.T.A. last spring. His speaking engagements are a portion of his activity as a member of this board. (A

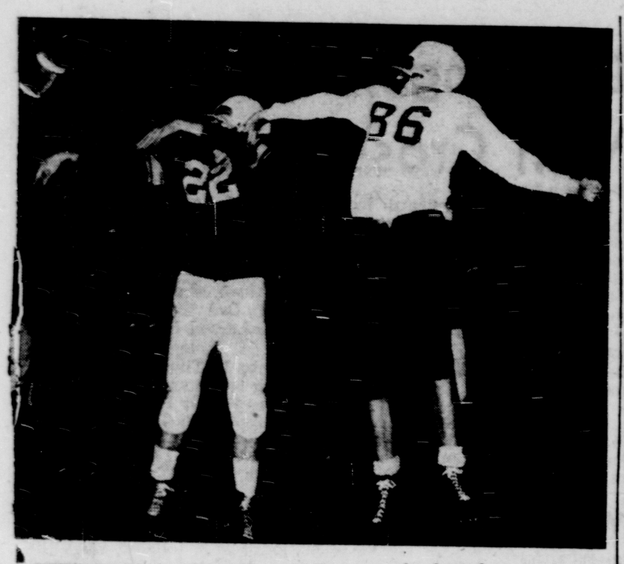
Cards Need Top Performance Vs. LaGrange



THIS PASS in the Arlington-Downers frosh-soph game was meant for the Cards' Rick Johnston (86) as Ed Janoski (22) attempted to bat it down for Downers. Visitors won, 24-12.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB PADDOCK

RALPH WILLE was the hero for Arlington against Downers varsity gridders Friday night when he blocked the punt that could have meant defeat for the Cardinals instead of a tie. Conversion specialist for Downers, Szalkowski, had already made 6 points after touchdown, and was expected to make another against Heights Friday night to win the game. Wille rushed in, though, and kept the game at a tie with just 6 seconds of play left in the game.

Cross country squad at Arlington had expected to take third in the conference run Saturday, but with Ken Courter and Bill Dodge unable to compete because of the flu the local harriers sacrificied 40 points and finished fourth by 20 in the varsity division. In frosh-soph division Bob Johnson left a sick bed to run, dropped to 23rd position, was back in bed this week with a relapse. Mike Field finished 8th, then left the chute too early to be counted and was dropped to 11th when the mistake was noted.

Both cross country teams at Heights can still take third in the overall league standings, but will have to "go like mad" to make it. LaGrange is expected to take the varsity division, and repeat again as state champs. Glenbard won the frosh-soph division so easily with the unheard of 22 points in the league meet, varsity prospects for next year's Bards is bright. Downers postponed its cross country meet with Arlington last week to November 1 or 4, depending upon whether any Heights boys qualify for the trip downstate.

NOT LONG AGO we heard many queries as to what Halas was going to do with all his quarterbacks on the Bears . . . There were 6 . . . Bratkowski and Brown both showed well Sunday against the Rams, with Blanda putting his valuable toe into action in kicking 2 field goals, 1 for almost 50 yards, plus 4 points after . . . Then there's Ronnie Knox, whose Dad opened his mouth and Ronnie was suspended . . .

Sixth man at the vital spot last August was Jim Haluska, seen in action a couple of times a year ago . . . Jim was released, is now playing with Racine semi-pro eleven, and played against Elmhurst Travelers at Bensenville Sunday . . .

Playing center for Illinois in its upset of Minnesota Saturday was Gene Cherney, who originally hailed from Austin, Minn. high school. He didn't play against any of his former mates, though, having worked 2 years in California before spending 2 years in the army . . . He's now a junior at Illinois . . .

We're sorry to say it, but we expect Arlington to disappear from the various football ratings around the state after its tie with Downers . . .

WSC was the only league other than the Suburban with 3 teams among the first 15 in the Chicago area . . . Maine was 9th, will probably be 8th this week . . . There were 304 perfect games in league bowling last year, according to ABC records . . . Previous record highs were 270 the year before . . . There have been 5,586 such games since 1907 . . . Last season there were 18,529 making triplicates, 2,802 picking up the 7-10 split, and just 2,077 converting the Big 4 . . . Sid Luckman's son is quarterbacking Highland Park soph gridders, stands 5-11, weighs 175, can heave a terrific pass.

WAYNE LANGGUTH of Fenton and Bensenville was slated to start for Grinnell frosh against Cornell Friday, playing at tackle . . . Mike Cromie of Grayslake was expected to be 1 of the starting halfbacks with Jack Woods of LaGrange 1 of the reserve backs . . . Gaining stature with Northern Illinois cross country team are John Kilcullen of Maine and freshman Bill Schram of York . . . Bill was clocked in 16:25 for 3 miles . . . Fred Boshela, member of West Rockford's state championship basketball team 2 years ago, has dropped out of Iowa State . . .

Wisconsin grid fans are crediting a lot of the Badgers' improvement to Perry Moss, former Illini quarterback, "a driving, peppery coach bubbling with good ideas" . . .

It's always interesting to read the Saturday morning sports pages AFTER the game is over for college games, making writers look like experts or fools . . . We glanced at a Purdue release of October 14 after the Boilermakers had upset Michigan State and discovered Purdue's team called "hapless" with the Spartans rated "powerful" . . . Purdue had fumbled 17 times in 3 previous losses, losing possession 9 times . . . Saturday it was Michigan State fumbling 10 times, with Purdue taking over 5 of those times . . .

Glenbard's 1931 WSC grid champs held a reunion along with the Bards' homecoming festivities the other weekend . . . That team was undefeated in 7 games, with only West Chicago scoring a single TD against it.

Dick Pond, Glenbard grad, is one of 7 Indiana U. harriers rated "even" by his coach . . . Dick, a freshman last spring, finished ahead of the entire varsity contingent in a varsity-frosh meet last spring . . . Both Luke Johnsos of the Bears and Woody Hayes of Ohio State have this in common: there's nothing new in football, merely rehashing the old . . . Hayes insists his Ohio State players use "some of Paul Brown's stuff, more from Frank Leahy and some of the Chicago Bears from Ray Nolting" . . . Johnsos states the Bears Sunday used "some 8 and 9-year-old stuff that used to work, and did again" . . . Only man he knew who came up with anything new in football was Zuppke.

PAUL EK, one of Glenbard's stalwart gridders, worked for a construction gang last summer to get in shape, then broke his hand when somone dropped a cement bag on it . . . Hand has since mended, however . . . quote from AP: It's a shame to waste the Oklahoma football team on the Oklahoma schedule . . . Bradley's subs have been given 10 electric blankets to use while the regulars are whacking away on the gridiron . . . Series of electrical outlets have been put in by the bench . . .

Favorite sports for the boys from 8-19 are, in order, baseball, swimming, football, ice skating and basketball . . .

Archery and volley ball have been added to summer Olympics schedule . . . On the cross country squad at Illinois are Jim Bowers of DeKalb, state mile and individual cross country champ, now a sophomore . . . Paddock Classic Traveling league finally came of age Saturday night with 3 teams gaining games of over 1000.

Two league records were set when Hi-Way Recreation scored 2928 series, led by Lee Adams with 269 game, first tally over 250 in the league thus far.

HOWIE BERG has done a terrific job for Arlington punts and most of the time on pass defense, a hard driving straight ahead runner. Howie has a lot of power, but has been playing below his potential the past 2 games due to flu. Coaches hope he can regain his for this week in the Dad's night game against LaGrange, the last chance seniors will have to play before the home crowd.

Scouting the Enemy

LaGrange, Arlington's Dad's night opponent in the final home game of the year Friday night, October 25, has a line smaller than in past years but quick reacting, with a lot of reserve strength.

- Ends—Emil Ludwig and Tom Chase, both tall, good pass receivers.
- Tackles—Rob Anderson and Doug Kowert, good size and agile.
- Guards—John Cahill and Dave Wormley, good size, good blockers, fast.
- Center—Hank Martens, 1 of the better centers in the league.
- Quarterback—Bob Chandler, fine passer, runs pro-type slot offense with finesse.
- Halfbacks—Chuck Johnson and John Mussman.
- Fullback—Ed Meyer, formerly quarterback, added power to the Lions ground game.
- Team—Offense built around pitchout series like pro ranks, a system that is mured when it works, lot of passing.

Harriers to Run District Saturday

Proviso, New Trier and Maine are favored to be the top teams in the district cross country meet at Maine Saturday morning, starting at 10 o'clock, with Arlington ranked fourth or fifth.

Each of 15 schools will enter 10 boys, running 7 in the district, the eliminations for the state meet the following week.

Other schools expected to enter are Leyden, Oak Park, Palatine, Evanston, Niles, Glenbrook, Elmwood Park, Grayslake, Highland Park, No. Chicago and Waukegan.

THE CARDINALS who will be entered, acording to Coach Russ Attis, will be Ken Courter, Ron Marks, Alan Hutchinson, Bob Taggart, Bill Dodge, Don Knoepfle, Ronald Schroeder, Dave Palmer, George Luedke and Jon Benrud.

First 2 teams in each district will qualify for the state finals, plus the first 5 individuals.

PALATINE will pick their competitors from this list, with final decision to be made later in the week, partially depending upon the fu.

Dan Kusek leads the list, plus Wynn Muller, Jim Carpenter, Jack Hamiton, John Hicks, Pete John, Richard Miller, Bob Smith, Jack Freter, Ken Gordon and Fred Wessel. (Sp

Defeats Maine

Arlington's freshman 'B' squad continued its winning ways through 4 games Thursday when Coach Rusty Dowell's boys dumped Maine, 12-6. That 6 represents the first points tallied against the local yearlings in the 4 contests through October 17.

Dick Leeper scored both Arlington touchdowns on 2-yard quarterback sneaks in the first and third periods. Maine scored its TD on a pass with just 2 minutes to go.

Young Cardinals spent most of the afternoon in Maine's territory. Outstanding for Arlington was the play of halfback Tim Gorman.

There are 4 men over 190, led by Ward Siewert with 198, plus 14 in the 180's . . . We defy any league in the Chicago suburbs to have that percentage of bowlers over the 180 mark . . . This week all 6 teams will be competing at Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling Saturday night, Oct. 26, starting at 6:30.

Tighter Defense, Block and Tackle Needed for Sophs

Rebounding after 2 poor performances under the watchful eyes of their fathers will be the job of Arlington's sophomore football team Friday night when they play host to undefeated LaGrange.

Locals started the season with the light end of the schedule, are now in the midst of meeting the stronger teams. Downers had lost only 1 game prior to Friday night's victory over Heights.

LA GRANGE is undefeated, has good speed, size and overall depth. Lions Cubs defeated Maine 13-0 and blasted Glenbard last week, 40-20.

Coach Bill Beckkman's lads will have to tighten their defenses and block and tackle, if they expect to make any sort of showing against the visitors. Noticeable lacking among several team members in the Downers loss was lack of desire, which could bring about some lineup changes by game time Friday.

THE COACHES had a full complement of players out for practice Monday for the first time in 3 weeks, except for Phil Shaw (ear-ache) and Rick Johnston (fracture rib). This should help in overall performance.

JV Gridders Down Downers

Arlington's JV football squad trounced Downers Grove Monday, 26-14, in a game that could have gone either way until the final 4 minutes when Heights went ahead of those wonderful 12 points.

Al Seyler scored the first Arlington TD after a series of straight football plays from the 30, but Dave Ebert's point after kick was wide. Downers came right back to go all the way for the TD, then plunged for the extra point to go into the lead, 7-6.

A PASS from Ken Hadland to John Lussow pushed Heights ahead again with just 31 seconds to go, covering 15 yards in all. Ebert's kick was wide, but Downers was penalized with Hadland going over for the point after.

Arlington stretched the lead to 20-7 the third period with straight football with Ken Hadland plunging over. Hintz ran extra point. Downers came back strong in the fourth period to score, and made the conversion on a plunge.

THE TALLY was 20-14, Arlington, with possible TD and conversion by Downers, enough to win the game.

With just 4 minutes to go, though, Jeff Heintz took a pitchout and streaked 55 yards for the score to make the final 26-14. (Sp

BOB MORS did an exceptional job carrying the ball for Arlington in earlier games but has been hampered the past 2 weeks after a rough bout with the flu. He should be fully recovered for this week's game against LaGrange. If he is in top physical shape the Heights offense could start clicking again.

Bob weighed 170 at the start of the season, but lost 11 ponds from the flu. He is 1 of the fastest backs ever to play for Arlington, possesses natural cutting and dodging ability, a great competitor. He stands 6'.

Bears Blank Packers Heights Midget Grid

Bears blanked the Packers, 21-0, in Arlington Heights park district midget football competition.

Bears switched from the T to single wing, scoring 2 touchdowns the first half. Ed Morrow tackled Rusty Walters in the end zone for a safety for the Bears. Dave Wallerman later passed to Steve Cournoyer for a touchdown play covering 22 yards.

Bob Cordaro drop kicked the extra point. Woody Woodruff later plunged 1 yard for a TD with a pass from Dave Wallerman to Bob Cordaro covering 15 yards counting another TD.

This Saturday morning Lions will meet the Bears at 9:30 with the Packers and Cardinals playing at 10:45.

A TOUCHDOWN in each quarter by Jerry Totzke gave the Cardinals a decisive victory over the Bears in Arlington Heights midget football program, while the Packers took the Lions 13 to 7 Oct. 12.

Behind beautiful interference Totzke carried the ball 50 yards around left end for the first TD, with Jeff Haiduke kicking the extra point. A 25-yard dash by Totzke in the second quarter, matched by a pass—Wollerman to Steve Cournoyer—for the Bears' tally, made the score 13 to 7 at the half.

AGAIN, the second half was too much Totzke, who scored in the third quarter on a 20-yard run and in the fourth on a 25-yard caper over the goal line. An extra point was added by Roger Fredrickson.

Steve Martin for the Bears reversed around left end for his team's final score, and the game ended, Cardinals 26, Bears 13.

A TWISTING turning sprint for 85 yards by Jerry Orgler, Packer left half, followed a 15-yard dash over the goal in the second quarter, with a conversion by Wrenn, and accounted for 13 points and victory for the Packers.

The Lions avoided a shut-out by Paul McKenna's brilliant sweep for 40 yards around left end in the fourth quarter. Dave Martin scored the extra point. (Sp

Last Home Tilt For 21 Seniors On Dad's Night

Twenty-one seniors will be playing their last game before the home crowd Friday night, in addition to attempting to defeat LaGrange the first time in history. It will be Dad's night, with fathers of all soph and varsity gridders to be honored.

LaGrange had a slow start this season, losing the first 3 games to Oak Park, Maine and Hinsdale. Since then, though, the Lions have been gaining momentum, showing additional power each game, and will be a tough obstacle for the Cardinals.

HEIGHTS CHANCES are good if the boys can reach their performance of the first 3 quarters against Hinsdale. It will be up to the Heights defense to contain the Lions with the Heights offense rolling as it did up to 2 weeks ago.

There were still some key players missing Tuesday because of the flu, but coaches hope all will be able to go by Friday night. If Arlington can trip LaGrange the Cardinals will have a good chance to take either second or third, though the locals must still whip Glenbard a week from now.

IF HINSDALE can upset Maine, the locals will be in third, providing the Cards can stop LaGrange. If Maine wins over the Red Devils, on schedule, Heights will be in second by winning over the Lions.

Arlington defense weakened against Downers Grove last week, with a few miscues at crucial moments meaning tie instead of victory. A few boys were handicapped by the flu, but coaches felt the team could have done a better job if so many boys hadn't regarded Downers Grove so lightly.

THE CARDINALS will be out to redeem themselves this week in front of their dads, and have a better chance of knocking off LaGrange than in the many meetings previously. Lions will have the tradition of never losing to Arlington with them. (Sp

Card Football Dads To Wear Numbers

Fathers of all varsity and soph gridders will be honored at the Dad's night game against LaGrange Friday night, the last tilt game for the local football teams.

All dads are asked to pick up their son's number at a desk at the south end of the field when they arrive, and take seats along the home side.

Fathers of soph players are urged to turn in their numbers immediately after the first game so dads of varsity players can wear them through the second contest. (Sp

Speed Helps Illini, But Offense Needs to Improve

"Our speed was a major factor in the defeat of Minnesota last weekend, but I'm afraid Michigan State has a faster ball club than we do." That's the way Illinois football coach Ray Eliot feels about Saturday's Big Ten game at East Lansing.

Eliot was happy over what he termed a "team victory" against Minnesota. Still, he was not completely satisfied with offense after viewing movies of the game.

"It may sound silly to say this, but execution of our plays on offense left something to be desired. I think the trouble can be corrected in practice this week, however."

ON THE OTHER hand, the Illinois mentor was complimentary about the way his charges handled defense. He saw great improvement over the first 3 games of the year.

Illini again came out of the contest without serious injuries. Tackle Dick Nordmeyer suffered a bruised thigh muscle, as did quarterback Tom Haller. Haller also had a minor ankle injury. Center Gene Cherney had a bruised wrist, and end Rich Kreitling had a kidney bruise. All four are expected to be ready for the Spartans.

On the basis of their performances against Minnesota, halfbacks Bob Mitchell and Dale Smith and fullback Jack Delveaux must rate consideration for return to starting assignments against Michigan State Saturday. Delveaux is again battling with senior Ray Nitschke for the regular assignment.

QUARTERBACK Tom Haller's deadly passing highlights an impressive set of 4-game Illinois statistics. Haller completed 7 aerials for 123 yards in the 34-13 Minnesota upset, giving him a season total of 30 completions in 46 attempts for a percentage of .652. His completions have gained 439 yards and produced four touchdowns for the Illini.

Rich Kreitling, sophomore end from Chicago (Fenger), has been Haller's most frequent target. Kreitling has caught 9 passes for 157 yards and 1 touchdown.

Halfback Bob Mitchell, who gained 74 yards against Minnesota, continues to be Illinois' leading ground gainer, with a total of 249 yards. Halfback Don Grothe and fullback Ray Nitschke rank second and third with 164 and 163 yards, respectively. (Sp

BRUCE WILKERSON presents this fierce outlook to opponents of Grinnell college this fall. Bruce is in both football and wrestling at Grinnell, and recently suffered a leg injury in the 19-6 victory over Lawrence Oct. 5. Bruce weighs 225.

LaGrange, Glenbard Win Cross Country

LaGrange and Glenbard took the 2 divisions of the West Suburban conference cross country tournament Saturday, the Lions taking the varsity and the young Bards literally running away with the frosh-soph division.

LaGrange copped first in the tournament with 36 points, 20 ahead of Maine. Arlington finished fourth with 110.

First 10 finishers in the league run were Osterling L, Wooledge L, Neff Y, Larson D, Marks A, Tilschner M, Krueger H, Gaks M, Luscombe L, Titus L. Fifth man counting in the winning LaGrange total was Becker 14th.

Hildebrandt Doing His Job Well

University of Miami, fresh from a rugged scoreless tie with previously undefeated North Carolina State, hopes to get its season football record up to 2-2-1 Friday against University of Kansas.

Though the Jayhawks have tied one 1957 bowl team, Texas Christian, and defeated another, Colorado, they are not expected to prove quite as troublesome as some of Miami's recent foes.

Douglas Hildebrandt, junior end from Palatine Twp., Ill., did a good job at end as State never was able to get one of its fleet halfbacks outside the Miami flanks for a long run. Doug had only one tackle to his credit but drove the ball carriers into the tackles on all the other plays directed at him. (Sp

GUARANTEED to GO
or WE PAY THE TOW

the secret of this fabulous guarantee on new Town and Country Tires is triple-action traction!

1. PULLING ACTION
Husky, deep biting traction bars really dig in . . . no more spinning in snow, slush or mud. You will positively feel the difference.

2. NON-SKID ACTION
Thousands of tiny skid resisters work hand-in-hand with the action-angled cleats to provide top non-skid action on slick, wet or icy surfaces.

3. SELF-CLEANING
Special tread design ejects mud or snow . . . you never suffer traction loss due to "packing-up." Tread is always clean and sharp.

Sure we GUARANTEE that Town and Countrys will keep you rolling . . . because we know that triple-action traction delivers sure-footed rolling power in snow, slush or mud, top skid and slip resistance on ice, and a continuous self-cleaning action that lets them KEEP their "go." Come in and get complete details on our guarantee.

Town and Countrys also give you QUIET, safe, dry pavement operation that compares in mileage and performance to regular passenger tires. Available in nylon or rayon, tubed or tubeless, black or white sidewalls.

Avoid the "first-snow" rush . . . Come in now!

Injured Back Saturday For NU Against Iowa

Northwestern's hard-bitten football team, still seeking its first win of the season, will take on unbeaten Iowa in the Wildcats' homecoming at Dyche stadium Saturday.

Although the series was launched 60 years ago, the 2 long-time rivals have not met since 1952, when the Haweyes upset the favored Wildcats, 39 to 14. The triumph boosted Iowa's lead in the series to 15 victories against eight for Northwestern. Three games have ended in ties.

The Wildcats figure to be in much better physical shape to repel the Hawkeye invasion than they were a week ago against Michigan, when injuries and the flu sidelined a number of first stringers.

GENE GOSSAGE, regular tackle, and Chuck Jerasa, guard, both of whom missed last week's game, are expected back. The former was nursing a shoulder injury, and the latter was in the infirmary with the flu.

Much of Northwestern's hopes against Iowa will center around Bob McKeiver, halfback, whose running, kicking, and pass-receiving highlighted the performance against Michigan. He sparked Northwestern's two third quarter touchdowns that tied the score at 14 to 14.

McKeiver, who gained 73 yards against the Wolverines, moved into first place among Wildcat ball carriers with a 5.5 yard average. He has a season's mark of 172 yards in 31 carries.

THE LITTLE halfback averaged 49 yards in punting against Michigan to boost his season's average to 41.8 yards, to place him among the nation's leading kickers. He has caught seven passes for 56 yards, three short of the team lead in this department held by sophomore end, Fred Williamson. The latter caught four passes against Michigan to raise his season's mark to 10.

Willmer Fowler, McKeiver's running mate in the Wildcat backfield, is another key offensive threat. The speedy Fowler has gained 169 yards in 35 carries for a 4.8 average.

THE WILDCATS hope to have fullback, Eddie Quinn, in top shape this week. He was hampered by a sprained ankle in the Michigan game that reduced his effectiveness. He is currently operating at a 3.9-yard average for the season.

Sophomore quarterback, John Talley, will probably get the starting call this week off his performance against Michigan, when he engineered both of Northwestern's scoring marches. Talley is the team's leading passer with 26 completions out of 51 attempts.

Q. I had occasion to introduce a woman of about 25 to an elderly man the other day, and I mentioned her name first instead of his. Was this proper?

A. The woman's name should be mentioned first always, unless the man is a very important person.

Paddock Classic Traveling league night when the 6 teams bowling at 3 finally came of age Saturday over 1000 3 times, were under 900 just twice of the 18 contests, scored 6 600's and added a new high team series of 2928 as Hi-Way Recreation of Palatine maintained its half game lead over Des Plaines.

It was Lee Adams who led the way for Hi-Way, with a 269 game, new league mark, and a 632 series. Teammate Marv Perry notched 605 to help his mates lose to Victory Electric of Gunnell's 949-923, win 953-942, then swamp the enemy 1052-883. Hahnfeldt racked up 225 that third game, with Perry hitting 220, in addition to Adams' 269.

Lee Adams

THE TEN PIN of Barrington won 2 of 3 games at Beverly, taking a 932-913 tile, losing 939-882, but then coming in strong to win 1046-911. Peterson, Majewski, Schumacher and Papineau were all above 200 for Barrington that third game, with Schumacher scoring a 611 series. Ward Siewert hit 602 for the losers.

Des Plaines whipped Jeffery in 2 games on the former's home lanes, taking a 932-910 tilt, bowing 955-936- then coming back to take a 1006-922 affair. Ken Norman hit 620 and Del Mette 610 for Des Plaines. Tony Felker was high for the losers with 598.

WARD SIEWERT of Beverly is moving closer and closer to a 200-average after hitting 600 4 weeks in a row. He currently stands at 198, followed by Ken Norman of Des Plaines with a 197 mark. Tom Kouros of Beverly and Marv Perry of Palatine both hold 192's with Del Mette of Des Plaines standing at 189. Thirteen more keglers are above 180.

It will be position night at Jeffery Lanes this Saturday night, Oct. 26, with Hi-Way meeting Des Plaines, Jeffery opposing Victor Electric, and Ten Pin testing Beverly.

JUST DOGS

by DAVE TERRILL

Dogs and School Curriculum

Teachers and educators are finding it profitable to utilize children's interest in dogs as a means of enriching the school curriculum. Since dogs is a subject of great interest to youngsters, the inclusion of "man's best friend" in the curriculum is meeting with enthusiasm on the part of the children.

A survey revealed that the dog rates high in the reading program of both grade and high schools, and the dog motif occupies a prominent place in art, science, social studies and handcraft. By virtue of his niche as a familiar animal to most school children, the dog's image fits easily into art work, such as poster making, sketching and sculpturing. In the handicraft field, the dog stimulates such projects as designing and constructing dog houses, dog beds and puppets, while in the science program, the care, feeding and training of dogs not only teaches children the biological facts, but gives them a sense of responsibility.

Weekend Shows

The last 2 weekends have not only been excellent weather-wise but also have proven themselves ideal from the standpoint of holding an outdoor confirmation show such as held by the Skokie Valley Kennel club, October 13. The Skokie show was held at the Northbrook Youth Center park, and although many people who live in this area had dogs in the show, top honors for best dog in show went to a toy Poodle owned by Mrs. Magdalen Flarity of Wausau, Wis. It was handled by Virginia Hardin, who lives in Northbrook.

This past weekend many people attended the 12th annual obedience trial of the South Side All Breed Dog Training club, held Sunday at the Englewood Masonic temple, Chicago. Although there were more than 239 entries in the various classes, top honors should go to Dee Muster of Bensenville, whose Weimaraner "Linda" won first place in the Utility class, with a score of 198. This, incidentally, is the dog's third leg on the utility degree, and as such will be recognized as a Utility dog by the American Kennel club. Another win for a person living in this area was that of Stan Petry of Arlington Heights, whose Golden Retriever "Hilite" won the Northwest Obedience club's trophy, awarded to a member or trainee's dog for the highest qualifying score in either of the 2 novice classes.

Dogs and Tranquilizers

Proper training and not tranquilizing should be used to overcome dog's bad habits. While it is true that tranquilizing drugs are being used to allay fear and excitement in dogs, their use should be restricted to unusual situations, not everyday training problems. The purpose of having a dog would be lost if it had to be kept tranquilized all the time.

So much has been written in the past few years about tranquilizers and their use, not only with humans but also other animals, that many people are losing sight of the fact that tranquilizers are not, and certainly should not, take the place of regular outdoor exercise, companionship in the home and with the family and basic behavior training. These are vital elements in keeping the dog, the neighbors and the owner happy.

Dogs, like humans, have psychological problems and these may go back to puppyhood. Barking and howling when left alone, chewing up rugs and other bad habits can have their roots in the mistakes of early training —or the lack of it.

Tranquilizers are useful to veterinarians in minor surgery, in the treatment of ears and the prevention of gnawing or biting at wounds or bandages. In cases where skin diseases are being treated, the use of tranquilizers will help in preventing scratching and biting that slows recovery. When dogs are being shipped, tranquilizers will relieve the anxiety and nervousness. Likewise, dogs that become highly excited or nervous in a car or under other conditions may be helped.

However, "tranquilizers for human use should not be tried on the dog. There are tranquilizers specifically for dogs and even these should be prescribed by the veterinary for the important reason that the amount of drug required depends not only on the size of the dog but also on the degree and what is causing his emotional upset.

Paddock Tournaments Will Mean $750 Prizes

There'll be $750 in prizes in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournaments this year, with an expected $500-plus going to men's teams and $225 going to the ladies.

That's the total cash which will be divided among the various winning positions in the tournaments scheduled for the second and third weekends in January. Men's tournament will be held at Bensenville Bowl Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 11 and 12, with the lady keglers competing Sunday, Jan. 19, at Beverly Lanes.

FIRST PLACE in last year's tournament for the men meant 5 individual trophies, the grand team award, plus $155 in cash. That was over $30 per man. With almost 70 teams expected this year, instead of the 64 of last season, that prize could be upped still more.

Second place meant $103, third $70, fourth $47 and fifth $37. Even eighth spot meant almost $20 to the 5 bowlers. Men's tournament will be a 2-day affair, with first-place teams of all leagues within the direct area served by Paddock Publications as of Dec. 21 eligible to compete.

League secretaries will receive official entry blanks, and notice of the tournament, in about a month. (Sp

Family Service to Fete New Director at Fall Ball

Northwest Family Service association appoined its first full time director at a special board meeting held last week.

She is Mrs. George E. Nicklaus of Arlington Heights, a graduate of sociology and education from Clarke college and holder of a master's degree in social work from Loyola university.

MRS. NICKLAUS will be the featured guest at the fall benefit dance sponsored by Northwest Family Service association to be held in the Mt. Prospect VFW hall October 26.

Tickets will be available at the door or may be purchased from Mrs. George Rudolphy, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Erich Kuntze, Des Plaines; Mrs. Warren Rogers, Mt. Prospect; Robert Huffman, Palatine; or Mrs. Liston Pennington, Rolling Meadows.

NORTHWEST FAMILY Service association is establishing a family counseling service for Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Palatine and Rolling Meadows.

One purpose of the agency will be to contribute toward a harmonious family understanding and relationship, strengthen the positive values in family life and to promote healthy personality development and satisfactory social functioning of various family members.

MRS. NICKLAUS, whose most recent position has been with Evanston Family Service, where she was retained as a case worker and supervisor of Loyola students, was formerly associated with the Milwaukee Red Cross Family Service of Madison, Wis., before joining the staff of Illinois hildrens Home and Aid society in the fields of adoption and foster families.

She has also spent time doing medical social work and student supervision with children's Memorial hospital.

Mrs. Nicklaus is active in Family Service Association of America as well as various organizations in the field of social service work and several university clubs. Mr. Nicklaus is an economist for Universal Oil Products company in Des Plaines. They reside at 631 S. Ridge ave., Arlington Heights.

Gerald Chapman of Arlington Heights, president of Northwest Family Service association, will introduce Mrs. Nicklaus at the benefit dance Saturday night. (AMP

County Official Attacks Zone Decisions of Court

by BOB BUCHANAN

Many of the obnoxious uses of property are the result of declaratory judgments handed down by Circuit courts, Harry F.Chaddick, director of the Cook county zoning study, told 100 key northwest suburban village and township officials Tuesday.

At a meeting of north Cook county local officials with members of the zoning committee to hear about plans for changing the Cook county zoning ordinance originally adopted in 1935, Chaddick remarked that in the judgments handed down there has been "no compatability" with good zoning practices.

MANY PERSONS seeking rezoning by-pass the zoning board of appeals and go to a court for a declaratory judgment to get the property rezoned as they wish. If the decision of the zoning board does not favor the petitioner, he continued, owners also go to court.

It may reach a point where some judge will declare the entire zoning ordinance unconstitutional, Chaddick emphasized. That's why we've got to get busy on this zoning ordinance, he stressed.

In revising its proposed zoning ordinance, Cook county has asked that 2 members of each township and each village be appointed as advisory members in drafting the ordinance.

TUESDAY'S MEETING in the Des Plaines city hall was an attempt to inform the advisory members of what was going on and how they could help.

George H. Kranenberg, technical director of the rezoning program staff, asked that villages cooperate with the county in every way by submitting land use, sewer and water and other data to the county in order that it may attack the problem intelligently.

Unincorporated areas are our most pressing problem, Kranenberg emphasized. Only about 35 per cent of the unincorporated communities have been cataloged for the proposed zoning ordinance.

Kranenberg said it is difficult to contact non-governmental bodies and that the County zoning committee will recognize all groups such as improvement associations in helping work out the new ordinance.

ANDREW Dallstream, chairman of the Cook county zoning board of appeals, explained declaratory judgments further. The practice of getting declaratory judgments in zoning cases has only become prevalent in the last 4 to 5 years, he said.

In such cases the state's attorneys office is appointed to defend the case and in my opinion, Dallstream remarked, cases have not been as vigorously prosecuted as possible.

In an Evanston case there is hope, he added. A declaratory judgment was rendered in Evanston but the case was appealed to the Illinois Supreme court. The court said that a petitioner could not get a declaratory judgment until all other remedies had been exhausted.

Magic Carpet to Mexico

Mexican Family Life Quite Different from American

by KARE NLACINA
(Fourth in a Series)

Family life in Mexico is quite different from that in the United States.

The families are usually quite large and of the Catholic religion. The typical Mexican home is a large house and well-kept garden with high walls surrounding the entire property. The family has many pets; usually they keep several birds, fish, and at least 1 dog, if not more.

In a Mexican family, the mother is the stabilizing and decisive factor, for she directs all household affairs as well as those of all the children.

EVEN AN AVERAGE family in Mexico will have several servants to help run the house; almost every household employs a maid, a cook, and a gardener, and sometimes many more.

The Mexican family is a very close unit and there is much affection shown between the children both towards each other and towards their parents.

The girls of the family are kept at home most of the time when they are not in school, and if they want to have a date, their older brothers must approve of the young man.

Then, when the girl does go out, she always needs a chaperone, sometimes even after she is engaged. Usually when a fellow takes his girl out, he ends up taking half the family along, which leads to the fact that most events are family affairs. This helps the family to know the boy and the boy to acquaint himself with the family.

IT HELPS to have a cook for the Mexican family, for each member has a different time schedule to meet. The younger children who go to school must eat breakfast about 7 but there are some who go to work such as an uncle, aunt, or grandfather who also live there, and perhaps the oldest child, so they eat breakfast around 8 or 9.

The school children return for lunch anytime between 2 and 4 in the afternoon and must go back to school within an hour to attend class until 5 or 6. This means that lunch is served from 2 to 5.

The mid-day meal is the largest meal of the day and consists of soup, rice with bananas, meat with some type of salad, bread, dessert, and a beverage. The same dishes are served for the evening meal at 8 or 9 o'clock but no dessert is served.

Many people think of very hot and spicy foods when they hear of Mexican food, but in reality the only thing that is so hot and spicy is the "picante" or hot sauce which is served separately in a small dish. They also serve the typically Mexican dishes at any meal; they are served whenever the family wants them. By this I mean a person can have "frijoles" or beans and "tortillas," the paper-thin corn bread, 3 meals a day if he likes. Hot milk is popular in the home and the most typical dessert in Mexico is "flan" or our equivalent custard.

THE MEXICAN bakery goods are very popular among North Americans for they are cheap and quite varied. One can enter a bakery, pick up a metal tray and a pair of tongs and move among the large assortment of trays filled with sweetrolls, cookies, and breads choosing anything he wants. If he picks up a large bag full it might cost a peso or so, which is about 8 cents in U. S. currency.

There is always music in a Mexican home whether it be someone singing, the radio or a record player. The teenage girls usually listen to North American songs on the radio and swoon over Elvis, although they claim to like only his songs and not his looks or personality.

I was told that he lost his complete popularity in Mexico by making slurring remarks against Mexican girls.

In the evenings the family watches TV together or has a songfest or sometimes they just sit around and talk. It is not unusual to have fiestas within the family every once in awahile on a Sunday afternoon. Those who wish to dance, dance, those who like to sing, sing, and all the boys in the family dance with all the women including little sister and even Aunt Maria.

There is a very close bond of fellowship among all the members of the family and they really enjoy being together and doing things together. Sometimes the family has an outing, such as a picnic. We accompanied the family we lived with on a picnic to nearby Guernavaca and some natural caves. The family hired a bus, invited many friends of the family and all the students living at the house and started out early one Sunday.

IMMEDIATELY UPON arriving we entered the caves with a guide and I experienced a trip I shall never forget. I have never seen a family, or even a group of people, so interested in such natural wonders. The brothers argued over which was the most phenomenal cavern and which was the best formation. They discussed the history of the place as they helped all the women in the group over all the slippery rocks and dangerous steps.

I remember one of the brothers exclaiming with sincere concern just after he had helped me over what they called "chicle pass" (chicle is gum), "Who's with mother?" Then, after making sure she was safely escorted by another brother, we proceeded.

Another popular diversion among Mexican families is grand fiestas which are more involved than the Sunday afternoon get-togethers.

Several families join forces and throw a big party for the members and friends of all the families. These parties consist of dancing, conversing among the older folks, and sometimes games thought up by the youngsters.

The refreshments are usually very typically Mexican, such as tamales and chocolate, or sometimes the hostess will serve a complete meal. This type of party gives the girls in the family a chance to meet other young people, usually boys, their own age under approved circumstances and gives the parents a chance to renew friendships.

SOMETIMES, although very seldom, the family will go to the show together, but the main diversions are found right in the home. Playing with the new puppy or shopping for a new plant for the house are all family affairs. The men folks of the family are sports-minded and go to a "place of sports" on Saturdays.

These "places" have swimming pools, basketball courts, fronton courts, in fact they are like giant playgrounds. Consequently, even Uncle Mariano, at age 52, is just as lively as ever and looks the picutre of youth.

The Mexican family is close, full of affection and the music of a happy life although this family, as any family, has difficulties, but they more or less sing their troubles away.

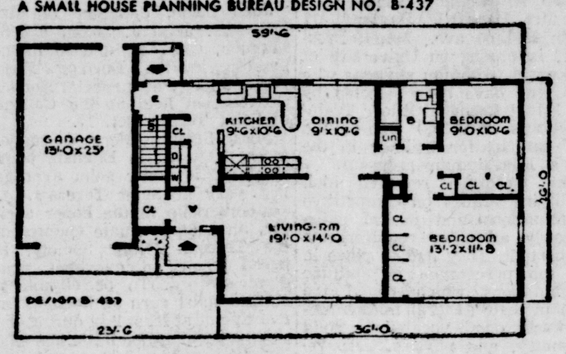
A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-437



DESIGN B-437. Here is an excellent plan for a small home that provides unusual convenience and good traffic flow. Its hub is the rear entry with access to the garage, full basement, utility room and kitchen. The utility room has a closet, washer and dryer and acts as passage to the front door.

The large master bedroom features generous wardrobe facilities with built-in dresser trays.

The exterior is clean-cut and well designed with hip roof, wide siding and attractive front entry with a touch of stone and a planting box.

Floor area is 1,111 sq. ft., cubage is 20,553 cu. ft.

For further information about Design B-437, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Five Motorists Lose Licenses

Five area motorists had their drivers or chauffeurs' licenses revoked or suspended during the past week, Secretary of State Charles Carpentier announced this week.

They are among 117 drivers in Illinois who had their licenses revoked and 88 who had them suspended.

Two had their licenses revoked and 3 had them suspended. Two of the licenses were chauffeurs' licenses.

MARCELLA R. Antonovich, 352 S. Beverly, Arlington Heights, had her driver's license revoked and Willard L. Schert, 138 S. Northwest hwy., Barrington, had his chauffeur's license revoked. Both were convicted of driving while intoxicated.

Brucke R. Balko, 2935 Keopke, Northbrook, and John C Doherty, 338 Derbyshire, Arlington Heights, had their drivers' licenses suspended for 3 moving violations. William G. Rutkofski. 83 S. Milwaukee ave., Wheeling, had his chauffeur's license suspended for 3 violations. (B-8

Church Federation Starts Survey of Northwest Area

A survey of church affiliation is being conducted in Mt. Prospect and elsewhere in the northwest suburbs to determine the need or new churches.

The survey is announced as being for the purpose of determinating need to care for present and future expansion in population in northwest Cook county, specifically in northwest Park Ridge, south Mt. Prospect, Dunhurst and Hoffman Estates.

COOPERATING denominations include the Presbyterian U.S.A., Baptist, Congregational, Christian, Evangelical Reformed, United Presbyterian, Church of the Brethren, Disciples of Christ, Society of Friends and Evangelical United Brethren.

Through the Church Federation of Greater Chicago, it was agreed that new churches should be established in the fast-growing northwest suburbs.

IT WAS ALSO agreed that the Methodists should accept this responsibility. In the future, other areas of need will be assigned to the various denominations cooperating.

Methodist churches in the Northern district are therefore taking the census. Rev. Richard F. Meller, 670 Kenilworth, Glen Ellyn, is in charge of the initial organization. (B8

At Wisconsin

Alan A. Ragland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Ragland, 417 South Hi-Lusi ave., Mount Prospect, is among 50 University of Wisconsin freshman students who this year have been selected by the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps (NROTC) unit on the UW campus for training in the unit's Midshipman program.

The freshmen received high qualifying grades on competitive examinations and passed satisfactorily all other requirements of the unit. They had to place in the top percentage in aptitude examinations which tested the men in their general mathematical background, vocabulary, solid geometry, and physics. Also required by the NROTC unit is that all candidates be in excellent physical condition.

After a four year course in conjunction with their regular University studies, the men are commissioned Ensigns in the Naval Reserve. For 6 weeks between their junior and senior years at the University, they participate in a cruise aboard one of the navy's ships in the Atlantic fleet. (CC

At Taylor

Twenty-five students from Illinois have enrolled at Taylor University for the fall semester, which began the 112th academic year of the college.

A new enrollment record of 593 has been reached this year, with an increase of nearly 6 per cent above last year. All housing facilities available to students on and near campus are now in use.

Marion J. Ward of Box 75, Prairie View, is among new students. (CC

At Saint Teresa

Joan Solon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Solon, 614 S. Mitchell, was admitted to membership in the Burning Bush Honor Society at a special Honors Convocation held at the College of Saint Teresa Oct. 17.

Miss Schermetzler, a sophomore majoring in English, compiled a 2.79 honor point average last year at Saint Teresa's.

Membership in the honor society, an undergraduate chapter of the Teresan Honor Society, is based upon an excellent academic record. To be eligible a student must earn an honor point average of at least 2.50 during the year preceding her initiation. The highest average, 3.00, is possible only if a student has earned an A grade in each course carried.

A total of 23 students were initiated into the organization at the all-college convocation. (CC

At Vassar

Marcia Appeltofft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric O. Appeltofft, formerly of 206 E. Chicago ave., Palatine, and now of Decatur, Ala., has been elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa on the basis of 3 years' work at Vassar college, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Miss Appeltofft, a senior who has made mathematics her central field of study, has twice been named to the honors list at Vassar. She prepared for college at Croton-Harmon high school, Croton, N. Y. (CC

At Purdue

John E. Igoe, Arlington Heights in the school of agricultural engineering at Purdue university, has been accepted for membership in the Purdue "All-American" Marching Band. He will appear with the Purdue Band at the home football games and will also travel with the Purdue Band to East Lansing, Mich. for the Michigan State game on October 19, to Columbus, Ohio for the Ohio State game on November 9 and to Bloomington, Indiana for the Indiana University game on November 23. (CC

At Illinois

Charles Gibfried, 50 W. Comfort st., Palatine, is treasurer of the Interfraternity Council at the University of Illinois.

Represented on the council are the 58 undergraduate social fraternities at Illinois—more than on any other campus. As their governing body, the council outlines general policies for the fraternities. It was founded in 1912.

Gibfried, 21, a senior in the college of commerce and business administration, is vice-president of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

At Illinois

Bob Haskins, sophomore at University of Illinois, Chicago, has been elected vice-president of the Student Congress. Bob, an engineering major, graduated from Arlington High School in 1956. His party, formed entirely of engineers, won by a landslide. This is the first time in the history of U.I.C. that engineers have headed the student congress. He was also vice president of Student Council at Arlington high school.

At Colorado

Now a pledge to Delta Delta Delta sorority is Sheila Kutchera, enrolled as a freshman at the University of Colorado in Boulder, Colo.

In a recent election of dormitory officers, Sheila was voted secretary of her dormitory wing, known as the Baca wing of Libby Hall where she lives.

Sheila is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kutchera, 802 S. Vail, Arlington Heights. (CC

At Dubuque

Joe Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Campbell, 41 S. Ridge in Arlington Heights, was recently named to the presidency of the Iowa College Newspapers conference.

Campbell, a junior at the University of Dubuque, Dubuque, Iowa, is currently co-editor of the University's paper, the CUE.

At a meeting held on the campus of the State University of Iowa on October 12, editors of Iowa college papers got together for a workshop and business meeting. Campbell is a 1955 graduate of Arlington High School. His father is the city home delivery manager of the Chicago Daily News. (CC

At Illinois

Ann Whiteley, 102 Eastwood, Mt. Prospect, and Dean Skadberg, 331 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights, are freshmen staff members of the University of Illinois Concert and Entertainment board which sponsors the Star Course entertainment series on campus.

The Star Course, in its 67th year, includes artists and leading organizations in the fields of music, drama and dance on its programs. The organization is operated on a non-profit basis and is run almost entirely by students.

This year's program includes the NBC Opera Company, the Bach Aria Group with Jan Pierce and the Minneapolis Symphony.

At Drake

Sally Van Oosten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Van Oosten 600 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, has been invited to join the Drake Descendants club.

The Drake Descendants club is a new organization sponsored by the Drake National Alumni Association for students whose parents or grandparents attended Drake.

Miss Van Oosten is a second generation student. Her father attended Drake. She is a freshman in Drake's college of liberal arts.

At Wisconsin

Two students from Mt. Prospect, are among the 314 students at the University of Wisconsin who were recently pledged to the Wisconsin chapters of 30 different fraternities on the Wisconsin campus.

The Mt. Prospect students are Alan Ragland, 417 S. Hi-Lusi ave., and Alan Smith, 14 N. Elm, both pledged to Phi Gamma Delta.

Property Tax Dodgers Are Parley Topic

A report on property tax dodging in Arlington high school district 214 will be given at the first fall meeting of the Arlington Area Educators' council November 6.

The council, composed of school board members and school administrators in the high school district, will meet in the cafeteria of the new Prospect high school on Foundry rd. in Mt. Prospect.

The board president of each district will briefly report on developments in his district since the last meeting and there will be another report on a survey of tax assessment practices made last summer. (B8

At Rockford

Harry V. Anderson, assistant director of admissions at the Rockford Colleges, Rockford, Illinois, will visit Palatine high school Tuesday, November 5.

Anderson will welcome inquiries from students interested in attending The Rockford Colleges. Current enrollment is equally divided between men and women.

At Colorado

Sheila Kutchera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kutchera, 802 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, was recently pledged to Delta Delta Delta sorority, at the University of Colorado in Boulder where she is a freshman.

Sheila, a graduate of Arlington high school, was also elected secretary of Baca Wing at Libby hall, her dormitory. (CC

At Culver-Stockton

Dave Kaczmarek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kaczmarek, 600 S. Can-Dota, Mt. Prospect, has pledged Mu Theta Nu fraternity at Culver-Stockton college.

Kaczmarek, a freshman at Culver-Stockton, will undergo a 6 week pledge training before becoming active in the group. (CC

At Culver-Stockton

Dave Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Theodore Nelosn, 205 Wa-Pella avenue, Mt. Prospect, has pledged Lambda Chi Alpha at Culver-Stockton college.

OK Fred Harvey Toll Restaurants

The Illinois Toll Highway commission has approved selection of the Fred Harvey company to operate 5 "over-the-tollway" restaurants which are to be built by Standard Oil (Indiana) in accordance with a previous agreement.

The action involved commission approval of a contract between Fred Harvey and Standard Oil company of Indiana under which Fred Harvey will handle the restaurant concession. The commission, however, will retain certain supervisory rights over the operation of the restaurants.

CHARLES L. DEARING, executive director of the commission, reported that the selection was the result of several months of negotiations which the commission's administrative staff has carried on with 16 potential restaurateurs and 16 petroleum companies. "As a result of this agreement, we believe that Illinois' 187 miles of tollways will provide the motoring public with the best possible restaurant and service station facilities and that the revenues to the commission will be in conformance with the estimates on which the bond resolution was based," Dearing said.

STANDARD OIL of Indiana will build 5 "over-the-tollway" restaurants, each with 2 adjoining service stations, at a cost of approximately $13,000,000. Two of the restaurants and service areas will be located on the North Illinois Tollway--one near Belvidere and one near O'Hare airport. Three restaurants and service stations will be located on the Tri-State Tollway--one just west of Lake Forest, one near Hinsdale, and one just west of the Calumet Expressway.

In another action, the commission approved the general plans and specifications for the design of the restaurant and service facilities. This will enable Standard Oil company to proceed immediately with construction of the buildings which is expected to begin early in November. Grading and preparation of the areas involved have previously been undertaken by the commission.

Barrington Disconnection Approved by County Court

(CNS)--Cook County Judge Otto Kerner, as expected, has signed an order disconnecting all of Barrington township from the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago.

The order included the Cook county side of the village of Barrington.

THE MOVE was not opposed by the metropolitan sanitary district which has no lines serving the area.

The disconnection was the first since the November referendum that extended the metropolitan district's boundaries over almost all of Cook county, including Barrington township.

The village of Barrington wanted to withdraw because it has its own sewage treatment plant financed by a sewer charge against all property owners.

THUS, those on the Cook county side would have paid taxes twice, with nothing in return for money supporting the metropolitan district.

Those in the township faced the same situation, except they have septic tanks instead of a treatment plant. The rolling countryside area contains many large estates and the newly incorporated village of Barrington Hills.

Attorney Thomas A. Matthews handled the disconnection move for the village and the law firm of Defrees, O'Brien, Thompson and Simmons for the township.

Recent legislation permits disconnection of 10 or more acres on the edge of a sanitary district.

Judge Kerner said the disconnection in this case leaves no area served by the metropolitan district isolated from it. (B8

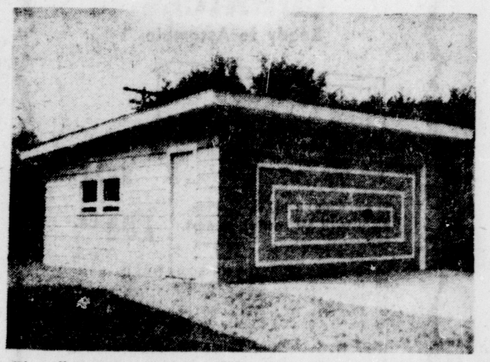
This attractive car and a half garage is also Modified Colonial in design. The interesting extension of the front gable and the exciting design on the overhead door add much more to its beauty than their cost.



The flat top roof on this garage not only adds the modern touch, but also cuts construction costs. A single overhead door, with futura design, adds to the "modern as tomorrow" appearance of this garage.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Would it be all right for my husband to wear a brown business suit to a late afternoon wedding, since he is not a member of the wedding party?

A. This would be quite proper.

Q. What are some suggestions for appetizers at a cocktail party?

A. Simplest, of course, are peanuts, olives, pretzels, and cheese crackers. If you want to be more elaborate, you can serve small sandwiches of various kinds—and the modern cookbooks are full of suggestions on his.

Q. Is it the man's or the woman's place to make the move to stop for conversation when they meet on the street?

A. Either one may do this.

Q. What is the difference between a formal and informal tea?

A. The decorations of the informal tea are not so elaborate and the refreshments are more simple. The hostess at an informal tea mingles with her guests and does not remain at the door to greet each newcomer.

Q. A close friend of mine recently eloped. Would it be proper for me to give a shower for her, even though she is already married?

A. This would be a very nice gesture on your part, especially since she probably will not receive very many wedding presents.

Finishing School for Dogs Keeps Swedish Pets Proper

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Is your dog naughty? Does he growl at friends, wag his tail at burglars and try to bite the local policeman?

Stockholm's new "Finishing School for Dogs" cures all that. Positively the finest canine education for the common dog is now available at prices for the common master.

"GRANTED," states kennel-chief Svennson, "our pupils turn out to be snobs, but remember that pride is what we want them to have. The whip then becomes unnecessary."

The full course lasts 3 months and 10 days. The 3 quarter course, equivalent in human terms to the grammar school education, warrants no diploma but guarantees no unnecessary night-barking or other such disturbances.

The cost of the complete 100-day course is $250, exclusive of board and lodging. During the latter 25 days, the dog may live at home, commuting daily to school.

THE COURSE includes: street behavior (no yanking on the leash, no unpleasant remarks or murmuring growls to passing dogs br cats, only the use of hydrants and lampposts while avoiding wall corners and automobile tires), personal cleanliness (no rolling around on one's back in earth, composure while being bathed by master), table manners (while master is eating), the appropriate use of bark and growl (no fanatic prejudice to certain of master's friends, respect for police officers plus the exercise of teeth — not tail — when a burglar shows up).

COURTING MEMBERS of the opposite sex, since it is a matter of individual viewpoint as to what is proper, is not part of the standard curriculum. Promiscuity and "directness of approach" are two characteristics, however, that are considered incurable in all male animals except the human.

Stockholm's "Finishing School for Dogs," only 1 week after opening, is unable to accept more students for this term. The demand for canine culture has been unexpectedly great. (B12

RECEIVING CONGRATULATIONS from her husband is Mrs. Hilda Harkness, 160 S. Center st., Bensenville, winner of a $1000 "paid up" charge account at Carson, Pirie Scott and co. She won the prize in a contest sponsored by Chicago area Jewel Food stores.

Halloween Hi-Jinks Provide Dangers for Kids to Avoid

Roasting marshmallows over a bonfire, bobbing for apples in a tub of water, trick-or-treatin' at the neighbor's house and hoping you won't be asked for the "pay" — a dance, song or poem — for the treat.

All this is Halloween, a once-a-year occasion when Johnny and Mary can fill their paper sacks with a collection of goodies even the heartiest of appetites can barely dent.

HALLOWEEN—a night when bedtime is moved back an hour (or two, if you protest enough), a night when small spooks slither through the streets of Pumpkin Center, Cal., Skull Creek, Colo., and Treat, Ark. — and most places in between.

The originators of the observance of All Saints Day probably never realized how the eve would be marked in the 20th Century.

And for sure, they never realized the dangers of Halloween hijinks.

THE HOLIDAY, the National Safety council points out, can be full of fun for youngsters if a few simple precautions are followed.

No one wants a repetition of the tragedy in Seattle, Wash., when a youngster's Halloween mask slippd, blinding his view of an onrushing auto.

How can parents make this Oct. 31 safe from Halloween hazards?

BY BUYING THEIR children light-colored costumes, for one, the Council says. They're easier to see at night.

For another, by making sure the outfits aren't tripping hazards and that they are flameproof.

Other tips:

1. Masks are dangerous because they restrict vision. They're also hot and scratchy, so kids will welcome a painted false face. A little rouge, eyebrow pencil, and mustache stick can make children miniature ghosts, goblins, pirates or clowns — but with the added safety factor of allowing them to see danger in time to avoid it.

2. USE A flashlight instead of a candle in jack-o'-lanterns.

3. Remind children that on Halloween, as during the rest of the year, safety precautions should be observed. No dashing from between parked cars, no playing in streets, no crossing streets without first looking both ways.

4. To make doubly sure motorists can see costumed children, put reflectorized tape or bands on their outfits. A Cleveland, Ohio, radio station came up with a novel idea that drew praise from parents everywhere — a reflectorized paper pumpkin for pasting on trick-or-treat bags. The pumpkin gave off a yellow glow in auto headlights.

Further, grownups can help make Oct. 31 accident-free, the Council says, if they will:

1. Light porches so trick-or-treaters won't trip in the dark.

2. Watch out for disguised dangers in the streets — logs, barrels or piles of leaves, for example — that may conceal pranksters.

rapnsk praknsers.t phrdlaooro

3. Tie white strips of cloth on wires or ropes surrounding newly planted trees.

* * *

4. TAKE INDOORS any objects that may tempt vandals and be turned into safety hazards. In this category are barrels, trash cans, lawn mowers and bicycles.

5. If, despite your precautions, your car windows get soaped, take time out before driving to clean them.

Most of the autumn antics, the Council agrees, are good for laughs. But many can lead to accidents.

"Have fun, but don't let your guard down," it advises.

Transportation Is Area Problem

(CNS)—Chicago must sell the suburbs and downstate that shouldering the financial dilemma of mass transportation systems will benefit all concerned.

Members of the new State Mass Transportation Committee were agreed on this at their first meeting in Chicago.

OBSERVORS SAW little hope of changing the situation requiring a choice between heretofore among the majority equally undesirable alternatives--a transit tax aid of some sort or watch mass transportation companies go out of business.

Committee members, however, avoided use of the word "subsidization," an idea killed in the last session of the legislature. The committee is to hand its findings to the next session of the state body for action.

Sen. Elroy C. Sandquist Sr. (R., Chicago), said, "We must sell the people of the state that the mass transportation problem, can, must, and will be solved."

" I KNOW," SAID William J. Mortimer, Cook county highway superintendent, "that there's been a cleavage between Chicago and the suburbs on mass transportation. But this is not Chicago's problem alone. It's a metropolitan area problem.

"I don't see, economically, how the suburbs and downstate areas can let mass transportation facilities go out of business. They won't realize the full import of this until the service no longer is there." (B12

Tool Demonstration At Hardware Store

Freitag Hardware, Westgate Park & Shop, Arlington Heights, will be the scene of the Black and Decker demonstration Saturday. Factory representatives will show all of the newest tools for do-it-yourselfers.

Harold Freitag of the hardware store also announced that Black and Decker demonstrators are available without charge to any men's organization in the area. Arrangements for such a program may be made through Freitag.

WHY ARE THERE SO MANY KINDS AND PRICES OF 35 MM CAMERAS?

There are 4 major types. The eyelevel "candid" cameras of the Leica-Nikon-Contax class all have direct, eyelevel viewfinding, rapid-action performance and, usually interchangeability of lenses. These cameras share the fastest lenses (f/1.4 to f/3.5); shutter speeds from one to 1/1000th of a second in a focal plane, and one to 1/300th in between-the-lens shutters. The price of these cameras range from $25 up to $450. The folding bellows design such as the Retina or the Super Regent is the most compact, practical arrangement for general outdoor work and indoor photography with flash. The shutters are between the lens, while the speeds range from one to 1/500th; and prices are $30 to $200.

WAIST-LEVEL reflex miniatures like the Exakta and the Praktiflex offer ground glass for focusing; focal plane shutters from one to 1/1000th; lenses from f/1.9 to f/3.5; and prices from $50 to $400. Eyelevel reflex cameras have a prism system so ground glass can be studied while the camera is held to the eye. These cameras usually cost from $75 to $200.

WHAT ARE THE ADVANTAGES OFFERED BY THE 35 MM CAMERA?

The 35mm camera has proven to be the ideal camera where factors of portability, economy of operation, effectiveness in weak light and versatility in use are most important. Most miniature cameras can fit into a coat pocket, and each can load a cassette of up to 36 pictures (and over 50 in some cameras). Film, loaded from bulk rolls at home, costs under 1 cent a frame. Factory-load cartridges, universally available, cost about 3 cents a frame, and color film can cost as little as 5 cents a frame.

THE SMALL SIZE of the 35mm camera has permitted optical engineers to design for these cameras exclusively the most efficient light gathering lenses in all of still photography. The short focal length of these lenses has given miniature photography incredibly deep focus control. Systems of interchangeable lenses and related auxiliary equipment have given the miniature camera a roll in the studio, the laboratory, the home and outdoors in a way that no other camera design can match. These cameras also have been the basis for the growth of color slide photography. In fact, many people use the camera only for color.

Age of Split Personalities

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

There are people who put on an act all of their lives, and find satisfaction in doing it. People who live dual lives, knowing what they are, yet concealing it by hiding their real personalities.

Some folks put on the act of being wealthier than they are, and do so well that they sometimes fool themselves, until their creditors carry out their furniture because of unpaid balances due.

ACTUALLY, SO well do people act that few suspect all of their tragedy and unhappiness, evil thoughts, or perhaps even the actual beauty of some of their characters. Saints are often hidden from view by the convertness of their benevolences and their natural modesty. And den from public view by the sinners often wrap their bestiality and cupidity in the sanctity of the church.

There are persons continually torn between inner urges which could lead them into great trouble, and an honest desire to live an ideal life. They act the ideal, while fighting the strong urges within them, and the world does not and never will know the price they pay in their fight to be on God's side.

NO PERSON ever lived who has lived an uninteresting, undivided life. There are triumphs and defeats in every person's life which would match the interest of any best selling novel, if the world could ever know. I have never talked with an uninteresting person; for while what a person says may seem uninteresting or dull, the speculation as to what makes him say what he does, and the search for clews in the expression of his face, and the inflection of his voice as he unrolls his act, and the consideration of what I know of his habits can give rise to endless speculation, and often some most enlightening conclusions.

Shakespeare was right when he said: "All the world's a stage, and all the people merely actors." What you are, and the person you try to lead others to think you are are often 2 different persons.

Folk Musicians to Open Community Concert Series

The first concert of the 1957-58 season of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association will be held in the Arlington High School gymnasium at 8:15 p.m. Sunday.

The series of 5 concerts will end with the Indianapolis Symphony orchestra of 87 pieces.

The attraction Sunday is Archer and Gile, a duo excelling in their chosen field.

Frances Archer and Beverly Gile who bring their popular program to Arlington Heights have added a new dimension to the old and respected art of folk music.

Youth and glamour a la Archer and Gile is the new element which, combined with stylish musicianship and an unusual repertoire of folk ballads in 13 languages, has made this talented pair a refreshing adition to conpair a refreshing addition to contry.

"They are comely, beautifully gowned and groomed young ladies who have a way with a song," said the New York Times after their Town Hall recital debut.

THE MISSES Archer and Gile first joined musical forces in 1950 when they were members of a quintet of girl singers who appeared in night clubs and theatres throughout the United States. For 2 years they polished their performance, then began their successful career.

The young ladies have made television appearances on such wldely different programs as the Arthur Godfrey Show, Dave Garroway's "Today", "Omnibus", Steve Allen's "Tonight", and Walt Disney's "Mickey Mouse Club." They are radio performers and recording stars.

The doors will be open at 7:30 p.m. Admission is by membership card only. (B8

Suburban Obedience Club Holds Dinner and Meeting

Two hundred dog owners attended the fourth annual dinner of the Northwest Obedience Club of Suburban Chicago at Glendale country club, Bloomingdale, Saturday evening.

After dinner the president, David W. Terrill of Palatine welcomed the guests and turned the program over to the master of ceremonies, Becher W. Hungerford of Barrington. Special guests were introduced, including 8 obedience judges from the Chicago and suburban areas. Officers of Northwest were introduced as well as the dinner chairman, Mrs. Dee Muster of Bensenville, and her committee.

President Terrill and Joseph Mertens of Elgin director of training, presented plaques to members who, with their dogs, had received CD (Companion Dog) and CDX (Companion Dog Excellent) degrees in the past year. Also presented was the Will Judy award of distinction to Patricia Biringer, 14, of Palatine, whose german shepherd, "Derrine," obtained her CD degree in 3 obedience trials with no score under 195.

Music for dancing was furnished by the Twi-Liters.

The club's annual meeting will be held Friday, Oct. 25, at 8:30 p.m., in the offices of Printing Practical Offset, Inc., 302 N. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, owned by members Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schmidt. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Willard Platt of Palatine and Mrs. Charles Berry of Arlington Heights. (A-12

I'LL TELL YOU HOW I FOUND MY LOST DOG

It was a three line Paddock Publications Want Ad in the "Lost and Found" classification that helped me find my dog.

The cost was low and it was no time at all until I got the results I had hoped for and had my dog home again safely.

Anytime you lose something or find something of value that another may have lost, the Paddock Publications Want Ads is the place to let people know.

Lessons In English

Often Misused

Do not say, "He is the one whom I think was there." Say, "He is the one WHO I think was there."

The statement, 'I shall see you IN ten minutes," implies at the expiration of ten minutes. "I shall see you WITHIN ten minutes" means sometime within the limit of ten minutes.

Do not say, 'That company has a complete monopoly on the production of this item." Omit "complete," which is tautological.

The expression, 'to contact," with the meaning of "to communicate with" (a person) is not good usage, although it has wide colloquial use in business.

Do not say, 'She is one of the girls who is going to work for us." Say, "She is one of the girls who ARE going to work for us."

Say, "I thank you for ADVISING me," when referring to counsel. Say, "I thank you for INFORMING me," when referring merely to information imparted.

Do not say, "After she had sat her guests, she served the dinner." Say, "After she had seated her guests."

Do not say, "The building was razed to the ground.' "To the ground" is tautological, as "raze" means to level to the ground. Merely say, "The building was razed."

Distinguish between "conscious" and "aware." We are conscious of what we perceive or feel within ourselves. We are aware of what goes on about us. One may be conscious of fear, but not altogether aware of the dangers about one.

Do not say, "The actor wore a toupee on his head." Omit "on his head," for where else could a toupee be worn?

Often Mispronounced

Aqueduct. Pronounce ack-wee-dukt, accent on first syllable.

Integral. Pronounce in-tee-gral, accent on first syllable.

Lineage (family). Pronounce in three syllables as lin-ee-ij, accent on first syllable.

Hyssop (shrub). Pronounce hiss-up, accent first syllable.

Photogravure. Pronounce foh-toh-grah-vyur, principal accent on last syllable.

Orotund. Pronounce oh-roh-tund, accent on first syllable.

Environment. Pronounce en-vie-run-ment, in four syllables, and not en-vier-ment.

Temporarily. Principal accent is on first syllable, secondary accent on third syllable.

Nuptial. Pronounce nup-shall, and not nup-chall.

Duress. Pronounce dyu-ress, accent on first syllable.

Often Misspelled

Illusive (unreal), two "l's"; elusive (evasive), only one "l." Apotheosis (exaltation to the rank of a god); observe the vowels. Reconnoiter; one "c," two "n's." Siliceous (flinty); cilicious (made of hair). Insulate (to isolate); insolate (to expose to the sun's rays). Specie (money); species (kind or class).

Fuchsia (shrub); observe the "chs," pronounced fyu-sha.

Derring-do (daring action); not "daring-do." Appellation; two "p's" and two "l's." Protege (masculine); protegee (feminine). Divisible (capable of being divided); devisable (capable of being contrived). Creditor, observe the "or"; arbiter, observe the "er."

slander, observe the "er." Dominoes, "oes"; dynamos, "os." Intense (extreme); intents (designs). "Mesdames" is the correct plural form of "Madame." Accidentally, not accidently. Underrate; observe the two "r's."

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Abrade; to wear off or down by fraction; scrape off. "A file was used to abrade the excess thickness of the steel shaft."

Appetency; strong natural craving; appetite; intense desire. (Accent is on first syllable). "Her appetency for sweets was obvious as she mounted the scales."

Vitiated (adjective); spoiled; corrupted; rendered invalid. (Pronounce vish-i-ait-ed, accent on first syllable). "Years of corrupt government had left the country in a vitiated condition."

Antipodal; on opposite sides of the earth. (Accent is on second syllable). "Missionaries were sent to several antipodal countries in the Orient."

Inexorable; not to be moved by entreaty; relentless. (Accent second syllable). "He is an inexorable judge."

Nihilism; a doctrine which denies any objective or real ground of truth. (Pronounce nigh-i-liz'm, accent first syllable).

Dudgeon; ill humor. (pronounce duh-junn, accent first syllable). "The family had to tolerate the dudgeon of the father."

Deem; to form or have an opinion; judge. "Proceed, if you deem it wise."

Chaotic; completely confused; disordered. (Pronounce kay-ott-ick, accent on seond syllable). "He brought the country out of its chaotic condition."

Tincture (verb); to imbue; flavor; impregnate. "His mind was tinctured with a distinguishing sense of good and evil."

Implicate; to bring into connection with; to involve. "Upon further investigation, it was found that several men were implicated in the scheme."

Eminent Domain; the right of government to appropriate property for public use. "By virtue of its powers of eminent domain, the city was able to build many beautiful parks." (B12

Sapience; quality of being wise. (Pronounce say-pi-ens, accent first syllable). "Sapience is acquired through observation, study, and experience."

Inextricable; incapable of being disentangled. (Accent is on second syllable). "He found himself in difficulties that seemed inextricable."

Nugatory; worthless; useless. (Pronounce nyu-ga-toh-ri, accent first syllable). "Advice can become nugatory when given too freely or too often."

Algid; cool; chilly. (Pronounce al-jid, accent on first syllable). "In the mountain regions, the nights are algid."

Recidivism; repeated or habitual relapse into crime. (Pronounce ree-sid-i-viz'm, accent second syllable). "Parole officers aid in preventing recidivism among parolees."

Exigency; urgent want. (Accent first syllable). "There is scarcely any exigency where caution should not be supplemented by a certain amount of boldness."

Iniquity; gross injustice; wickedness. "They will be punished for their iniquity."

Assiduous; performed with constant diligence or attention. "He was assiduous in his pursuit of success."

Doughty; valiant; able. (Pronounce dou-ti, accent first syllable). "The doughty soldier was decorated for his achievements."

Intrepid; void of fright or trembling. "The position calls for intrepid leadership."

Esoteric (secret). Pronounce ess-oh-tehr-ick, accent on third syllable.

Venial (excusable). Pronounce vee-ni-al, accent on first syllable.

Versatile. Pronounce last syllable as "till," not as "tile."

OFTEN MISSPELLED

Weigh, "ei;" wield, "ie." Tranquil, one "l;" tranquillity, two "L's." Pretension, "sion;" pretentious, "tious." Tenor (course; also, male singing voice); tenure (act of holding.) Sheath (the noun); sheathe (the verb). Ammonia, two "m's;" amethyst, one "m."

Distinguish between "fondling" (one who or that which is fondled or carressed) and "Foundling" (an infant found after its unknown parents have deserted it).

Fellow Traveler

Ponse de Leon accompanied Christopher Columbus on his second voyage to America.

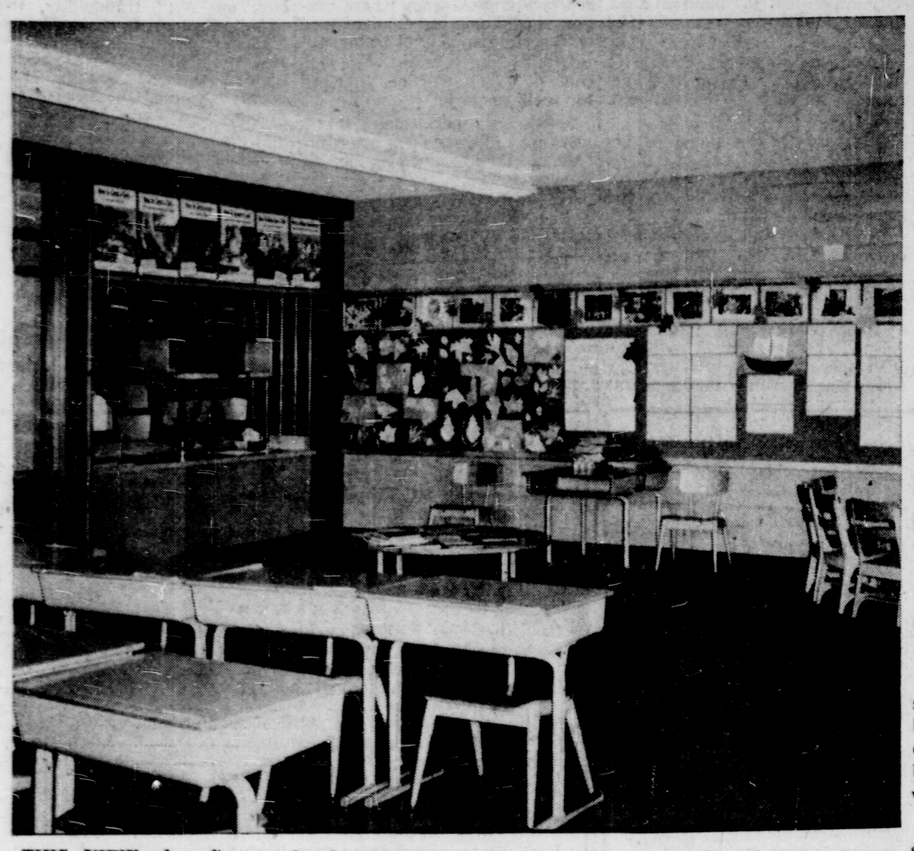
Schools Combine Function, Looks



THIS VIEW of a first grade classroom at Westgate includes the table and chair seating units, corkboard display areas, the sink and formica counters which are used for science and art teaching, a portion of the cupboard storage area, and the library table which is put to good use in reading instruction.

Two new buildings strictly tailored to the needs of Arlington Heights elementary school system yet incorporating many elements of attractive design were viewed by 600 persons Sunday.

An estimated 400 parents and interested citizens toured Miner junior high school's open house and about half that number visited Westgate school.

Several years of intensive planning on the part of school officials and architects Ganster and Henighausen preceded breaking of ground last fall. The 2 buildings combine the ideas of leading school planning authorities with the demands for more school facilities now and in the future.

Heating plants and other utilities are more than adequate for immediate needs.

Both schools will be built in several stages and the school board expects the cost of later additions to be proportionately less because such provisions for them were included in the first units.

Cost of the 6-room Westgate school was $153,274, which figures out to $25,545 per classroom, $730 per pupil and $15.30 per square foot, according to the board.

ESTIMATED cost of the junior high school, with 21 rooms, was $686,910. The board said the comparable statistics were $32,710 per teaching station, $1,270 per student and $14.10 per square foot.

The Miner school, with a stage, cafeteria and gymnasium in the first unit, is particularly well suited to use by parent-teacher and other civic groups. The stage separates the gymnasium from the cafeteria, with the stage open at both ends and curtained all around so that audiences may use either room or both.

Grouped at the opposite end are classrooms, library, offices, health room and rooms for counseling and speech correction. School authorities point out 2 advantages of this arrangement:

Activities requiring quiet are separated from those which create considerable noise and pupils do less traveling around the building because one-half of the day is spent in the classroom wing, the other half in the other wing.

The 17-acre site on the corner of Miner ave. and Dryden pl., will eventually contain buildings for 1,500 students, with a school for 600 children in kindergarten and primary grades to be built there shortly. Later the 540-student junior high school will have its capacity raised to 900.

PRESENT PLANNING calls for construction of a 2-story wing at Westgate school to serve the rapidly growing southwest section of Arlington Heights.

The wing would be extended southward from the lobby to form a tri-level building in an L-shape. It would provide more classrooms plus a library, multi-purpose room for teachers, nurse, speech correctionist and visiting counselor.

The basic featues of the buildings are similar to those of all buildings designed by Ganster & Henninghausen, starting with the Dryden school. Exterior walls are of brick with large areas of glass, especially near the entrance areas. Interior partitions are of cement block and an occasional wall section of brick to lend color to the decorative treatment.

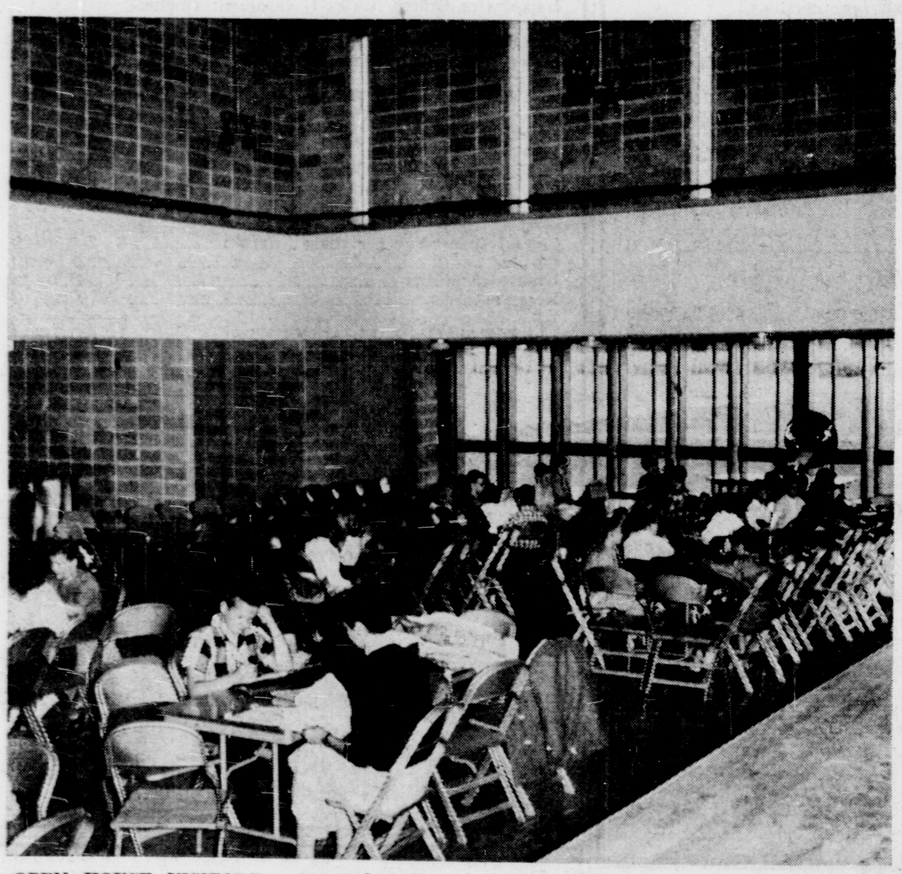
THE FOYER of the Miner school is striking, with the approaching visitor seeing through a double glass-walled corridor into an open court. Here as elsewhere, the walls of glass give a grill effect because of the distinctive birch veneer framework.

Within offices, wood panels are employed for contrast with the plainness of the cement block walls. The blocks remain unpainted at Miner school because of the $7,000 cost of painting proved to be more than the construction budget could stand. They will probably be painted later, however.

Although the buildings increased the system's capacity by 750 students, school officials are already looking ahead. They have to provide a classroom for the pupils who are—but shouldn't be—housed in the Miner school library.

LEARNING TO COOK and sew in this atmosphere might even be a joy to housewives! The Miner junior high school girls are finding the task of breaking in this new equipment to be a most joyful and exciting one. Each girl receives instruction in cooking and sewing daily for a period of 13 weeks each year.



OPEN HOUSE VISITORS commented most frequently on the cheerful atmosphere of the cafeteria at Miner school. The room is used as a study hall, for band practice and choral rehearsal, as well as an eating area. The stage (not shown) is located between the gym and the cafeteria and may be opened to an audience in either location.

KINDERGARTEN ROOM at the Westgate school includes a low counter for the handy storage of toys and other equipment. The sink, counters and coat hooks are all scaled to the height of the 5-year-old. A folding door separates 2 kindergarten rooms and can be opened to accommodate evening meetings.

MAPS, CHALKBOARD, and globes in the background, attest to the fact that the Miner junior high school library is needed for classroom use. It is currently being scheduled for language arts - social studies and mathmatics classroom during 5 of the 7 periods in the school day. The remaining time is reserved for children to select books to be used in their class work and for recreational reading.

TWO OF THE FINEST FEATURES of Miner junior high school are its broad corridors and the interesting use of wood, glass and brick. Shown above is the corridor which connects the east and west wings of the building and carries the main traffic load.

Addison's 'Honorable Election' Hailed

This is an open letter in answer to the column "Down Addison Way" by Mr. Sidda, in the Addison Register of October 3, which in the manner of one George III, expresses its displeasure with the will of the people, as quote, "Saturday's Election Disturbed Us."

Believe me, Mr. Sidda, there is nothing in the results of the vote on the street improvement referendum which should be disquieting, unless it be that it was not overwhelmingly enough defeated.

You suspect the taint of dishonesty in the vote. There, I am wholly in accord with you.

In the first place, monies from the state tax on gasoline, are not intended to be used for the personal gain of any one group, but are intended for the general welfare. No ambiguous phraseology is going to confuse the general public into considering town side streets as arterial roads. There, Mr. Sidda, is the first bit of dishonesty.

Secondly, since the state funds may be used only in the portion of about 25 per cent of locally raised funds, wherein arises your contention that there would be little or no extra expense to the taxpayer.

If the bill as it was drawn up, was honestly drawn up, with the belief that it would result in no additional taxes, then why was the provision made, that other homeowners in Addison, whose homes lack paved streets and curbs in front of them, should pick up the tab—amount indefinite?

I'll tell you why, Mr. Sidda. It was done, because in the long run, you had no assurance that the whole amount would not ultimately sit on the shoulders of the select group of owners chosen to carry the burden.

Now, I have no quarrel at all with the owners of homes on those streets which were to be improved, or with their right to have those streets improved. However, it should be at their own expense, as it is in all other communities in this state.

Our new subdivisions have had their streets paved by their subdividers, as prescribed by state and county laws, and the cost of the paving is of course ultimately incorporated in the prices of the homes when they are sold. Since every other homeowner in this town has had to pay for street improvements in front of his property, why should this group be exempted?

There have been many false claims anent this bill. The foremost in my mind, is that which claims that the streets should be paved so that school children may safely walk to school.

Since when is it customary to walk on streets, rather than proportionately cheaper sidewalks?

Then in the wake of defeat of the measure, comes your claim that it was brought about through party politics.

There sir, you confuse me even further. In our home we were personally contacted by not one, but several members of the 2 major political parties. They came however, not in the guise of politicians, but as neighbors, and fellow townsmen.

I choose to consider them as minute men, bound together in a common union, against iniquitous taxes.

In closing I would say Mr. Sidda, get to know us in Addison. We think you will like what we stand for. We have not in the past depended on charity, and will not now feed at the public trough.

Mr. Sidda, that was an honorable election.

Clarifies Mt. Prospect Sidewalk Issue

In your past few issues you've publicized the filing of our suit against the management and board of trustees of Mount Prospect to enjoin them from forcing us to construct sidewalks in and around the Country Club area and other village areas.

Your coverage has been mostly accurate. However, it would be greatly appreciated if you could describe the following items which were either omitted or were, we feel, inaccurate in your other articles.

1. The suit is on behalf of 47 "paid" homeowner subscribers represented by Messrs. Pinkos, Gits, May and Kaczmarek. It is not just for the 4 men. Also, we have pledges from 6 other homeowners and possible pledges from 17 more.

2. Initially, 99 per cent of our total group were willing to install walks. However, we did not appreciate the sudden ultimatum, especially after 3 of us (not any of the above 4) have attended the weekly meetings for 6 months and have been literally angered at the lack of cooperativeness in common discussion with the board. Some of the things told to us have (in our opinion) been utterly foolish.

3. We moved to the suburbs for suburban living and we feel sidewalks deprive us of suburban looks and beauty.

4. So far as we know, there are no auto-pedestrian accidents on the police record for our area. Almost all of us have children and feel they are safe without walks.

5. One owner would suffer a loss in landscaping of over $1,500.

6. Many of us prefer curb types—if we did put in walks. However, the 5-ft. width would not allow installation in most blocks because of trees, poles, sewers, etc. One owner was told he would have to move a county pole and 2 trees at his own expense. Why have many walks with widths of 4 and 4½ ft. been installed in other areas of Mount Prospect after we established residence there?

7. Parkway types would pass close to bedroom windows on many corner homes.

8. The builder of most of the Can Dota block homes was told by the village board in 1953 that he would not have to regrade the "hill" as walks would not have to be built and spoil the incline.

9. At present we know of 11 "half-blocks" without walks (not including any in the Northwest Meadows). Mr. Appleby said he know of 2 or three.

10. Why is the village board giving us a method of installing walks voluntarily when they have kept some of our walk money in escrow for 3 years when they were supposed to keep it a maximum of only 1 year?

11. We have been advised that even if our suit fails, we revert back to the time of serving and can still install curb walks at our own expense.

12. We plan on taking the case to higher courts, if necessary.

Another Shining Example of Service

More than 2,000 women join in heartfelt thanks to Paddock Publications . . . with particular bows to Stuart Paddock, publisher; Charles Hayes, managing editor; Helene Bristol, editorial staff member and Fred Gareiss, photographer, for the wonderful cooperation and personal help in bringing customers to our Community Fair.

Our private listening post tells us that the majority of individuals in the northwest suburbs are successfully meeting their pledge to support our hospital. The enormous help of Paddock Publications in supporting a group of these citizens, the Women's Auxiliary, to make good our pledge deserves particular gratitude.

This is another shining example of the vital role that a fine suburban newspaper plays in our lives.

Civic Watchdogs in High Heels Deserve Area Support

The most effective force of civic watchdogs in the northwest suburbs wears high heels.

Most of them are housewives and mothers; yet they find time to keep a sharp eye on government.

These civic-minded women are members of the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters, one of 1000 local groups throughout the nation.

The League was founded in 1920, the year women won the right to vote. At the suffragists' victory convention, Carrie Chapman Catt, their indomitable leader, suggested that the fight should be finished "by teaching women to wield their ballots wisely."

Politicians greeted the new group with a little scorn and much indifference. But the women quickly built up a remarkable volunteer organization along local, state and national lines. They led and won fights for stronger pure food and drug laws, for the abolition of child labor in many states, for taking civic service jobs out of politics. Their support of the U. S. Children's Bureau helped it to become one of the greatest social agencies any government ever created.

At their conventions, the representatives of local leagues vote on the issues which their leagues will study. In the 1956-58 period, for example, the agenda calls for an evaluation of federal loyalty-security programs and a study of ways to conserve our water resources. When the women finish their 2-year survey, they will undoubtedly be among the best-informed American citizens in these 2 fields.

The League's ability to win the respect and good will of officials has been one of its enduring qualities. Its members quickly realized the wisdom of getting all the facts, by seeing and asking and thinking for themselves.

One of the Arlington Heights chapter's first tasks was to gather information for a "Know Your Town Government" booklet, the best source of judicial, tax, police, fire and school information in this area.

While gathering such data, the women became well-informed about their local government, sometimes to the embarassment of the town fathers.

The membership of the League is broken into small study groups called units, which meet regularly throughout the fall and winter. These groups read material related to the topic under study and discussion for that month, go to the meeting and listen to this material presented by resource people, and then enter into a discussion of the topic with complete freedom to express their own opinions or, with equal freedom, question the material just covered.

The League of Women Voters' member is motivated by the belief that if she kenw a bit more about government and how it works, this might be a better country, a healthier and happier state, and a community second to none.

All of us can take pride in the way these housewives and mothers are helping to make government in our communities more responsible and more effective. They deserve our wholehearted support.

Closer Cooperation Cited

Personal Property Tax Collections Up

(CNS)—Closer cooperation between Cook county treasurer Herbert Paschen and State's Attorney Benjamin Adamowski appears to be paying off in greater collections of personal property taxes in suburban Cook county.

Adamowski's chief clerk, Sig Sobczynski, has a crew of 12 clerks and typists forwarding delinquent tax bills amounting to less than $2000 each to the 30 justices of the peace in suburban townships.

UNDER PREVIOUS administrations, bills of up to $500 each were given to the JPs and the state's attorney filed suit in larger cases. Now all delinquent tax bills larger than $200 result in Circuit or Superior court suits.

Another change instituted by Sobcynski has reduced the size of the fees collected by the JPs. Previously, each case meant a $4 fee for the justices. Now they collect $1 if the tax is $4.99 or less, $2 from $5 to $9.99, $3 from $10 to $14.99 and $4 only if the tax collected is $15 or more.

DEFENDANTS IN Circuit Superior courts suits must pay court costs of $32.50 upon conviction. If a JPs notice is not sufficient for collection, he may collect $3.60 per summons for his constable, plus a $1 filing fee and a $4 hearing fee.

Sobczynski says all JP hearings on personal property tax cases will be attended by assistant state's attorneys who will insist on collection of the full amount of the tax bill. Taxpayers who respond to notices sent by JPs often save a considerable sum because the judges have authority to reduce the size of the tax bill if it appears unreasonable.

A CHECK OF official records reveals that many justices are collecting a high percentage of the delinquent tax bills forwarded to them by the state's attorney at the request of the county treasurer.

JP Donald Haeder of New Trier township has collected up to 90 per cent of his bills. JP John W. Damisch of Northfield township has made collections in better than 40 per cent of "Justifiable" bills.

AS AN EXAMPLE of what might be considered unjustified, tax records disclose the case of a south suburban mother of 6, receiving Aid to Dependent Children, billed by the assessor for $45. The JP dismissed her entire bill.

Individual JPs say poor assessing makes for difficult collections. They say if Cook county had fair assessments, there would be no need for court actions to collect personal property taxes. Some judges say better public understanding would also result in higher collections.

THEY POINT OUT that approximately 75 per cent of the personal property taxes collected in the townships is returned for local use. Lower property tax collections result in higher school district taxes, so taxpayers as a whole save nothing by ignoring personal property tax bills, these JPs say.

JP William M. Weber of Des Plaines is one of the justices collecting better than 50 per cent of the bills in his area. JP Richard Frohman of Leyden township has also reparted a high percentage of collections, with the notation that he is still waiting for some delinquent taxpayers to come up with their taxes.

JAMES CULLEN JR. of Maine township and Stanley L. Wilbor of River Forest also report good results. Harvey Klehm of Elk Grove township will probably have to issue a number of summons, although he too has had good results merely by mailing out notices to delinquents.

Between January 1 and September 1 of this year, all JPs in Cook county collected $42,245.80 in delinquent 1955 personal property taxes. During September alone, 2,427 taxpayers paid a total of $10,954.33. Between October 1 and October 11, 2,082 taxpayers forked over $33,751.02.

JPs handle only individual personal property taxpayers, because the county treasurer collects directly from banks, railroads and public utilities. Delinquent accounts in these fields only rarely go to the state's attorney's office for prosecution.

SOBCZYNSKI SAYS for the first time in history he will make a township-by-township breakdown of personal property tax delinquencies. However, this will not be done before the end of the year.

The State's attorney's office has obtained court judgments for $1,123,272.88 for delinquent 1955 taxes, of which $71,087.81 had been collected by Oct. 1. Last year $76,770.30 had been collected between January 1 and October 1.

October 25, 1907

Wheeling —Frank Forke and wife are the happy parents of a girl baby born eWdnesday, Oct. 23. Frank will be able to hire bus drivers cheap now, as the boys will all want to spark his daughter.

The bazaar given this year was the most successful ever given for the ladies of Wheeling Presbyterian church. They cleared $250, a splendid showing.

DR. CARL A. Starck and Miss Marie Danielsen were quietly married at the home of Rev. Rahn, Pastor of St. Nicholi church at Avondale, Wednesday, Oct. 23. The friends of the bride and groom were so numerous that it would be well nigh impossible to entertain them all, so Doc wisely said nothing to his friends of the day set, but quietly set up the cigars Tuesday night. So the boys were on hand Wednesday morning to give the wedding party a proper send off.

Mr. George Grigg was born in England in 1830 and came to America in 1857. He resided 10 years in Itasca and 40 in Paaltine. He died Oct. 16, aged 77.

August Wienke was born in Meckenburg in 1835 and came to America in 1873, making his home in Palatine. He died of heart disease Oct. 17.

LOUISE BARGEMANN, nee Meyer, was born in Hanover, Germany in 1839. She has lived in Palatine since 1866. She died Oct. 21, the cause of which was consumption.

Mayor A. S. Olms is having improvements made on the house he recently purchased from the Downing estate, and will make it into a desirable residence. He has also been urged to make a plat for an addition to the cemetery as all but a few of the lots in the old cemetery have been sold.

John Kreft is moving his barn and making preparation to build a house on his property on Brockway street to be occupied by his son-in-law H. L. Schulze.

Buttermilk Corners — Mr. Herman Quandt and Miss Alma Mundhenk were married at Hoosier Grove Evangelical church, Sunday Oct. 20. The bridesmaids were Miss Lille Mundhenk and Bertha Quandt.

Roselle — If the Fire Dept. would change their constitution and by laws from the English print to Platte Deutch they would not be liable to run up against so many snags.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — It is hard to decide which is prouder of their first grandchild, Pastor Noack or ex-Alderman W. F. Meyer, but of course the fond parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Meyer, are happy over the safe arrival of their first baby, a charming daughter, born Oct. 23.

Mrs. Edith Thurber Wickwire died Oct. 19 at the age of 30.

Reichenberg Corners —Born to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Precht, Oct. 17, a boy.

Mt. Prospect — Conrad Pohlman is the proud father of a baby boy.

A concerted effort is being made by Anti-Patriotic propagandists to discredit the work of the American Red Cross. Stories as malicious as they are absurd are being industriously circulated throughout the country. These stories, while presenting a multitude of variations, follow certain well defined lines. One relates that a sweater sent to a soldier through the Red Cross was later seen worn by a nurse, a Red Cross employee, or some civilian who claimed to have bought the garment from the society.

ROSELLE — Miss Louisa Meyer was quietly married to Mr. Carl Schmidt Wednesday evening, Oct. 17.

Bloomingdale has a new hotel. Mrs. Fillbrich is the manager of the place. It is in the same building Mrs. Knight used to have for a hotel.

All Churchville rejoiced to see Frank Fischer, Will Eitel and Otto Popp home from Camp Grant.

Addison — Mr. and Mrs. Rosenwinkle rejoice over a baby boy born Sunday, Oct. 21.

Albert Ollman, an old time respected citizen of Elk Grove, passed away at his former home, Oct. 20, aged 62 years. He came to this vicinity when a young man. He was united in marriage to Caroline Rohling in 1882. He has been one of the leading members of the Elk Grove Evangelical church and a faithful attendant of all its services.

ITASCA — Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Benhart were most pleasantly surprised Oct. 21 in honor of their 20th wedding annivers ary.

Bensenville — Many from here attended the funeral of Grandma Schoo, Saturday.

August Neuman celebrated his 23rd birthday, Saturday evening.

Edna, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Kosmannow, was badly burned by pulling over the lamp. They rushed her to the hospital and she died the same evening. She leaves to mourn her early death, her parents and 2 brothers, Thomas and Alexander.

Bensenville —Did the young people have a good time Wednesday evening at their wiener roast? Just ask them about it. They furnished enough amusement for themselves and inhabitants of the town that the latter came out on their porches and stood mouth and eyes open wondering what next was going to happen to disturb the peace of their beautiful realm. What is to be wondered at most is that the police never head anything?

WHEELING — Dr. Larson has moved to Wheeling to take up the practice given up by Dr. Benz. He has rented a house on Milwaukee ave. near Mr. Krueger's.

Dr. Henry A. Benz is planning to leave Wheeling. He has sold his home on Dundee road and will make his residence for a time in northern Wisconsin. He came to Wheeling in 1890 when a young man and has been in constant practice since. He was active in athletics in those days we are told but now the weight of years and added avindupois and cares of business have kept him from wielding the ball, bat and scoring the home run. During all this time Dr. Benz has been a sturdy advocate of what he believed to be right and he has never deviated from the course laid at the start.

MT. PROSPECT — The first entertainment of the Lyceum course this season was given Monday eve. Despite the miserable weather the hall was filled but not packed. The children had their treat free in the afternoon. Every number of program was good and kept the audience chuckling most of the time. Those present from the country said it was easily worth while to brave the storm.

Winter comes early this year. The second snow storm came Oct. 22 and 23.

Mrs. William Thieman died in Arlington Heights, October 21. As Sophia Tonne she was born Oct. 19, 1851 on the old F. H. Tonne homestead now occupied by Richard Tonne in Elk Grove near Puttin Hill. She was married to William Thieman in 1872; the union was blessed with 6 children. They lived in the old Thieman homestead in Elk Grove until 1898 when they retired from the farm and moved to Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Emily Wilson died at her home in Palatine, October 23, 1917. As a resident of Palatine for over 70 years, the deceased has a large circle of friends. Twenty years ago the William Wilson farm was the mecca for good times of the young people of that day. The hospitality of Mrs. Wilson in the 80's and 90's endeared her to the boys and girls of that generation. She was born in 1841 and was united in marriage to William Wilson in 1861

The present church edifice of St. Peter's Lutheran Congregation Arlington Heights was dedicated to the worship of God Oct. 22, 1882. It has served the spiritual needs of the flock for 55 years and still is structurally sound. Special anniversary services will be held next Sunday.

THE PEOPLE of Wheeling dedicated their new gymnasium October 16, with a community dinner and dance. The building is the sole result of community cooperation and was planned, financed, built and completed within a few months without any particular show on ostentation. It was dedicated in the same manner. That's the way Wheeling people do things.

Northwest Suburbs Seeking Answers to Water Problems

(CNS)—The members of a northwest suburban water commission are coming up with answers to a problem that sooner or later will have to be solved by communities throughout the metropolitan region.

The commission met under the unique name of the DAMP water commission. The name is made up of the initial letters of Des Plaines, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and Palatine.

COMMISSION Chairman Robert E. Angley, of 49 N. Benton, Palatine, says the group has formally asked Consoer Townsend and Associates, of 360 E. Grand ave. in Chicago, to submit a contract showing how the consulting group can help the suburbs solve the problem of potential water shortage.

Besides Angley, the DAMP members are Max A. Mayrer of Arlington Heights, William Mott of Mt. Prospect and Arnold Ruud of Des Plaines. A fifth member, E. R. Warnicke of Des Plaines, was appointed by Circuit court.

ANGLEY SAYS the commission is considering 3 sources for an increased water supply:

1. The 4 municipalities could build their own pipe line to Lake Michigan.

2. They could purchase water from the Elmhurst-Villa Park-Lombard Water Commission.

3. They could buy water from the city of Chicago.

COMMISSION members met September 13 with Chicago water commissioner James Jardine. He advised them to retain engineers and determine their exact future needs. The meeting with Consoer Townsend followed.

Jardine told the DAMP commissioners that in 2 years, when Chicago's North avenue filter plant is completed, the city will have an additional 150,000,000 gallons of water available daily at its Mayfair pumping station.

This would be more than enough to supply the 4 suburbs. At present they are using an estimated 8,000,000 gallons daily, pumped from wells.

A FOURTH possibility has also been discussed by the commission. This would involve a joint venture with the Elmhurst - Villa Park - Lombard commission, and a pipeline to the lake north of Glencoe serving towns and villages on both commissions.

The Elmhurst group is planning a pipe line passing through Northbrook and Des Plaines and west of O'Hare field and Bensenville. Angley points out, however, that the state statute authorizing suburban water commissions is not clear whether such joint ventures are legal. A court test going to the Illinois supreme court would probably be too expensive for the municipalities to undertake.

Angley and his fellow commissions are agreed that the answers to 2 questions will govern their final decision: the actual cost of the water they need, and the adequacy of supply.

THE COST DEPENDS to a great degree on the method of transportation. At present, the water must be raised hundreds of feet from wells. Lake water, however, would have to be moved several miles to do the villages any good.

The DAMP commission will meet again on October 29 to review its problems. They are taking the slow but sure path to solving their problems, a procedure highly recommended by Comr. Jardine, a man who has been dealing with water supply problems for many years.

New 'His and Her' Workshop Has Merits

A "his-'n-her" workshop makes sense in many homes. While the man fiddles with his home improvement projects, the woman can be busy with her own hobby or craft projects, at her own center. Companionship and co-operative effort are important adjuncts to the dual workshop.

The man's area centers around a sturdy bench which he can whip together in an evening. Over it is a "Peg-Board" panel for keeping tools instantly available. The working surface and storage shelf of the bench are durable, splinterproof Tempered Presdwood, a material widely used in industry for workbench tops because it "has what it takes."

AN ADJACENT roomy storage cabinet will house miscellaneous supplies.

On "her" side is a large cabinet with handsome sliding doors of "Peg-Board" paneling, painted to suit her own tastes. She, too, has a handy perforated hardboard panel over her cabinets for her own tools and equipment. Like her hubby's workbench, her cabinet is topped with a panel of Tempered Presdwood, providing the same working surface as his. This is ideal for painting, working with plants and doing other projects likely to be messy.

FOR COMFORT and pleasing appearance, the walls of the workshop should be in keeping with the friendly atmosphere. Cold concrete walls readily can be covered with a handsome new material, Panelgroove, a hardboard having vertical grooves and coming in wide, easy-to-install sheets four feet across. The "how to" of this wall improvement is shown also in the free plan.

To obtain a copy of the illustrated "his and her" workshop plan, address a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Masonite Corporation, 111 West Washington st., Chicago 2, Ill., and ask for No. AE-322. (Soc

Here's a workshop—for "him" and "her"—which holds the elements of happy hobbies for the married couple. One area is set aside for the man of the house for his various fix-up and remodeling projects, while another is designed especially for his wife so she can carry on her own pet hobbies. Her combination cabinets and working area, at the left, are made according to a free plan, No. AE-322, available from the Home Service Bureau, Masonite Corporation, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill. So is his workbench, with its tough top of Tempered Presdwood. Directions are given also for installing a handsome Panelgroove wall to give the dual-purpose room a warmth not present in concrete.

Q. Will you please suggest when and how the announceent can be made at a large dinner engagement party?

A. Toward the end of the dinner, when the table has been cleared for dessert, the father of the bride-elect may rise and propose a toast, such as, "To our Betty and Bob, who are going to be married."

Q. When one is a very good friend of Ruth Allen, who has married Robert Jones, isn't it permissible to address a letter to her as "Mrs. Ruth Jones"?

A. No; she should be addressed as "Mrs. Robert Jones."

Q. When one is staying at a hotel for several weeks, and eats his meals in the dining room at the same table throughout, would it be all right to tip the waiter or waitress by the week, instead of at every meal?

A. Yes; this is often done and is much more convenient.

Furniture Markets Preview New Design Trends for 1958

New 1958 furniture design will be previewed by buyers in The Merchandise Mart next week when 2 national furniture markets are held simultaneously in Chicago.

The annual October market of the National Association of Summer Furniture Manufacturers takes place October 14-19 at the same time as the second semi-annual National Furniture Design Show.

A BIG MARKET is predicted for manufacturers of wrought iron, rattan, redwood and other indoor-outdoor furniture who traditionally introduce their new lines in the fall. Long new lines of this furniture are being shown in The Merchandise Mart, including those of 6 top style leaders in the industry.

Increased interest and buyer attendance is forecast for Chicago's second National Furniture Design Show. Extensive new lines of case goods (bedroom and dining room furniture) are being introduced next week in The Mart by a number of manufacturers. Some of this case goods is being augmented by correlated upholstered furniture.

A PRE-MARKET survey in the Mart showed contemporary the prevailing style. Engineered and priced especially for store stocks is a 40-piece group of bedroom, dining room, upholstered furniture and tables created by the noted designer Edward Wormley. Smartly modern, too, is one group of indoor wrought iron furniture. Another wrought iron group is Oriental in flavor, while John Wisner has given a Hawaiian flair to rattan bedroom and living room pieces.

There are new case groups in French and Italian Provincial, a handsome Venetian cabinet and Pennsylvania Dutch upholstered pieces.

Case pieces of striped mahogany have drawer and door fronts of Brazilian goncalo wood and pulls made of rosewood and brass. Some table tops are goncalo wood banded in mahogany. Some oak chests are suspended in rattan bases, have tops of gold-flecked white thermoset plastic, and drawer pulls of pewter. tables have ashwood tops inlaid with darker walnut wood.

ONE WROUGHT IRON indoor-outdoor line employs molded woven fiberglas scoop seats and backs, and even the drum-shape table is made of this molded, open-work material. The firm has developed a method of bonding paint to the fiberglas so that any high fashion colors may be applied.

Wrought iron frames and cast aluminum decorative parts combine in a French Provincial group of elegant and highly curvaceous styling.

Screen printed designs adorn the table tops in one rattan collection. Piquant new finish colors are being introduced both in rattan and wrought iron furniture — like parakeet, a cool bright green, and pecan for rattan; wisteria, gardenia, larkspur, mellow peach and others for wrought iron.

NEW LOW DINING tables include a 24-inch high, 56-inch wide octagonal supper table made of knotty pine and designed especially for the family room. Another is a 25-inch high cocktail game dining table of oak front of the fireplace.

The "surrey server" is an amusing but very practical conversation piece. It is a large rolling cart made of redwood with a flat, fringed canvas top high above it in the manner of an old fashioned surrey. The surrey top is removable so the cart can be used in the rumpus room.

Tricky Treat For Witches

A bit of eye-catching witchcraft is this Jack O' Lantern Pie. The face, made on a baker's pumpkin pie, is fashioned from slices of banana and "curls" of Cinnamon-Maple Whip Topping.

These be-witching twins have performed a bit of eye-catching witchcraft to delight the earthly witches on the Hallowed Evening. Halloween, celebrated for more than 2,000 years, began with all-night vigils when bonfires burned to scare away evil spirits. Later, the vigil was combined with a Roman harvest festival.

Symbolizing both traditions, is this Jack O' Lantern Pie to surprise guests at club or group parties.

To make Jack O' Lantern Pie: Purchase as many pumpkin pies as needed from bakery or food mart. Create face from banana slices (dipped first in lemon juice) and a maraschino cherry. For "curls," swirl Cinnamon-Maple Whip Topping from a pastry tube or with a spoon. Cut the banana in half, crosswise. Cut slantwise pieces for eyes and nose from one half. Next, cut cherry in half to complete the "eye" effect. For the mouth, cut second banana half, lengthwise, trim, and place with tip ends at the mouth corners. Decorate the Jack O' Lantern Pie with "curls" made with the Topping.

To make Cinnamon-Maple Whip Topping: Combine ½ cup heavy cream, 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, and ¼ teaspoon maple flavor. Whip until quite stiff. Fill a pastry tube with the topping and quickly swirl the "curls."

Variation: Substitute ¼ cup maple sugar candy, crushed, for the maple flavor.

For Women

Marianne Scott, Women's Editor

Donald Martin Weds Chicago Girl Sept. 14

Marriage vows exchanged September 14 united Judith Jernberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Jernberg of Chicago, and Donald E. Martin, son of Mrs. John Martin, 1305 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights. The ceremony took place in Christ Evangelical Lutheran church in Chicago with Rev. George P. Lottich officiating.

The altar was banked with white mums, pompons and gladioli for the 3 p.m. double ring ceremony. Organist was Ehrhart Bergstrausser, and soloist, Mrs. Elsa Smith, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's bouffant white lace and tulle gown had a jeweled sabrina neckline, wrist-length sleeves and chapel train. Her headpiece was jeweled to match and held a fingertip veil in place. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and carnations. Mr. Jernberg gave his daughter in marriage.

Maid of honor was Gwen Hayes of Chicago in a floor-length iridescent taffeta gown in violet with matching headpiece and veil. Bridesmaids were Pamela Jernberg, the bride's sister, Janice Anderson and Joan Corswandt. They wore iridescent taffeta floor-length gowns in dubarry pink with long white gloves, matching headbands and veils. All bridal attendants carried semi-crescent bouquets of light pink carnations and feathered violet asters.

Tom Anderson was best man, and Edwin Linneman, Brian Jacobsen and Herbert Wickstrom, all of Arlington Heights, ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jernberg, chose sapphire blue organzine taffeta with matching shoes and white accessories. Mrs. Martin wore pink lace with black accessories. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

A dinner reception for 200 guests followed the ceremony in Skokie Legion post 320. The couple is now residing on the north side of Chicago.

Just Around The Corner From Patty McArdle

Saturday at Brookfield Zoo

Dear Peg:

I suppose it's a throwback to my old school days when everyone looked forward to Saturday as the "day off"—the day for fun and play—but even now I'm as glad as Megan to see Friday afternoon come and know that the next day, with no rigid schedule to follow, we can all relax and enjoy ourselves.

Furthermore, no matter what has been left undone about the apartment in the way of housework during the week, it stays that way until Monday and the children, "Dad" (if he doesn't have to go to the office), and I try to think of something special to do.

Last Saturday, a bright October day, I decided that the time had come to make the trip to Brookfield Zoo—it's been years since I'd been there, and I had read and heard so much about the Children's Zoo (a small zoo within the larger one), that I thought the fun of seeing this and the other animals would be worth the time spent getting there (a little over an hour from where we live). At this announcement, the girls were thrilled and without any of the usual prodding and urging they hurried out of bed and into their "pedal-pushers." Within a record-breaking hour Patrick, Bridget, Megan and I (Daddy's gone fishin' in Wiscosnin) were traveling south on Edens Highway in the general direction of Brookfield Zoo.

Have you ever had trouble finding this place? I had an awful time! Somehow I though the zoo was so huge that you couldn't possibly miss it if you were within a few miles of Brookfield—or for that matter within a few miles of any of the towns around there. At the first filling station the attendant gave me detailed instruction involving stop and go lights and right and left turns. I got off on a diagonal street and by the time I found another filling station I was completely turned around. This made it almost impossible to believe the directions that this attendant was giving me so, relying on my own judgment, went in pretty much the opposite direction from what he'd said. By the time I drove into the third filling station, was farther away than ever. I required one more stop, about 2 blocks from the Zoo, to find the entrance you "couldn't miss."

Having spent half an honr or more touring the western suburbs, it was about 11:30 when we drove into the parking lot and stopped near the entrance to the Children's Zoo. Megan and Bridget, being very solicitous toward their obviously expectant mother, lifted Patrick's stroller out of the car and helped put Patrick into it.

In a small, compact area, through which narrow walks wind past cages and fenced-in spaces, baby animals play, come up to be petted or stand shyly by their Mamas. Many of the young ones wander along the sidewlaks among the people. Imagine my surprise when, having been watching an attendant hold a baby leopard for children to pet, I turned to see a baby kangaroo nuzzling Patrick! Unfamiliar with the manner in which one shoes away a kangaroo and not sure of how early they start boxing, I decided to move the stroller rather than the kangaroo. Patrick howled as we turned away from the animal, and strained to get out of the stroller and back to his friend. Well, I'll be darned if that kangaroo didn't start following us! About the time I was picturing the 2 babies unable to part and me pushing 2 strollers side by side through the middle of town, some children ran up to pet our friend. Although detained quite pleasantly, the baby kangaroo looked a little sad as we rounded a curve and disappeared from his view.

I have never heard of feeding an elephant marshmellows, but the baby elephant there was munching one after another as though they were a welcome change from peanuts. However, I'm not sure who ate the most out of Bridget's box. Every time she'd give the elephant one, she popped one into her own mouth.

The little sidewalk led us over a foot bridge, underneath which a seal was performing gracefully in his little pool. We had a pony ride (very dull compared to the pony rides at the farm) and stroked the irresistable curly, white fleece of a sheep who mingled with the children, announcing his approach by the tinkling of a little old fashioned bell.

After a lunch of hamburgers at the refectory, we covered the rest of the zoo, where the children saw many animals they'd never seen before. The grounds within the zoo are as beautiful as I had remembered and the fountains and lagoons—in which you may see white and black swans and pink flamingos are clean and lovely.

Worn out, the girls dropped to their seats inside the car and Patrick grabbed his bottle and fell fast asleep. Having learned a great deal about the territory surrounding Brookfield Zoo, I made record time getting home.

My love,
Patty

Ancients Faced Infant Mortality

The story of an ancient American people whose infant mortality rate ran as high as 8 children in a village of only 40 to 60 population (of which 7 adults also died more or less contemporaneously), was told by Dr. Paul S. Martin, chief curator of anthropology at Chicago Natural History Museum.

Dr. Martin has just returned from an archaeological "dig" in the foothills of the White Mountains in Arizona, where he and several associates excavated hundreds of cubic yards of trenches, revealing ten pit houses, six surface rooms, and truckloads of artifacts of a prehistoric Indian tribe that lived in the area about A.D. 500, and then vanished apparently between A.D. 1000 and 1100.

"IF LIFE insurance had been in vogue in the latter days of the occupation of the Arizona area by these people, the premiums would have had to be prohibitive," Dr. Martin commented.

This is only one aspect of the expedition's findings. The 1957 undertaking was one of a series of 23 expeditions led by Dr. Martin over the years, digging up the remains of prehistoric peoples' traces and reconstructing the story of their lives all the way back to between 4,000 and 5,000 years ago. Sites previously excavated by Martin and his associates are in New Mexico and Colorado. The lives of the different tribes involved were intertwined in both alliances and enmities, and their cultures overlap each other in a complex the intricacies of which Martin is attempting to solve.

Old-Time Garden Story to Be Told

The story of a famous old-time garden in Barrington will be told to members of the Chicago Horticultural society at the Garden Center, 116 S. Michigan ave., Friday, Nov. 8 at 1:30 p.m. The story, illustrated with heirloom photos, tells of the gay nineties garden of the late Mrs. Alexander F. Reichmann when Barrington was still an undeveloped area. The garden was noted for its outstanding collection of begonias and cactus.

CHENILLE CHRISTMAS TREES and the popular 4-poster doll beds will be among the hundreds of articles on display at the Holiday Fair to be held November 3 in the parish hall of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church. Sponsored by the Catholic Women's club of the church, the fair will feature a wide range of hand-made felt articles. A coffee bar will be open all day and Santa Claus will also be present to give the true holiday atmosphere. Mrs. James Howard, left, and Mrs. John Jarecki, second from right, are in charge of the fair and Mrs. Edmund O'Brien, second from left, and Mrs. Howard Spears, right, are president of the club and chairman of the school committee, respectively. The show will open at 7:30 a.m. and run continuously until 6 p.m.

Honey Dressing Turns Plain Fruit Salad into Specialty

by LOIS SEILER

Here is a dressing that turns an ordinary fruit salad into something really special. It is a Honey Dressing which is not too sweet but very flavorful and delicious.

Along with honey and other basic dressing ingredients, this one is seasoned with celery seed, dry mustard and grated onion.

It complements the flavor of any combination of fresh, canned or frozen fruits.

The recipe has been shared with us by Mrs. J. C. Flora of Mt. Prospect.

For luncheons, she likes to serve large individual fruit salads topped with this honey dressing and accompanied by finger sandwiches.

A vice president of the Mt. Prospect Center of Infant Welfare, Mrs. Flora is also a member of the Delta Gamma Alumnae club.

The Floras live at 108 S. Louis in Mt. Prospect. They have two children: Connie, 6, and David, 2½.

Honey Dressing

1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon celery seed
¼ teaspoon salt
1/3 cup honey
1/3 cup vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 cup salad oil

Mix dry ingredients together. Add remaining ingredients. Add the oil last, beating it in slowly and constantly.

Makes 2 cups dressing.

Serve over fresh, canned or frozen fruit.

Announce Engagements

Barbara Nickol

Miss Barbara Nickol's engagement to William Strutz, son of Mrs. Emily Strutz of Berwyn has been announced by her mother, Mrs. John B. Nickol, 204 N. Bothwell, Palatine.

The wedding is planned for May 17.

Miss Nickol was graduated from Palatine high school and is now employed at Universal Oil Co. in Des Plaines. Her fiance was graduated from Valparaiso university and is working for Vern Alden Co. in Chicago.

Virginia Tufts

The engagement of Miss Virginia Lou Tufts, daughter of Mrs. Robert Tufts of Kalamazoo, to Kenneth Earl Machata, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Machata Jr., 5 W. Berkshire lane, Mt. Prospect, is announced by her mother.

Mr. Machata is a senior at Western Michigan university and a member of Gamma Phi chapter, Alpha Phi Omega Service fraternity.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Children's Classics Amuse Tots at Fair

CURTSEYING TO LITTLE MISS MUFFET at rehearsal for young people's theatre is Hansel of the children's classic "Hansel and Gretel." The children are Liz and Peggy Griffin, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Griffin of Mount Prospect. Members of the Hansel and Gretel Players, Liz and Peggy were part of the casts of 13 skits presented October 12 at the fair presented by the women's auxiliary of Northwest Community hospital. The skits were presented in the "Chicken Coop" to amuse young fair-goers. The show was the third in a series by the young actors to benefit the hospital.

"PLEASE, MR. TIGER! Don't eat me up and I'll give you my yellow umbrella!" cried Little Black Sambo, pictured here in the person of Colleen Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cain of Arlington Heights. The clothes-seeking tiger is Susan Estrella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Estrella of Rolling Meadows. The children were part of the Hansel and Gretel players cast who presented the children's classic during the Northwest Community hospital community fair October 12. The players performed all day, presenting a 13-skit program at Recreation Park, as part of the baby-sitting service of the fair. Production of the show was supervised by the teenage actors of the group which also presented a style show of fashions spanning 100 years. Linda Wilds of Palatine and Jan Wagner of Arlington Heights were the executive officers of the production.

"PRINCESS AND THE PLAYERS" from the life of the first Queen Elizabeth of England was one of the 13 children's classics presented October 12 by the Hansel and Gretel Players at the Northwest Community hospital community fair at Recreation park, Arlington Heights. Players range in age from tots to teens and this was the third in a series of annual performances to benefit the hospital. Sandy Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson of Arlington Heights portrays Elizabeth and Lauren Sayre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sayre of Arlington Heights portrays Ann. The shows took place in the "Chicken Coop," the baby-sitting service of the fair.

A "HEAD START" is being given to the annual Santa's Toyland and Bazaar of the Community church of Rolling Meadows by members of the church Women's association. The women are pictured here showing children samples of toys from Santa's workshop which will be featured at the bazaar and toy sale opening November 2 at the church education building, Kirchoff rd. and Meadow dr., from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Until November 2, the 4 women are conducting "home demonstrations" of the Christmas merchandise. All profits of the bazaar and toy sale will go to the church building fund. David Manago is fascinated with the toy train while Cheryl Hvid shows off a doll. Mrs. Tony Manago, Mrs. Ernest Powell, Jean Turcotte, Mrs. Irving Hvid and Mrs. Leslie Carlsen look over the toys in the background.

Gamy 'Old Bird' Is Eager Beaver

by MARY

I'm a gamy old bird. I don't exactly mean that if roasted I might be a little strong in the flavor department. Although, this is possible. I mean that I like to play games. I like all types of games.

The game of tennis found me back in the dark ages of my youth flipping over the courts in quite snappy fashion. I wasn't too good at it but I surely was active. And enthusiastic. That best describes me in all participating sports. Just an eager beaver. Golf fascinates me but I can't say that I fascinate golf. It is strictly a case of unrequited love.

BUT, THE GAMES that I really love are called parlor. I haven't sunk so low as to go in for post office but I certainly do get a boot out of charades. Well, let's put it this way. I usually get a kick out of it. The worm of discontent is working on me.

It all happened at a neighborhood party the other night. All the girls, to use the word "girl" loosely, made little slips with the names of movies, books, quotations and such for the fellas to act out for their team. And, we played fair. Yes we did.

BUT, THERE IS one of the fellas who is too smart for his own good. He not only knows practically everything that such wordy old boys as Diogenes and Aristotle said but he is on intimate terms with Deuteronomy and Ecclesiastes. When we started the game, this certainly didn't show on his face. What I mean is, he is nice looking and all that in a sort of neighborly way. His brow is not furrowed in concentration and his eyes don't bug out from reading such small print.

But, he is a demon in the quotation department. And, I am attracted to his slips of paper with the quotations like a bee to honey. Now, I ask you friends, wouldn't you object to acting out the following? "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needs not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

I HAVE NO quarrel with Timothy in which book of the Bible this will be found. But, as a charade, I consider that it leaves something to be desired. I just couldn't get my teeth into it, as it were.

And, the girls were quite slow to catch on to my stellar acting. And, this fella is going to find himself a social outcast if he doesn't watch out.

How Hotel Research Is Helping the Housewife

by MARIANNE SCOTT

Hotels have been called the "World's Largest Linen Closet" — and not without good reason.

Every year hotels in the United States purchase 14-million towels, 6-million sheets and 5-million pillow cases. The average hotel must keep three sets of linen on hand: one set in use, one set in reserve, and one set in the laundry.

TO PROTECT this large investment and extend the life of linens is mighty important to hotels. To get one extra laundering from the sheets in a 300-room hotel represents a considerable saving.

This is where the American Hotel Association comes to the aid of its members. The AHA research and service department carries out tests to determine the most efficient laundering methods. From the department's tests come findings which save member hotels millions of dollars annually and which can be of benefit to the housewife.

TAKE THE matter of bleach, for example. AHA research has proved that bleach is the only thing used in washing which can damage linens. It has established that a one per cent bleach solution is the safest, most practical level for hotel linens. By contrast the average bleaching product used in home laundries is a five per cent solution - five times stronger than what hotel laundries use.

From this it can be seen that "spare the bleach and save the linen" is a sound precaution for the housewife to follow. For white clothes, 2 tablespoons of household laundry bleach per 8-9 pound load is usually adequate. Bleach should be used to remove stains which are not removed in washing, and not expressly to whiten or clean clothes. Nor is it a cure-all for stains. Some stains, such as iron or dye marks, often cannot be removed by bleach, no matter how strong the solution.

THIS IS BUT one example of how AHA research can be of help to the housewife.

From hundreds of other tests conducted each year on textiles, cleansers and other products used in hotel housekeeping come findings which directly and indirectly contribute to better, more efficient housekeeping methods and products for the homemaker. (Soc

Y's Lose Weight Program Begins Next Monday

Lose Weight the Y's Way for ladies will begin Monday, Oct. 29, at 8 p.m. The fun-filled 8-week course will be held at Central school, Des Plaines.

The 8 sessions, led by instructor, Viola Brehiem, will include exercises and careful study of diet and control of calorie intake. In adition there will be talks by a dietician and a foundation expert.

Mr. Paul, hair stylist from Chas. A. Stevens will take one session to tell each lady about her own hair style and give an amusing and interesting demonstration. Movies will cover important subjects and the ladies will receive literature on calorie control and low calorie meals.

Final session will be a low calorie banquet at which time everybody receives some sort of award for her achievment or effort.

Lose weight the Y's way is a medically-approved course to which hundreds of women have enrolled in YMCA's all over the metropolitan area. Northwest Suburban YMCA had a successful course last fall for 18 ladies who lost a total of 95 pounds the safe and enjoyable way.

There are still openings in the course and anyone wishing to register may call the YMCA office - VA 4-4156. (S

Women Voters Tour Argonne Laboratory

Arlington Heights League of Women Voters and their guests toured Argonne National Laboratory in Lemont Oct. 14.

Mrs. Paul C. Green of Prospect Heights arranged the tour and Earl W. Phelan directed the trip which began at 10 a.m. with an interesting orientation movie giving the fundamentals of radioactivity. Phelan gave a lecture on the principles of the equipment to be seen.

The tour included the greenhouse where a large variety of radioactive plants are grown which are used for medical, chemical and pharmaceutical investigations. Included was a view of the research reactor which has more than 50 openings for experimental purposes and the controlpanel of the reactor with lights and meters that indicate the conditions within.

Of special interest was the care taken by the Argonne National Laboratory to assure minimum health hazard. All personnel leaving the reactor area have shoes and hands monitored for radioactive contamination by a special impressive machine.

The women had lunch in the cafeteria. (S

Mr.-Miss Club Halloween Party Nov. 1st

Friday after Halloween, Nov. 1st, has been the date chosen for the second annual Mr.-Miss Halloween party at Rand Park, Des Plaines, at 8:30 p.m.

Dancing, entertainment, games and food will fill the evening until 12:30 p.m.

Any single adult between the ages of 21 - 35 in the northwest area is invited. This is the annual party set aside for old members to seek out a lot of new faces; so many of the party goers will be first nighters.

Mr.-Miss is a group sponsored by Northwest Suburban YMCA. It carries on a varied program of activities ranging from summer picnics, bowling and ski week ends to dinner dances. One of the next big events coming in the near future is a low cost weekend at the George Williams College camp at Lake Geneva.

Anyone wishing to be placed on the mailing list to receive notices of activities may call the YMCA office in Des Plaines - Va 4-4156 or write his name and address on a card and send it to the Y office at 1488 Miner st., Des Plaines, Ill. (S

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD VAN DYKE

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller, Arlington Heights rd., Arlington Heights, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marjorie, to Edward Van Dyke of Bensenville. The couple was married in the Lutheran church of St. Luke in Itasca October 3. The bride wore a white faille street-length gown with a lace bodice and carried a bouquet of orchids and cernations. Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Judy Miller, who wore a pink lace gown. Best man was Bernard Schutzkus of Bensenville.

Golden Ball Set For November 8 At Chevy Chase

A glittering evening is promised to those attending the "Golden Ball," annual fall dance sponsored by Mothers Club of the St. James Women's guild, Arlington Heights. The dance is planned for November 8 at Chevy Chase country club.

Mrs. William Hessler, ways and means chairman, and Mrs. Joe Schneller, co-chairman, are completing final plans for the dance, the most important event on the social calendar of the Mothers club.

Gifts to be awarded at the dance are a natural "Breath of Spring" mink stole, 1847 Rogers silver, service for 8 and 2 table lamps.

All residents of the area are invited. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from Mrs. H. C. Kaye, ticket chairman, CL. 3-8040. (S

Lutheran Nursery Invites District To Luncheon

Lutheran day nursery, Chicago, has invited members of the Illinois Seventh District Federation of Women's clubs to a luncheon Friday, Nov. 1. Each year the luncheon is planned and served by the women of the nursery board as a token of appreciation for the help given by the district during the past year.

The clubwomen will have an opportunity to see the nursery in action as they tour the building following the lunch. They will visit with the pre-school children who are supervised in various age groups while their older brothers and sisters attend a neighboring school.

Lutheran day nursery is a licensed, non-profit agency organized to help care for children of working mothers. Pre-requisite for help is the mother's need, without regard for race, color or creed. It is one of the agencies supported by the Community fund. Eighty children can be cared for, which includes school children who have their lunch there and are supervised after school until their mothers return from work.

Miss Lilliam Tollefson, director, and her staff will act as guides and explain the work of the nursery. Reservations should be sent to Mrs. Fred W. Ahlander, 4705 W. Palmer, Chicago district public welfare chairman by October 25. (S

Comic Capers Best-Costumed Couple to Win Prize Nov. 2

Two tickets for "My Fair Lady" will be awarded as first prize for the best-costumed couple attending "Comic Capers," fall benefit dance sponsored by the Arlington Heights Junior Womans club.

The event will take place November 2 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at Mt. Prospect VFW hall, where music will be provided by Ray Ponds and his orchestra.

This dance, which annually opens the club's fund raising activities, formerly went under the title of the "Hardtimes party." Couples will be garbed in unusual costumes of all varieties.

Decorations will be in keeping with the "Comic Capers" theme and are being made from comic papers. Heading the decoration committee is Mrs. George A. Reuhl, 106 S. Forrest, Arlington Heights. General chairman of the dance is Mrs. Warren Peterson, 118 W. Prindle, Arlington Heights.

All interested in joining in the festivities are urged and invited to attend. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Charles Catlin, CLearbrook 5-0297, or from any club member.

All proceeds will be used to support philanthropies of the club which are both local and district-wide in scope. Among local and civic projects supported are scholarships which are awarded annually to future teachers and nurses, Wheeling blind school-room and the Northwest Community Hospital center, while Federated Womans club projects of the seventh district which are supported include Conservation school, cancer research and aid to exceptional children. YEARN TO SELL ? ?
How To Learn & What You'll Earn
(with Equitable's "Living" Insurance)

1ST DAY: We'll give you an Aptitude Test; then we'll discuss your "selling" qualities and the opportunities that are available. We'll analyze how you can best fit your abilities to our field, and give you some reading matter to take home with you.

2ND DAY: We'll set up a weekly drawing account and scale of commissions for you, and assign a training schedule and an office; then process your applications.

1ST WEEK: You'll learn about the business, why life insurance is bought, how it is sold. You'll be taught leads methods and trained in a "family-need" sale.

2ND, 3RD WEEKS: You'll accompany your sales manager in the field, on calls, demonstrations, and sales—you'll be learning and earning by watching and listening.

4TH WEEK: He'll accompany you while you begin selling "solo"—you'll learn and earn by doing.

If you're between 23 & 38, with the right aptitudes and background, and if we hire you for our Des Plaines office, you'll earn between $6,500 and $9,000 in your first year.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear husband and our father, Mr. Arthur Heimsoth, who passed away 10 years ago, Oct 21, 1947.
No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief that is borne in silence
For the one we loved so well.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many a tear.
God only knows how we miss you
At the end of this tenth (10)th year.
Your loving wife Edna, children and grandchildren.

This is the time of the year when winter is creeping upon us and sometimes we are not prepared for it. Even though it has rained recently, check your evergreens that are close to the house or under the eaves, to see if they have plenty of water. Lack of moisture will cause them to "wind burn" through the winter. It may also cause them to die. If you have not watered your evergreens this fall, you had better do so before the ground freezes. Let the hose run slowly near the shrubs until the soil is near saturation.

WE HAVE HAD inquiries lately about "Green Plasma." Promoters of the projects have described it as a sensational color restorer for lawns, discovered by a German scientist and tested by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. The product is further claimed to be the "very same type wonder treatment" used on the Capitol lawn in Washington, D.C.

Scientists of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service who test plant foods and fertilizers and dyes sometimes used to color plants, point out they have not tested the advertised product and have no recommendations regarding its use.

Advertisements claim that, by sprinkling a small amount of the product on lawn, the user can prevent worries about a burnt-out lawn and will not have to "spend time, energy and good money on fast-greening fertilizers and plant foods."

Mr. H. R. Kemmerer, landscape extension specialist, University of Illinois, still recommends adequate water, plus lime and proper fertilizers, when needed, to maintain or improve the quality of your lawn.

CATTLE RAISERS should be on guard this fall against so-called shipping fever, says Dr. D. R. Lingard of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine.

Shipping fever is one of the most widespread and troublesome diseases affecting cattle. The disease annually takes a heavy economic toll, mostly in weight losses but also as a result of death losses in serious cases.

Feeder cattle are susceptible to the disease because of excitmnt and exhaustion of shipping them from range to feedlot. But a few precautions can greatly reduce the hazards and dangers of transporting cattle.

Avoid rough handling, crowding and too much exertion. Give the animals a chance to get plenty of rest. Anything that will prevent lowered resistance is valuable. Upset the feeding schedule as little as possible.

Vaccination for shipping fever formerly was popular. But experience, supported by recent studies, has shown it to have little, if any, value. Recently, feeding a high-level antibiotic feed supplement for three to five days after cattle arrive at the feedlot has been advocated. Early reports show that this practice may be beneficial in preventing shipping fever. Even with the new findings, close watching, careful handling and prompt isolation and treatment of sick animals are important ways to prevent shipping fever.

Urban Building Affects Farm Land Drainage

Illinois landowners frequently find their land drainage seriously affected by rapid growth of urban subdivisions, industrial developments and new highway right-of-ways.

So it's important that they keep informed about any proposed changes that may affect their farm drainage systems. Usually they must either cooperate in forming new plans or raise objections before construction is under way, reports Ralph C. Hay, agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois, College of Agriculture.

Hay says that the basic principle of Illinois drainage law is that a landowner must receive surface water flowing naturally from higher ground.

A landowner faced with this problem can often benifit by cooperating in the drainage changes. At least he can help to hold the damage to his system to a minimum. For example, he may be able to have an outlet storm drain extended through his field to a ditch instead of opening into the field, or he may be able to use it as a tile outlet, Hay points out.

Paved drives, streets and roofs usually produce higher runoff rates than farm lands, but this extra flow can legally be discharged into natural drainage outlets. Affected landowners usually gain more by cooperating than by opposing such cases.

On the other hand, newly developed projects designed to drain in a direction through which the area does not drain naturally are normally contrary to the basic drainage laws of Illinois. A landowner who is affected by such a proposal should either register an objection with legal counsel or demand payment of damages if drainage through his land seems necessary.

Highway departments are often involved in these cases, Hay points out, but their interests frequently are not the same as those of affected landowners. Landowners therefore should not depend on the approval of highway officials to protect their land.

Legal action taken before constuction starts, rather than later, will result in greater satisfaction to both parties. In many cases both costs and damage may be greatly reduced by cooperation during the planning stages of the project. (Fm

Farm-Industrial Prices Parallel

Farm prices are not likely to increase substantially in relation to industrial prices, barring war or other large-scale catastrophe, according to Harold G. Halcrow, head of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Illinois.

Halcrow bases his statement on the expansion of farm production due to continued introduction of improved production methods. In recent years, farm output has gone up 3 to 4 per cent a year in spite of serious drouth in various parts of the country.

While farm price supports and storage programs can prevent sharp declines in farm prices, Halcrow emphasizes that they cannot substantially improve the farm price level over a period of years. He suggests that farmers who expect to have a good income will be required to increase the size of their operations and take advantage of modern farming methods in their production.

Management of capital, which on an average corn belt farm may be $100,000 or more, and farm management decisions must be carried out skillfully if a farm family is to have a good income. Adjusting the farm unit to these changing farm conditions is most important for the welfare of farm people, Halcrow believes. (Fm

Wheat Exceeds '58 Allotment

Carl M. Bormet of the Cook County ASC committee announced that legislation enacted this year provides that no acreage seeded to wheat for harvest as grain for 1958 and thereafter in excess of the farm allotment will be considered in establishing future, state, county and farm allotments.

This means, he said, that the historical acreages for 1958 and subsequent years of farms exceeding their allotment will be the allotment acreage. Under this provision producers will be unable to build up history by overplanting the allotment. Farmers with no allotment or a small allotment that raise wheat under the 15 permitted acre provision or those taking advantage of the 30 acre feed wheat exemption will not receive credit for any acreage in excess of the allotment. Producers planting within their allotment will receive full historical credit as in the past.

BORMET POINTED out that this change will affect future allotment acreages apportioned to the State and county. The fact that acreages in excess of the allotment acreages apportioned to the county or state will tend to reduce allotments somewhat. The first time this new law will have effect on wheat allotments, he said, would be those or the 1960 crop.

He suggested that any producers having any questions on this matter contact the local ASC office in Arlington Heights. (Fm

Corn Picking Operation Hazardous

Do you wives of Illinois corn picker operators love your husbands? If so, remind them of these facts:

In the past 10 years, the number of mechanical corn pickers has increased 425 per cent until Illinois now has 90,000 of them.

This means lots of opportunities for accidents if the pickers aren't operated carefully.

The best safety device is a careful operator, and your husband can be one if he will follow these safety rules, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois.

1. Stop the picker before greasing, adjusting, or unclogging. Make "shutting off the power" a habit every time you leave the tractor seat.
2. Keep shields in place. Never operate without them.
3. Dress for the job. Always wear close-fitting clothes that are warm and comfortable. "Extra thumb" gloves are especially dangerous.
4. Prohibit extra riders and see that you have a firm footing when climbing on and off machinery.
5. On the highway, use a red flag "up high" to warn motorists of slow-moving farm vehicles. At night use a white light in front and a red one in the rear. Obey all traffic rules.

If your husband follows these simple rules, he can harvest his corn efficiently and safely. (Fm

Veterinary Research Funds Low

State funds for veterinary research in Illinois are the lowest in 5 midwest states, even though Illinois ranks third in value of livestock.

Iowa had the highest inventory value of livestock as of January 1, 1957—$969,588,000; highest state appropriations for veterinary research—$200,277. Next came Wisconsin with $640,134,000 worth of livestock and state funds totaling $197,000 for research. Illinois was very close to Wisconsin in value of livestock with $639,660,000, but this state appropriated only $82,765 for veterinary research.

Minnesota and Indiana ranked fourth and fifth among the five states in value of livestock, but received larger allotments for research. Indiana was highest in amount allotted to veterinary research per $1,000 livestock valuation, and Illinois was lowest. (Fm

Shopping Prospect Heights

by CAROL BUNTING

The ability to judge the quality of furniture usually depends on what you are able to see with your own eyes. However, there is one very important field in furniture making, that does not give the shopper a chance to see everything he is buying. This is upholstered goods.

Upholstery is a blind item, since all the shopper sees is the cover and nothing that has gone into the actual construction of the frame. You can take three chairs that look just a like and find that each one of them will carry a different price tag. This is because of the variation in the quality of the construction of the chair from the very first spring to the finished piece.

QUALITY IN upholstered goods depends on the frame, the cover, and the skill of craftsmanship used in the upholstery. The Schneller Furniture Co. of Prospect Heights deals only in the finest upholstered goods and makes sure that everything handled by their store is of first rate quality.

All the frames used on upholstered goods at the Schneller Furniture Co., are personally selected by Joe Schneller, president of the firm. These frames are of hard woods, double dowled with corner block construction. They have 8 way hand tied helical coil springs which have been tempered to insure long life.

The upholstery fabric business keeps right up with the modern trends. Today's fabrics are selected for durability, cleanability, and are up to date in fashion and style.

At the Schneller Furniture Co. you have over 600 fabrics to choose from. This is a far cry from the day when you could select only gray, green or red. Today's fabrics are blends of cottons, rayons, wools and nylons.

OLSON'S women's shop of the Prospect Heights shopping center has the very latest in women's fashion. One of their outstanding groups are the Pendleton pairables. The name Pendleton has meant the ultimate in fine woolens for many years.

This year's Pendleton collection shows 10% wool skirts of grays, browns, and blues and coordinating plaid jackets. The jackets are a boxy style and may be worn as a light wrap or as a complete suit.

Bobbie Brooks also has a handsome line of coordinates. They are featuring plaid and tweed skirts with contrasting blouses of wool jersey. All of these things may be found at Olson's of Prospect Heights.

Also at Olson's, is an assortment of women's winter coats. They have a number of styles in beautiful fleece fabrics and several of the popular tweed coats. If you are looking for a really handsome winter coat then be sure to see the collection at Olson's before you make any selection.

THE CHILDREN'S department at Olson's has a large assortment of boys wool and flannel shirts, tee shirts and corduroy pants. They also have a good looking Scandinavian styled sweater for boys. This sweater comes in gray, white and red with contrasting design.

For little girls, felt ear covers are adorable. Here is a new version of the standard ear muff. All of the new ear muffs are decorated with contrasting felt designs, yarns and jewels.

Olson's have a lay-away program and if you are one of those smart shoppers who starts thinking about her Christmas shopping early then why not take advantage of the lay-away at Olson's and do your shopping the easy economical way.

Don't take a chance and let the winter get ahead of your car, for a quick trip to the Prospect Heights service station, and you will be back in business for months to come. (PH
